POLICE COURT.

The Aftermath of Some Folk's Thanksgiving Celebration.

The Thanksgiving celebration was responsible for quite a lot of jags, and the magistrate had no less than eleven prisoners to deal with this morning. Patrick McQuillan, who ran away from the Alms House, was sent back to that institution, having missed his Thanksgiving dinner. Arthur Gormley, for being drunk on King square, was fined four dollars.

James Herrington was arrested for being drunk and was later charged with stealing a piece of leather, five pairs rubber heels and one pair of boots from Daniel Fitzgerald's store on Dock street. Herrington was fined $100 for being drunk and remanded on the charge of theft.

Joseph Baxter, for being drunk and indecently exposing himself on Britannia street, was fined eight dollars.

Michael Folger, the old soldier from Charlton, secured his freedom for four dollars.

Alex. Diggs, who claimed that he had not been drunk, was remanded. Among the Thursday drunks were James Kent, full on King square; John Donohue, on Water street; William Whipple, Water street; and Edward M. Casland, on the west side. They were fined four dollars each.

Edward Candow, the Newfoundland man who was sent back from Vancou, was handed over to Officer Collier in the I. C. R. depot.

THE CARNIVAL ECLIPSE.

The carnival committee are to be congratulated on the able manner in which the eclipse of the moon the carnival was brought to a close last evening. It was for a time believed that clouds would interfere with the closing attraction, but this difficulty was overcome and with a perfectly clear sky the eclipse was in every way successful. It is to be hoped that if a carnival is held next year, another eclipse may be arranged for. If the committee could only see their way clear to provide an eclipse of the sun the public would feel even more highly satisfied.

THE CARNIVAL.

A meeting of the baseball, foot racing and hand committees of the autumn carnival is called for this evening to wind up the business. The Haverhill baseball team and the professional runners, with the exception of Neary, East this morning on the Boston train. Eastman, the local sprinter, who made his reputation yesterday, was given great praise by the outside professionals and a promising future was predicted for him.

ST. JOHN IN THE WEST.

The Nelson, B. C. Tribune says: Fred Irvine & Co. have secured the Burns Block and will move into their new quarters about Nov. 1st. The new premises will give Messrs. Irvine & Co. about 8,000 square feet of floor space, and the most up-to-date dry goods, millinery and dress-making establishment in the Kootenays.

Messrs. Irvine are well known St. John men, who are doing exceedingly well in the west.

For a particularly choice tea try a 50c or 60c package of Red Rose.

SPECIAL NOTICETO ADVERTISERS:

Copy for Saturday's issues of the STAR must be sent in by Three-Thirty O'clock Friday Afternoons, otherwise it is absolutely impossible to ensure a change for that issue, as the paper goes to press earlier on Saturdays than on other days of the week.

LOCAL NEWS.

The steamer State of Maine brought ninety-seven passengers on her trip today.

James A. Paul brought to the city today a box of wild strawberries, which were picked yesterday at Lakeside.

A number of boys were in swimming yesterday in Courtenay Bay, at Orange street breakwater. They report the water in excellent condition.

A meeting of Trinity Athletic Association will be held in the schoolroom on Monday evening next. Every member is requested to attend.

At the fair which was held yesterday afternoon at 13 Queen street, in aid of the Little Girls' Home, the amount of $15 was realized.

The committee requests that any accounts against the Carnival Association be sent in to the secretary, F. Macdure Scuders, not later than tomorrow, Saturday, 13th inst.

Will the gentleman who took heavy cane with crooked handle from the Opera House by mistake on Thursday night, kindly return same to Charles Campbell, Dufferin Hotel, and receive his in exchange.

Great sale of ladies' fine fancy handkerchiefs at F. R. Patterson's, cor. Charlotte and Duke streets, all day Saturday. This is a good chance to secure good help at a low price. See revolving window display also ad. on page four of this paper tonight.

NO COLOR LINE HERE.

