DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

o'clock Mr. Wilson, who was a teamster, was driving along Germain street. He had a load of barrels and other gear used by masons, which was in charge of Henry Brandy, colored. —When about opposite the Clifton House Mr. Wilson was seen to fall backward on the sled and lean over one of the barrels gasping for breath. A number of citizens who were passing ran to his assistance and Dr. Skinner was hurriedly called. Mr. Wilson who was in a dying condition was carried into Dr.

Mrs. Wilson was informed of the sad affair by Mr. Brandy and laten in the forencen the body was taken home to Clarence street.

Mr. Wilson was a man about 75 years of age and was a well-known teamster. He leaves besides a widow, two sons and one daughter, the latter being married to William A. Coles, horse married to William A. Coles, horse those of Edgar's illness and John remarks of Edgar's illness and was a man about 75 years of taking Edgar back with them. A day of two previous, Edgar had been unwell, and when his brothers arrived he was unable to accompany them home, being confined to the house with a severe attack of measles.

brother was sent back to tell his parents of Edgar's illness and John remained as nurse. Two or three days later he walked to Millidgeville, skated across, and with the assistance of Samuel and two other boys hauled his father and mother to this side on a small sled. Samuel, who is quite young, then went home to look after the farm.

On Saturday, Jan. 2nd, John complained of being unwell and later deplained of being unwell and later de-veloped measles. Edgar at this time had contracted pneumonia and his re-covery was almost hopeless. As it was impossible for Mrs. Tobin to preperly care for two boys, and as she could care for two boys, and as she could not secure necessary accommodation for both, she was compelled to send John to the hospital, which was done on Thursday last. After this Mr. To-bin went home, as he feared that the charge of the farm might be too much for the little boy who was there alone. John Tebin was placed in the epidemic hospital and no one was permitted to see him. His mother, however, was able to telephone regularly and on Sa-

MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

Evidence of Officer Corbett Flatly Contradicted by Salvation Army Officer Whom he Reported.

Chief Clark will take prompt action owards preventing the streets and crossings from being blocked by the pen air meetings of the Salvation Army. He has issued an ultimatum, and instructed all officers to see that these gatherings are not allowed to in-terfere with traffic in any way. Should it happen that members of the army refuse to comply with requests of of-ficers the latter have been ordered to deal with them as they would with any

The cause of death was heart failure. Dr. Rerryman was notified but will not likely hold an inquest. the cause of death being quite apparent.

Mrs. Wilson was informed of the sad ordinary amount of trouble.

Her son Edgar has been employed in Anderson's fur store and intended studying for the ministry. On December 24th, another son, John, who was living at home, decided that it would be well to have Edgar home for Christmas. At that time the river was scarcely frozen, but John and his younger brother, Samuel, skated across This is a result of the case now before traffic, but several of them did remem-ber the officer speaking to them. The magistrate held that Corbet was swem off his feet and that he could do nothing but dismiss the case. He never heard such contradictory evidence in his life, but in order that Corbet might have a chance to bring supporting evidence he adjourned the case until tomorrow. Five drunks were fined eight dollar

Queer Lunacy of St. John Man-Believed God Had Forbidden Him

Last evening a man by the name of John Anderson was taken by Deputy Jenkins and Detective Killen to the Provincial Lunatic Asylum, This was Provincial Lanatic Asylum. This was done on an order issued by Drs. Broderick and Scammel, and was the outcome of representations made by Canen Richardson. Andersen's case is a peculiar ene. He is a Russian Finn by birth, fifty-two years old, and a seafaring man, who has sailed from St. John for years. He is a member of the Episcopal church, and when in St. John was a regular attendant at Trinity. Some time ago his religious tendencies became more marked, and every morning, promptly at six o'clock, he went to became more marked, and every morning, promptly at six o'clock, he went to the church to pray. He would remain there for some time, neglecting all other matters. Within the past few months he has become possessed of the idea that he was especially called by God, and had been forbidden to partake of any food. This idea appeared to affect him at intervals and there were times when for days he would not est anywhen for days he would not eat any-thing. During the past couple of weeks he has been rather worse than usual, and since Christmas day has not tasted a morsel of food. By reason of this he has become greatly emaciated and is physically as well as mentally weak. he was not at all violent, but spent a great part of his time in prayer. It was considered best to remove him to the asylum, where he will receive proper

HOCKEY.

Neptunes, 2; Marysville, 1 A fast, hard game of hockey was played at Marysville last night between the Neptunes, of this city, and the Marysville team. The game was the Marysville team. The game was a rough one from the beginning, heavy checking being indulged in freely. Charles H. Allen, of Fredericton, refereed the game, and for foul play put four men off the ice, three of the Marysville team and one of the Neptunes, Near the finish of the last half, Frank O'Neil, of the Neptunes, was checked into the side of the rink and put out of play. Gordon Brown took his place and finished the game. Sadhis place and finished the game. Sadlier from cover point scored one goal for the Neptunes and Frank O'Neil the other. THE JOKE WENT TOO FAR.

Thomas Cosgrove, who lives in Lower Cove, appeared in the police court this morning to make information against Michael O'Keefe, of Fairville. Mr. Cosgrove says that on the Wednesday before Christmas he went to the count ance of $425.43 to be added to the funds of the Police Protective Association. There were in the bank $1,945.84, and the returns from last night bring the funds to $2,371.27.

G. P.'S AT WORK AGAIN.

In spite of the absence of Ald. Lewis the chain gang went to work this morning. Warden Lowell took a hand in the matter and ordered that the prisoners should be handed over to the constables to work in the new shed in the North End. Only seven prisoners were available and these were sent out, with hammers supplied by the street department.

Cosgrove says that on the Wednesday before Christmas he went to the country market to buy a goose. He bargained for the goose and was holding in his hand a two dollar bill with which he was to pay. He says that Mr. O'Keefe snatched the bill, probably as a joke, and threw it on the floor of the market. The money relied into a hole and was carried away by a stream of water. Mr. Cosgrove made complaint some time ago, but Mr. O'Keefe's son promised to see his father and have the dollars, thinks he has waited long enough.
