Chicago Gossip.

Marshall, Spader & Co. to J. G. Beaty

Marshall, Spader & Co. to J. G. Beaty at the close:
Disappointing cables caused an easier opening, after which there was a sharp rally to $1.07 on builtish reports from India. Profit-taking from this level caused a recession in prices, the market closing at about the low point of the day. The trade has been professional in character, and but for the support given the market by the leading bull interest would undoubtedly have eased off some further. We note that milling wheats are off several cents a bushel relative to May, and, while conscious of the ability of the longs ell at the close:

Wheat—The market closed one cent lower than the best price on continued favorable Argentine news, slowness of export sales and fairly large increases in northwest stocks. The market rallied after the opening on bullish news from India and Canada. Local professionals sold steadily, and the market answered to this pressure and sold off until the close was at the low point. We look for a holiday market until after the first of the year, with fluctuations within narrow ranges.

Charles W. Gillett to Peter J. Morgan:

Wheat—Liverpool did not follow our advance, coming ½ lower than Tuesday's close, owing to better Argentine weather. This caused the locals to sell long wheat, which they had carried over night, resulting in an early dip to nearly lowest prices of the day. Some support by leading holders then started these sellers to buying again, resulting in a rally to about last night's close. These details are mentioned to show how small the market is and how easily influenced. The most notable selling came from a private wire house with eastern connections, and the short interest is largely centred in the short interest and the concentrated local longs, with conditions slightly favoring the latter, who have a profit in their holdings at the close. Routine statistics show now material changes. Primary receipts were little less than last year, but they are ample to meet demands, as the milling demand is slow. Cash prices to-day were a shade lower, but outside markets did not decline as The prices quoted below are for first-class quality; lower grades are bought at correspondingly lower quotations:
Hay, car lots, ton, bales. $17.00 to $17.50
Potatoes, car lots, bags. 0.70 0.80
Evaporated apples, lb. 0.09 0.09½

Geese, dressed 0.09 0.10
Chickens dressed 0.09 0.10

mands, as the milling demand is slow. Cash prices to-day were a shade lower, but outside markets did not decline as much as Chicago. Liverpool should come about steady to-morrow, and, while there may be some further setback in our market in the early trading, the market appears to be approaching bottom for another upward turn.

Corn—The forecast suggests colder weather, which is urgently needed if receipts are to increase. Wet weather of the last few days will further delay receipts, and unless cold weather comes soon, a great

I see no prospects of supplies of contract corn being burdensome next May, but at the same time prices are now 15c higher than last year, which discounts a lot of shortage, especially under existing financial conditions, and would only recommend purchases on sharp breaks.

Oats—Receipts are fairly favorable, in view of the shortage in the crop, and, while the market developed a little strength in sympathy with corn, which it follows closely, it looks like May oats could be bought somewhat cheaper next week.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW. foliday Trade in Canada Good, Er pecially in West. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.-Bradstreet's to

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say;

Trade as a whole has been quiet and industry has slackened perceptibly, but the financial situation has eased, except where, as in the case of New York, large end-of-the-year disbursements have to be provided for. Previous anticipations as to the volume of holiday trade find confirmation in the reports that the distribution, while fair, was not equal to that of 1906, or of some earlier years. Mild weather is still complained of as affecting retail trade in seasonable goods, such as clothing, shoes, rubbers, footwear and kindred lines. At some cities the usual January reduction sales were held in December, in many instances occurring before, Christmas, Jobbing trade was quiet till after the latter date, when the usual clearance sales of wash and other dress fabrics were made, arousing a fair amount of interest.

Wholesale business has been quiet, and both this line and the jobbing trade note the receipt of many requests to delay shipments of goods.

Business failures for the week number 246, against 300 last week, 161 in the like week of 1906, 212 in 1904 and 209 in 1903.

Activity in Canada has been confined entirely to holiday trade, which has been confined entirely to holiday trade.

week of 1906, 212 in 1905, 212 in 1904 and 209 in 1903.

Activity in Canada has been confined entirely to holiday trade, which has been of good volume, best reports coming from the west. Wholesale trade is naturally quiet, but a good re-order business is looked for after the New Year, and collections also are expected to be better. Country retail trade has been good. Retailers in the fur trade have been cutting prices. In the northwest the weather has favored the railroads, and a large movement has been made. Grain in the northwest was said to have moved more freely than usual. Failures for the week number 50, as against 40 last week and 18 in this week a year ago.