Two football games will be put on at the B. and A. grounds tomorrow afternoon. The first will be between Rothessay and St. John's, commencing at half-past two. Then Acadia and St. John will line up against each other an hour later. The local team will be strengthened and it is expected that the collegians will be given an interesting contest. White, the colored man, against whom Truro drew the race line, will play half for Acadia. He is a splendidly built man, a good athlete and a very popular man in the college. St. John was asked whether there would be any objection taken by the team here to his playing. The local men immediately wired to bring the man along.

A FAMILY REUNION.

Rev. J. C. Berrie and Mrs. Berrie, of Jacksonville, return home this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Berrie was here to attend the Methodist mission committee meeting, and also the Sunday school convention. As his son, J. Charlton Berrie, is in M. R. & A's, and his daughter had been visiting in the city, there was a family reunion.

Talking with a Star man today, Mr. Berrie, who is apparently as young and cheerful as he was ten years ago, said that he had driven from a hundred to a hundred and fifty miles per week since the early part of July in attending to his duties as pastor and district superintendent. He speaks with enthusiasm of the beauty and fertility of Carleton county.

MAY RESULT PROFITABLY.

A letter has been received by W. W. Hubbard, secretary of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, from John Barclay, secretary of the Jamaica agricultural society inquiring as to the ability of the maritime stock men to supply Jamaica breeders with good bulls, cows and sheep for breeding purposes. Heretofore the Jamaica stockmen have been importing mainly from New York. Mr. Hubbard will collect the information required and send it at once to Mr. Barclay. It is probable that this may be the beginning of an exceedingly profitable business, that may be worked up between the province and the island.

OBJECTIONABLE PLACES.

Complaint has been made before concerning the condition of the ferry waiting rooms, especially those on the west side. Nothing has been done to remedy the matter and the places are in no better condition. If it is possible they are getting worse. The ladies waiting room on the west side is especially objectionable and passengers prefer to wait outside in the cold rather than stay inside. Such a state of affairs should not be allowed to exist.

MONSIGNOR CONNOLLEY'S WILL.

Owing to the fact that Rev. W. T. Chapman of Woodstock, one of the executors, was unable to remain in St. John until tomorrow, the reading of Monsignor Connolly's will, which was to have taken place at his late residence this evening, took place at noon today. No public announcement has yet been made regarding the terms of the will, but it is understood that a considerable portion of the property has been left to relatives. T. P. Regan is solicitor for the estate.

THE CERAMIC EXHIBITION POSTPONED.

In consequence of delay in the receipt of contributions from the upper provinces the ceramic exhibition announced for the 21st inst. has been postponed until further notice. Members holding tickets will kindly return them to the secretary, Miss Parker, Carville Hall, Waterloo street.

MGR. CONNOLLY.Impressive Services at St. John the Baptist Church.

A Long Procession Follows the Body

to the Railway Station.

The funeral of the late Very Reverend Monsignor Thos. Connolly, which took place today, was one of the most solemn and imposing ceremonies held in St. John for some time.

Yesterday the body, watched by committees chosen from among the members of the church, was viewed by hundreds of the dead prelate's parishioners and friends, who desired a last look at the face of one who had been for many years far more than a priest to them. Yesterday afternoon, too, willing hands draped the interior of St. John the Baptist church, where the funeral services were held today. The main altar was hung in black and white, with a white cross in the centre. The altar furnishings were also draped in black and the pedestals of the various pieces of architecture through the church covered with the same material. The side altars and the rail were also appropriately draped.

At ten o'clock this forenoon the casket, borne by the pall-bearers and preceded by His Lordship Bishop Casey and the clergy in procession, was carried by the St. John parish residence to the church and placed in the sanctuary. The pall-bearers were P. J. Mooney, Thomas Gorman, James H. Doody, Stephen Oakes, R. J. Ritchie and M. J. Potter. Along with the bishop were Revs. W. T. Chapman of Woodstock, F. X. Michael of Buctouche, Edward Savage of Sussex, H. A. Mehan of Moncton, Charles C. Collins of Fairville, E. Doyle of Milltown, Fr. Campbell of Chatham, John Carson of St. George, Andrew Roy of St. Joseph's University, T. J. McMurray, A. T. Mehan, H. H. Cormier and R. J. Coughlin of the cathedral; Fr. Wood, C. S. R., of St. Peter's church and Rev. W. C. Gaynor, of St. John's, parish priest.

