BATTLE WITH THE INDIANS HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Troops Await the Arrival of a Detachment of Cavalry.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 29.—A closing in by U. S. soldiers on the renegade Ute Indians now encamped on Powder river today was deferred on account of the non-arrival of Col. Augur, in command of the 6th Cavalry, from Fort Meade, S. D. This 6th is aboard a troop train enroute from Crawford, Neb., tonight and should arrive at Arvada, Wyo., before morning. It is said that no movement will be made against the Utes until Col. Augur joins the members of the Tenth Cavalry now encamped near the Indians. An attack may not occur before Wednesday. A private messenger who left the camp this morning reports that the band was joined by a dozen white men.

JAPANESE AND HINDOOS.

A parallel may be found between the anti-Hindoo agitation in British Columbia, and the treatment accorded Japanese in California and other western states. The exclusion of these peoples is sought by certain classes, and in the case of British Columbia those who are raising the objections have worked up an agitation which, according to the press reports, almost amounts to a popular movement. In the states the feeling is more purely sectional and does not meet with the approval of the higher authorities. In both of these instances the objections will be over-ruled partly by reason of the need of laborers, and also in Canada by imperialistic sentiment, and in the States by commercial diplomacy.

Labor unions are in both cases largely responsible for the disturbances. British Columbia politics are in such a muddle that the labor party holds the balance of power in the provincial assembly, and both of the larger parties are bidding for the support of the few who now cast their votes in favor of the McBride Government. Labor unions do not desire the free admission of Hindoos, foreseeing in this invasion a reduction of wages. They prefer making employers pay almost extortionate figures, and still the demand is so keen that a hundred per cent. more help is needed to put the labor market on a normal basis. Fruit is coming and going and farmers, through scarcity of men, are losing the opportunity of doing business; crops are being neglected, and the lumber industry, while materially developing, is not doing so at a rate which is warranted by the resources of the country. The advent of a hundred thousand Hindoos would undoubtedly glut the labor market, but the situation would in a very few years work out its own salvation in the greatly increased activity in all lines of manufacture.

It is all very well to talk about the ties of empire, and the brotherly feeling which is felt between all who are subjects of the same king, but when some of those brothers threaten to knock twenty cents off the day's pay, imperialism is often forgotten by those who may be the losers. Yet the feeling exists, and it will without doubt carry some weight in the ultimate disposal of this vexing question. In California the labor movement against Japanese is along the same lines. Japanese children were excluded from public schools, and adults were refused rights of citizenship. But in this case the United States appreciates the value of friendly commercial relations with Japan, and steps are now being taken to overcome the bitterness which has been caused among the eastern people by certain local authorities in California. The federal authorities have stepped in and prevented further unfriendly action on the part of the state. British Columbia has no power to act against the Hindoos, and the federal government is not in any hurry about dealing with a question which needs the most careful consideration.

MEATS AND SAUSAGES.

Bulletin No. 125 issued from the Inland Revenue laboratory contains the results of tests made of preserved and canned meats for preservatives, coloring matter and adulterants. All the samples inspected were reported on in a previous bulletin on different tests, and have been subjected to a second examination. It is found that of all the samples taken in New Brunswick eight, put up by five different manufacturers, contained meat made from some cereal product, and that this adulteration was not clearly set forth on the labels. Only one sample in the whole of Canada contained coloring matter. Samples of Bologna and other sausages were examined for dyes, and the product of one St. John manufacturer was found to contain such a substance. In summing up the report the inspector states that roughly speaking one sixth of the meats contained preservatives and one third were artificially colored.

Ald. Dr. Christie evidently has an eye to his business. He suggests that the smallpox ambulance be used as a patrol wagon.

THE WASHERWOMAN.

(In Wordsworth's Realistic Style.)
Hang out the washing mother dear,
And pin it on the line.
Our Willie's socks that were so soiled
Are now all sweet and fine.

My heart leaps up when I behold
This large, fair sheet of white,
In length six feet and five in width—
It gives me pure delight.

Why, Ma! how red your knuckles look
From scrubbing Father's shirt!
Cold cream you must apply at once
To save your hands from hurt.

Let no rude breeze disturb this quilt,
Nor fowl upon it swoop;
For once it covered Sammy's toes
Before he died of croup.
—Harry T. Barker in Lippincott's.

AN EASY JOB.

Rosetti, the poet-painter, was once visited by an Indian prince, who said to him:
"I wish to give you a commission to paint a portrait of my father."
"Is your father in London?" asked Rosetti.

