Mr. Herman Giese of Gillett Wis., relates the following: "Last summer, Mr. Herman Hartwig's son became very sick. The parents consulted two doctors, but both gave him up and said there was no help for him. CATHOLIC CHURCH LOSES BRILLIANT SCHOLAR-PRIEST

Rev. Father John B. Dutton, Dies of Influenza.

The grim spectre of death, clothed in the form of the dreaded disease, pneumonia, following influenza, has stalked twice in the Dutton family within ten days. The second victim was Reverend Father John B. Dutton, who died after an illness of only one week. On January 13, just ten days previously, George Dutton, an older brother, died of the same disease. Following the death of Father Dutton, the father has been stricken with influenza, also, and is a patient at the Grey Nuns' hospital. The father's name is D. J. Dutton, of 2332 Halifax street.

In the death of Father Dutton, another severe blow has been dealt the priesthood of the Catholic church in Canada. When his brother, George, became ill, Father Dutton came from Winnipeg to see him. One week ago Sunday he sang high mass at the cathedral and the following day his brother died. On January 14, Father Dutton sang the requiem mass for the repose of his brother's soul and the next day he was taken ill with the same disease.

It is a coincidence that Father Dutton's first mass was celebrated at the Holy Rosary cathedral, likewise his last mass was said in the same place.

On September 12, 1915, Father Dutton was ordained a priest in Holy Rosary cathedral by His Grace (then Bishop) Archbishop Wathieu.

Following his ordination, Father Dutton went to the archdiocese of Toronto, where he had been since. During the month of November he was transferred to the archdiocese of Winnipeg, being made rector of St. Mary's church. He was the youngest man who was ever appointed rector of this church, which has seen such brilliant scholars as Archbishop Langevin, Father McCarthy, Father Lacombe and Father Lebret, as rectors in the past.

NEWS FROM KRONAU AND DISTRICT

Mr. Paul Fahlman who has been sick for the last three months, has gone to the Grey Nuns' hospital, Regina.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trouble did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no hot time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Fallon, Carpenter, 524 1/2 Marcelline Avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any other who are ruptured—you may save a life or a limb and stop the misery of rupture and the wretched danger of an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Fahlman left on a trip to the States where they will visit relatives and spend the winter months.

MORE STRIKES AND FERMENT IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Jan. 27. — Industrial ferment continues. Another conference of the railway union, representing nearly the whole kingdom, was held in London today, and a strong feeling expressed regarding the government's "continued neglect to deal adequately" with the men's grievances, and threatening to strike unless matters are settled by February 1.

It seems that the whole Yorkshire coalfields will be idle in a few days, throwing 15,000 men out of employment.

Severe criticism of the "apathy" shown by Premier Lloyd George and the government toward railway employees was heard at a conference of delegates of the National Union of Railwaymen. These delegates represent nearly two hundred thousand workers and are here for a discussion of the question of working hours, as well as other grievances.

reasons why he was prepared to support the resolution.

The resolution, in its amended form, reads as follows: "Whereas, the government of Canada has not fixed the price of wheat for the crop of 1919; and

"Whereas, the price of Canadian wheat was fixed in 1917 and 1918 in the interest of the consuming public; and

"Whereas, a resolution advocating the fixing of the price for 1919 was recently passed by the Canadian Council of Agriculture; and

"Whereas, if a definite price is not arranged wheat values may be lowered to a point below the cost of production upon the sudden return to the open competition system; and

"Whereas, implements and supplies necessary for grain production can only be obtained at unprecedentedly high prices and nothing has been done to control or lower these prices;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that this assembly earnestly urges the government of Canada to immediately fix and guarantee the price of wheat for the 1919 crop at a reasonable figure to approximate as nearly as possible to the price fixed and guaranteed by the United States government."

did not think that this was asking for any form of protection. It did not, he asserted, ask for the protection of one class at the expense of any other class. The object of the proposal was to equalize the fluctuations of the grain market for the benefit of both the producer and the consumer. If the price was not fixed it constituted a protection for the professional gambler in the open market. On the other hand, if the price were fixed it would enable the farmer to establish a definite line of credit which should be a good thing every year.

W. O. Fraser, Souris, in seconding the resolution, said there were one or two points which had induced him to do so. If, he said, there was another profitable crop next year it would induce the farmers who were short last year to rush their grain on to the market as speedily as possible, giving the manipulators every opportunity to force the prices downward. Another reason why he supported the resolution was that a fixed price would protect the farmers from speculating themselves. He declared that if there had been a bumper crop the last three years he would not have supported the resolution, but under the conditions brought about by the partial crop failures, he felt that it was only right the price should again be set this year.

The Hon. Chas. Dunning said that it gave him much pleasure to support the resolution.

Mr. Motherwell was of the opinion the price should be fixed for another year, inasmuch as the government itself had broken a lot of land and conditions were not yet back to normal. He declared that it was only a matter of accident that the price was not fixed now for the 1919 crop. In the United States it had been fixed earlier because most of the wheat grown there was winter wheat, and the price had to be set in time to be a determining factor in the amount of ground prepared the preceding season. He declared that if the price were not fixed in this country, Canadian wheat would seek the American market, which would result in the reciprocity measure being rescinded on the other side to prevent a flood of Canadian wheat on their market.
