and this morning received a reply stating that the vessel was due at Montevideo on Sept. 24. The U. S. Government and the agents had tried continualy for the last week to raise the Haleakala by radio (she has wireless equipment), from both ends of the voyage and had broadcast to all vessels to try to locate the ship, but so far had been unsuccessful. The agents added that they had not given up hope and trusted to hear from her soon.

Six or eight witnesses have been examined in an investigation held by H. H. McLellan, provincial fire marshal, into the cause of the burning of a car owned by Paul F. Weeds, of Fredericton. The car met with an accident on the Westfield road and Mr. Weeds was forced to leave it and summoned aid to bring it to the city. Mr. McLellan said this morning that he was satisfied that the car had been stripped of its fittings, but whether it was set on fire to cover up this or became ignited when matches were lighted, he was not prepared to say. Further developments are expected.

The Catholic Truth Society of Saint John has instituted an essay competition. St. Aloysius, Patron of Youth," this being the second in the subject of "St. Aloysius, Patron of Youth," this being the second centenary of the saint's canonization. It is in two sections, the first for pupils up to Grade 8, 12 years for older, and the second for High School pupils. The competition will close on Nov. 13, with Miss E. Maxwell, at the New Freeman office. The unusual spectacle of three trans-Atlantic liners docking within two hours was witnessed at Quebec yesterday afternoon when the Montcalm, Minnedosa and Montnairn of the Canadian Pacific St. Lawrence fleet were docked into their or her to cover up this or became ignited when matches were lighted, he was not prepared to say. Further developments are expected.
