CONFIRMS NEWS BEL-YEARS IS ILL

A Cable Comes to A. W. Covey From P. J. Mulqueen.

Advice received from P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee and in charge of Canada's team in France now, by A. W. Covey, president of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C., practically confirm the impression that Hilton Belyea, local oarsman, will not be in proper physical condition to represent the Dominion in the Olympic sculling contest commencing on Sunday. According to this morning's cablegram, Hilton is quite ill. Mr. Mulqueen reports that Dr. A. S. Lamb, of McGill University, one of the members of the Canadian Olympic committee, is personally attending the West St. John oarsman and it is Dr. Lamb's opinion that Hilton will not be able to row. White this will be a disappointment to his friends here, the most disappointed of all will be Hilton himself as he had set his heart on making a big bid for honor at the English Henley and the Olympics.

KING STREET HAS A LITTLE RAIN FALL OF ITS OWN

Rain fell in a very small section of King street today a little after noon. Out of a seemingly cloudless sky a few drops of rain were felt within a comparatively small radius. On looking skyward a tiny dark cloud was seen and from this small cloud the rain apparently was coming. The small space in which the rain was falling and the tiny little cloud in an otherwise cloudless sky caused interested comment among the few people who experienced it.

FINE IN TRAFFIC CASE.

William Hall paid a fine of $10 in the police court this morning on charges of driving an automobile faster than the law allows in Main street and also with falling to sound his klaxon at the intersection of Jones Wharf and Main street on July 9. He said he had sounded his klaxon but did not deny that he was speeding. Police-man Lindsay testified about seeing the defendant driving down Main street at approximately 25 miles an hour and said he did not hear him sound his klaxon at the intersection of the streets. Magistrate Henderson said he would consider the two charges as one and struck a fine of $10.

ASK ABOUT US.

Several inquiries have reached R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the local Board of Trade, from tourists contemplating trips to the Maritime Provinces. He also received a letter from the Shipping Service Organization at Quebec enclosing a clipping from the Toronto Globe which showed that certain features concerning the port of St. John had been broadcast there and requested a circular from the Board of Trade referring to these features. Unfortunately, Mr. Armstrong said, this supply had been distributed, but he is forwarding information concerning the port to the organization.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "have you been using maritime-made fertilizer this year?"
"Yes, sir," said Hiram. "I've so. It's made right on the farm. Now if you want a little sermon on farmin' I'll give it to you. A lot o' things our gran'fathers done don't pay on the farm now. Every farmer that hes any sense knows that. But one thing the ole folks done orto be done today. The farmer that feeds enough hay an' grain an' vegetables to live stock on the farm to give him what fertilizer he needs fer most o' his farmin' is the best off in the end. I aint sayin' nothin' agin other fertilizers—but I do say that the farmer that buys all he feller that keeps live stock. That means work—an' a lot o' folks hates work nowadays—but as fer me—couldn't be contented to set around an' spin yarns all the time. Work's good fer a man or a woman. It keeps their blood in circulation—an' keeps 'em out o' mischief. An' it brings in good money—yes, sir."