After the casket had been placed before the altar the office of the dead was chanted by the clergy and bishop. Then requiem high mass was pontificated by His Lordship Bishop Casey, with Rev. W. T. Chapman as deacon, Father Wood, C. S. R., sub-deacon, Rev. F. X. Michael and Rev. F. J. McMurray, master of ceremonies, the clergy chanting the service.

Rev. W. T. Chapman of Woodstock, which was Monsignor Connolly's first priest, delivered the sermon. In his address he paid a high tribute of respect to the dead priest, referring to him as a link between the old regime and the new, the last of the old clergy who have all passed to their reward, but whose names will never be forgotten.

"In Woodstock," said Father Chapman, "the name of Father Connolly is still a household word, and there are many yet living who were helped in the struggle of life full fifty years ago."

Father Chapman went on to speak of the peculiar powers and attributes of priests which made them respected and revered by their people. For these reasons as well as on account of his own personal worth Monsignor Connolly was greatly beloved. In closing his address he asked the prayers of the people for the soul of one who was every way worthy of their admiration, and who has gone to join his fellow laborers in a better world.

After the sermon the absolution after mass was given by the bishop, the clergy singing the service.

The church was crowded to the doors with members of Monsignor Connolly's congregation and others who had come to pay a last tribute of respect to his memory, and the service throughout was most impressive.

A half-past one o'clock this afternoon the funeral procession formed at St. John the Baptist church and moved to the depot, where a special train was waiting to convey the body of Monsignor Connolly to Fredericton. The order of procession was as follows:

Clergy with relatives.
Coaches with Bishop Casey and local and visiting clergy.
St. Joseph's Young Men's Society.
Literary and Benevolent Society.
Ancient Order of Hibernians.
Hearse.
Mourning.

Coaches with members of government and other citizens.

The cortege moved slowly down Broad street to Sydney, up Sydney to Eaton's down to Union to Dock and along Dock to the depot. It was one of the longest processions ever seen in St. John, and among the mourners were hundreds of representative citizens. Quite a large number accompanied the body to Fredericton, where interment will be made.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Newfoundlander named Edward Condow, who on account of lack of funds was prevented from entering the United States, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat in the station at Vancou, on Wednesday night. Condow was brought to this city last evening and taken to the central station where he was examined by Dr. Thomas Walker. As no evidence of insanity was found the man was sent back to Newfoundland.

FOR THE JUNIORS.

The annual reception for the juniors and their parents will be held in the Y. M. C. A. this evening. A good programme of music and readings has been prepared, and the Young Ladies' League will provide refreshments extensive enough to more than satisfy all. It looks as if this were going to be a banner year for the juniors. They are joining in large numbers. Many attractions are being prepared for them outside of the gymnasium. Yesterday Physical Director Green gave them a paper chase, and more of these will be held. Sledding parties and sleigh drives are on the programme for later in the season.

THE COAL MINES.Statistics of Labor—The Men Employed and the Output.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The volume of mineral resources of the United States for 1901, just issued by the United States Geological Survey, presents some interesting statistics of the labor in the coal mines of the country.

From 1898 to 1901, inclusive, the statistics of coal production were as follows: In 1898, the average number of men employed was 401,221, and they averaged 199 working days during the year, producing 219,974,687 short tons of coal, valued at $208,000,850; in 1899, 410,365 men, working 214 days, produced 253,739,992 short tons, valued at $256,077,434; in 1900, 448,581 men, working 212 days, produced 269,682,827 short tons, valued at $306,671,364; in 1901, 485,544 men, working 216 days, produced 293,298,516 short tons, valued at $346,910,469. In 1898, the average price of coal per ton was 95 cents; in 1899, it was $1.01; in 1900, it was $1.14; in 1901, it was $1.19.

