MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—Yesterday morning a man named Derige dit Laplante, the marguither of the parish of St. Constant was lodged in gool on a charge of High Treason. He was captured on Thursday evening by a sergeant and four soldiers of the Montreal Volunteer Militia, at present at Laprairie, after a desperate resistance during which he was severely wounded. It was supposed by his captors that a rescae would have been attempted, as several carioles were seen at a short distance from his house, and a continued succession of signals by whistling were

"LOVAL MANIFESTATIONS".

No. 1—A few evenings ago one of the sentries of the St. Lawrence Ward was attacked near the barrier by three "loyal" Canadians, who knocked him down and attempted to wrest his bayonet from his grasp. With admirable presence of mind he unfixed his bayonet, and sheathed it about four inches in one of the ruffians, on which they all managed to escape. It is reported that the man is since dead.

No. 2.—Mr. Ormsby, with about-thirty of the Royals, were stationed at St. Eustache since the battle until a day or two ago, when they received orders to return to town. On leaving the village, they were greeted with three cheers, and loud cries of "Vive Papineau". Lieut, Griffin who was about eighteen miles distant from St. Eustache at the time heard of the departure of the Royals in about an hour and a half. So much for the telegraphic system of the Canadians ahout St. Andrews are beginning again to show proofs of their "loyalty and fidelity". The house of a Satt and a state of the state of the serious grant in the second of the canadians.

No. 3.—The Canadians ahout St. Andrews are beginning again to show proofs of their "loyalty and fidelity". manifestations", and they are far from being rare.—Herald Abstract.

On Thursday forenoon six trains arrived in town, containing about four hundred stand of arms, collected at Yamaska and the neighboring parishes where "loyal manifestations" have been so profusely hatched of late.

There was a grand illumination at Soral on Tuesday evening, in honor of Sir John Colborne having been appointed Administrator of the Covernment of this Province.—Ib.

We mentioned in Tuesday's Herald that Lord Gosford had issued a Proclamation, ordaining the 20th of this month to be observed as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for having suppressed that the fate rebellion, and restored peace to this distracted province. That such a day ought to be sacredly observed, when timinits are suppressed and peace restored, no one, will far a moment doubt, but the peuliar circumstances in which Lord Gosford has proclared should have prevented him issuing such a proclamation. He must have been aware that the late rebellion was the effect of his deceptive and anti-British policy; that it was trough the instrumentality of Sir John Colborne that it was crushed for the present; that Sir John was to be Administrator of the Government of the Province previous to the thanksgiving day advertised, and he son a day of that Lord and large assortment of his sown manufacture. The whole of which will be sold at reasonable rates this Shop in the Building ust North of the Post Office, Germain street.

TING A BRIDGE.

If a BRIDGE is a street possession given last November left the issuing of the proclamation to his successor. But where was the reason for appointing a day of thankegriving at this critical juncture, when Martial Law is still in force in this distinct, when five battelines of Volunteers are on nightly duty in Montreal alone, when as many troops are in garrison as can be accommodated, and when the ordinary guards have been trebled, why stall this display of, military force in this city, and the investing with troops every village in the district south of the St. Lawrence? Way, have the gallant volunteers from Glengarry been called down to this Province, and why do the troops at Quebec attend divine service under arms? Lord Cooffer and his Canadian Frends will answer the content of the Province, and why do the troops at Quebec attend divine service under arms?