"No; my father is dead," replied the Oriental.

"Have you some photographs of him, or any portrait?"

"How can I paint a portrait of him, then?" asked the artist. "It is impossible! I could not think of attempting anything so absurd."

"Why is it absurd?" demanded the prince, gravely. "You paint pictures of Julius Caesar and Hannibal and John the Baptist, and yet you have never seen any of them. Why can you not paint my father?"

ON THE ROAD.

It was a few days after the examination. The French class had just received their papers, and found them corrected with the usual method of H for honor, C for creditable, P for passed, and so on. Today honors prevailed, and accordingly mademoiselle beamed, tapping lightly on the desk with her pencil, she leaned toward them.

"My pupils," she cried joyfully, "ah, how you have pleased me! Such encouragement! Quel plaisir! I feel you are all upon the road to it!"

IS IT NOT SO?

The world needs mascals to teach the honest discretion.

Two fools and one wise man: how foolish the wise man looks—to the fools.

The almighty dollar may be tainted, but few of us will ever catch the infection. Appearances may be deceiving, but appearances plus talk come pretty near indexing a man.

NEVER, NEVER.

Mabel—How lonely I am now that every one's gone! Do you remember last week?

Grace—Shall I ever forget it? We were with Harry and Mabel. I had an idea it was Frank and Charlie, but whoever it was, I shall never forget them.—Black and White.

JOHN DREW ON DRAWING POWER.

A fellow actor was the subject of discussion at The Players Club last night.

"He is perfectly devoted to the blonde"—so Mr. John Drew was quoted. "His family think it is a case of hypnotism."

"Seems more like chemical attraction," said the great actor thoughtfully.

WILL KNOW SOON ENOUGH.

"How," asked the young man who had been in the matrimonial game for nearly a week, "can I tell when the honeymoon is over?"

"It will be over," answered the man who had been married three times, "when your wife starts to think and begins to ask questions."

THE CONSEQUENCE.

"Is it true that Waldorf died poor?"

"Yes. You see, he lost his health chasing after fortune, and then lost his fortune chasing after health."

DO YOU REALLY ENJOY CITY LIFE?

How many of you will sympathize with the following view of life taken from a remarkable autobiographical serial, "Adventures in Contentment," beginning in the American Magazine for November?

"I came here eight years ago as the renter of this farm, of which soon afterwards I became the owner. The time before that I like to forget. The chief impression is left upon my memory, now happily growing indistinct, is of being hurried faster than I could travel. From the moment, as a boy of seventeen, I first began to pay my own way, my days were ordered by an insatiable power which drove me hourly to my task. I was rarely allowed to look up or down, but always forward, toward that vague success which we Americans love to glorify."

"My senses, my nerves, even my muscles were continually strained to the utmost of attainment. If I loitered or paused by the wayside, as it seems natural for me to do, I soon heard the sharp crack of the lash. For many years, and I can say it truthfully, I never rested. I neither pleasure, even though I pursued it feverishly during the brief respite of vacations. Through many feverish years I did not work: I merely produced."

"The only real thing I did was to hurry as though every moment were my last, as though the world, which now seems so rich in everything, held only one prize which he had to seize upon before I arrived. Since then I have tried to recall, like one who struggles to restore the visions of a fever, what it was that I ran to attain, or why I should have borne without rebellion such indignities to soul and body. That life seems now, of all illusions, the most distant and unreal. It is like the unguessed eternity before we are born; not of concern compared with that eternity upon which we are now embarked."

"All these things happened in cities and among crowds. I like to forget them. They smacked of that slavery of the spirit which is so much worse than any mere slavery of the body."

TOMORROW NIGHT'S CARNIVAL.

But a day remains for those who intend taking part in tomorrow night's Halloween Carnival to get their costumes ready. There will be a fine lot of get-ups, not only for the competition in which road cash figures, but for the amusement of the crowd. The dance which takes place after the judging. In this case it will take the place of a masked ball.

It is not going to be confined to the masqueraders only, but is open to any persons inclined to the boozing. There will be a cash prize for the most graceful couple in this part of the entertainment. For Carleton and Fairville people there will be lasses after the affair.