According to the two great divisions of the coal industry, the bituminous and the anthracite, the statistics are as follows: In the bituminous coal industry in 1899, 192,204 men working 226 days produced 111,302,322 short tons, valued at $110,420,801, an average of 2.56 tons per man per day, and of 579 tons per man per year; in 1899, 239,962 men working 194 days produced 135,118,193 short tons, valued at $115,737,771, an average of 2.90 tons per man per day and of 563 tons per man per year; in 1900, 294,375 men in 234 days produced 123,311,912 short tons, valued at $220,913,513, or 2.98 tons per day and 687 tons per man per year; in 1901, 340,235 men in 225 days produced 255,826,849 short tons, valued at $236,406,449, or 2.94 tons per man per day and 664 tons per man per year. The average price of bituminous coal per short ton in 1899 was 95 cents; in 1899, 86 cents; in 1900, $1.04; in 1901, $1.05.

In the anthracite mines in 1899 the number of miners was 126,000, who in 200 days produced 46,468,641 short tons, valued at $66,333,772, the average production being 1.35 tons per man per day and 269 tons per man per year; in 1899, 142,917 men produced in 196 days 57,999,337 short tons, valued at $82,019,272, an average of 2.07 short tons per man per day and of 406 tons per man per year; in 1900, 144,206 men working 166 days produced 57,367,915 short tons, valued at $85,757,531, or 2.40 short tons per man per day and 398 tons per man per year; in 1901, 145,309 men worked 196 days and produced 67,471,667 short tons, valued at $112,504,020, an average production of 2.36 short tons per man per day and of 464 tons per man per year. The average price per short ton of anthracite coal in 1899 was $1.43; in 1899 it was $1.41; in 1900 it was $1.49, and in 1901 it was $1.67.

In the last twelve years the number of workers in the anthracite mines has increased from 126,000 in 1890 to 145,309 in 1901 or over 15 per cent. During the same period the number of men in the bituminous mines has increased from 192,204 to 340,235, or a little over 77 per cent.

The statistics of accidents in the mines in the calendar year 1901, already published in part, show that 1,467 men were killed, 3,643 men were injured and that 188,668 tons of coal were mined for each life lost. In the bituminous mines of the country 954 men were killed and 2,400 were injured, in a total of 340,235 men at work; in the anthracite mines 513 men were killed and 1,234 were injured, in a total of 145,309 at work.

The statistics for Pennsylvania alone show 301 men killed, 656 men injured and an average of 27,288 short tons of coal mined for each life lost in the bituminous mines; and 513 men killed, 1,243 men injured, and an average of 131,524 short tons of coal mined for each life lost in the anthracite mines. It is interesting to note that in Pennsylvania the number of short tons of bituminous coal mined per life lost was a little more than double the number of short tons of coal mined per life lost in the anthracite mines.

EQUITY COURT.

In equity court this morning Manager White of the People's Bank of Halifax at Woodstock, was examined in the case of F. A. Hale v. J. A. Murchie, People's Bank of Halifax et al. The plaintiff applies for adjustment of accounts, and for an injunction to restrain the bank from selling certain timber limits in their hands as collateral security for the payment of advances amounting to $67,000, claiming that certain payment on account should have been applied to the secured indebtedness and not to the disbursements. Attorney General Pugsley and G. W. Allan, K. C., for the plaintiff and L. A. Currey, K. C., and F. B. Carville, K. C., for the defendant.

HE WON $12.50 YESTERDAY.

Elbridge Katman, the colored sprinter of Carleton, was a happy boy last night. Flashed with pride at his success in yesterday's races he was exhibiting to his many admirers pockets full of silver, amounting to no less than one hundred and twelve dollars and fifty cents, which he had won by being able to get over the ground just a little quicker than the other runners. Katman announced his intention of banking every cent of his money today.

WILL SING FAUST.

A Chapman's Music Festival in Bangor Next Year.

(Bangor Commercial.) Word was received in Bangor Saturday by the president of the local festival chorus from Director-in-Chief William R. Chapman of the Maine Music Festival, that at the festival in 1902, instead of the customary oratorio, Faust will be sung. This announcement will be received with pleasure, especially by those persons who do not care for the more serious music of oratorio.

After the remarkable production of Verdi's Requiem at the festival just closed, it is natural to expect that Faust will be given an equally excellent performance.

Although an oratorio has been given at each of the six festivals, Director Chapman, beyond an occasional chor-
