ESTRADA CONTINUES REVOLT IN NICARAGUA

Provisional President Realizes He Cannot Overthrow Madriz Government

(Times Leased Wire.) Bluefield, Nic., May 23.—The Nicaraguan revolution is being prolonged in the hope that the United States will

This admission was made here to-day by politicians who are close friends of Juan J. Estrada, provisional president and head of the revolutionary party. "Estrada realizes he can never crush the present government or overthrow President Madriz, but he believes that he is strong enough to keep up hostilities until the country will demand American interference," said one of Estrada's followers to-day. "Estrada" wants to force the appointment of a president who is not identified with either faction now engaged in the struggle here, and believes that such cure permanent peace."

In this hope Estrada is continuing hostilities. Although his forces are out-numbered by the Madriz soldiers near Rama, desultory fighting is going on, and Estrada is directing his generals to continue the engagement.

The provisional leader hopes either continue the skirmishing until the Madriz forces fall back or to sting them into an advance on Bluefields. With American marines landed in the city and the fighting to the streets forbidden by order of the commander of the gunitself would bring about intervention more quickly than a long drawn out campaign. Estrada believes Although Madriz has shown som disposition to displey the orders from the gunboat, and has instructed the gunboat Vensus to bombard Bluefields it is not generally believed that the

For several days Madriz has been within striking distance of Bluefields, but has not made the final advance. Unless Bluefields is captured the revolution cannot be ended.

Knowing the capture of his capital is trada is not displeased with the situation, it is declared. The Madriz army will soon be worn out by the long campaign if it continues to threaten the city, while an attack on Bluefields itself will mean almost certain interven-

It is not improbable that this point will be raised at an early meeting of the board of health, and some action taken to better safeguard public interests.

The Times made an effort on Saturday last to get some information from he members of the Songhees tribe of Indians who could be found on the reserve on the occasion of the big potlach then in progress, as to what they knew of the new negotiations looking to a settlement of the dispute. Most of those interviewed showed an astound-ing ignorance of the present status of the matter and, indeed, of their rights and the rights of the government. It was ascertained, however, from some of the more intelligent, that Chief Cooper has issued a call for a grand pow-wow to be held in the course of the next few days, when it is assumed that the latest offer which has been made to their representative by Senator Riley, on behalf of the Dominion government, will be dis-