NEW YORK NATIONALS NOT ALLOWED TO PLAY

Newark Team Objects to Exhibition Games at New Jersey Town

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 30. — The New York National League club has been denied the right to play exhibition games at Elizabeth, N. J. The Newark club of the Eastern League is the objector. In the announcement yesterday the National baseball commission makes a wider ruling on the subject than any heretofore announced. A former ruling was made on application by the Elizabeth club and applied to the playing season. In passing on the New York application yesterday the commission declared that at no time should such games be permitted unless the club locally interested contents and the club opposing any national agreement club must have no ineligible players. The application of Lewis D. Wilkie, a player who left the Baltimore club last summer to join the York team in the outlaw league for reinstatement was denied today. The commission declared there was no extenuating circumstances to warrant his reinstatement.

ANOTHER SENSATION IN THE HARTJE CASE

Negro Tailor is the Second to be Arrested on the Charge of Perjury

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—The trial of Clifford Hoot, former negro coachman of Augustus Hartje, millionaire paper manufacturer of this city, charged with perjury in connection with the Hartje divorce case, provided a sensation today in the arrest of Wm. De Costa, a negro tailor, immediately after he had testified that Mrs. Hartje had frequently visited his establishment for the purpose of meeting Hoot.

De Costa was taken into custody by a private detective agency, and a charge of perjury will be made against him.

Too, at present, he is unable to remember nothing in response to questions by Assistant Attorney Robt. The defendant's mother said on the stand that Mrs. Hartje had visited her once. Two colored preachers, Rev. Scott and Rev. Freeman, were called and said Mrs. Carrie Hoot, the defendant's mother, had told them that she had never seen Mrs. Hartje in her life.

Mrs. Hartje was called and, after a few unimportant questions, was excused.

REGISTRATION FRAUDS IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 29.—Borough registration frauds are found, it is said, in the daily comparison of the registration lists with the names on what is known as the great register.

"I am sending about four hundred names daily to the county clerk for recalculation from the great register," said Secretary North, of the non-partisan organization today. "We find about two thousand names which have been duplicated on the great register."

"I estimate that 20 per cent of the names registered in this city cannot be voted legally."

HANGED THE MURDERER AND THEN WENT HOME

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 29.—George Eyles, who last night shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Saseely and wounded Constable John Bowers, when the officers at Hale's Point, Tenn., raised a trap game in which the negro was participating, was taken from a sheriff's prison by an armed mob at that place tonight and hanged. The negro was in custody of Sheriff Pennington and a force of deputies enroute to Ripley, the county seat, when overtaken by a mob. The sheriff and his posse used every means to protect the negro but were overpowered and the negro secured and executed. The mob then quietly dispersed.

The Piano Trade

People often wonder what becomes of all the Pianos and Organs that are manufactured. There are a number of large factories in Canada turning them out in increased number all the time.

Our sales of Pianos and Organs for a late month were sixty in number, or about two and a half for each working day, and our sales are constantly increasing. We do not believe that any other house in the Maritime Provinces sold one half of that number of instruments (most of them) in the same time.

We control such makes as the Steinway, Gerhard Holzman, Nordheimer, Martin-Orme and other good makes, and that is a proof of our large sales and purchases. The public knows by experience that it can get the best instruments and best values by dealing with the old reliable house.

We not only have the best stock of new Pianos but also have some good bargains in slightly used Pianos.

NORDICA HER FRIEND.

Miss Grace Fisher Accepts an Opportunity to Cultivate Her Voice.

OSHSING, Oct. 29. — Miss Grace Fisher, of this village, has resigned as a soloist in the choir of Christ Episcopal Church, in Brooklyn, to continue her musical education under direction of Mme. Nordica. She is only 18 years of age and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fisher, her father being employed by a florist. Since she was a little girl her sweet, full alto voice has been heard at church socials and concerts.

Last season Mme. Nordica occupied the John I. Kane cottage north of this village. She learned that the girl possessed ability as a singer, and the latter accepted an invitation to call upon Mme. Nordica. The opera singer was informed by Miss Fisher's voice, but informed her that instead of an alto voice hers was an operatic soprano of marvelous range and quality. This was a complete and at the time a rather painful surprise to Miss Fisher, who had never heard herself upon her voice and had never attempted to reach the higher notes of a soprano. Before leaving she demonstrated that the range of her voice was extraordinary.

Mme. Nordica spent last summer at Ardrey, and lately she prevailed upon her young protegee to accept the offer which she had extended to her and place herself in the hands of a competent instructor, which Mme. Nordica will provide.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 29.—The Standard Oil Co. this afternoon was fined $5,000 and costs of prosecution for operating in restraint of trade in Ohio. The defense was allowed 40 days to file a bill of exceptions, and sentence was suspended sixty days, to give defense time to file petition in error.
