v Calling of Margins Quiet Market Susceptible to lends to Increase Bearish Selling Pressuré—Bank Holiday.

The week-end holiday does not seem to have dispelled the lethargy which has been a distinguishing feature of the mining stock market for some weeks past. Trading yesterday was again devoid of zest, which was partly accounted for by the fact that it was a bank holiday and other Canadian markets were closed. Selling orders seemed to have accumulated during the holiday, and these coming on the market in its soft condition caused general recessions.

It was the report around the Liverpool docks that the vessel caught strewing mines was a Swedish boat. This was not confirmed by the British. Nor is the fate of the officers of the guilty ship known. Those things are not given out or even talked about by England's sall-ors. But the decision in their cases was probably not long delayed.

later developed, were largely in the nature of short covering, the market losing all its advantage in the general liquidation of the last hour.

Banking interests expressed their disappointment at the absence of definite advices from Washington regarding prospective government bond issues and the question of taxation. On neither of these matters has Wall street yet been consulted by the accredited fiscal authorities, it is said.

Exchange markets were strong and active, business being on a larger scale than for weeks past. Italian remittances were the only rates to hold back. Not even nominal quotations on the Germanic countries were obtainable.

Yield After Rally.

During the forenoon, when the greater part of the day's business was transacted, United States Steel and various other industrials of the same class, as well as munitions and equipments, made gains of 2 to 4 points. Shippings and metals were less responsive, but strong, with motors and a score of other speculative stocks. Ohio Gas, for instance, more than regaining its loss of last Saturday by advancing almost seven points to 135.

The case with which these issues sold off, probably in the absence of outside interest, was in itself proof of the market's professional character. Last week's heaviness in rails was accentuated by declines of 1 to 3 points in the investment group. Delaware and Hudson losing over 6 points. Total sales amounted to 885,000 shares.

Constitutional Democrats Favor

Petrograd, via London, April 9.—A congress of the Constitutional Democrats has declared in favor of the principle that the land ought to be handed over to the working classes. The party, which recently declared for the establishment of a republic, also unanimously adopted a resolution in favor of a democratic and parliamentary form of government at its convention today. Prince Dolgorouki, president of the central committee of the party, spoke in favor of continuance of the war and adherence to Russia's agreements with her allies until victory is attained.
