

FINDS MEMORY IN DEATH HOUR

After Nineteen Days Hospital Patient Shows Enough Intelligence to Scribble Name, Expires Shortly Afterwards.

Yonkers, N. Y., May 3.—Two hours before he died, at one o'clock this afternoon, in St. Joseph's Hospital, the unidentified man who had been an interesting but mute patient there for nineteen days was able to give a clue to his name. He seemed so much improved this morning when hopes were entertained of his ultimate recovery. Paresia is the supposed cause of his death.

By signs he made his attendants understand that he wished to write and a pad of paper and a pencil were given to him. Propped up in bed, he made long continued but vain attempts to make legible characters. At last, after a hundred aimless scratches he wrote out the word "Gabel" or "Gabel".

Then followed another lengthy struggle against a mind that had almost forgotten how to work and muscles that feebly and uncertainly responded to his will. Hundreds of more scratches were made on the pad before the names of Johann and Minnie appeared. The patient looked at them for several minutes and then drew a line through both of them.

Again he struggled and this time quickly wrote the name "Otto." His face lighted with relief as he had accomplished this, and he picked up the sheet with the word "Gabel" or "Gabel" and that on which he had written "Otto." He held them up to the light and then he scribbled "Gabel" or "Gabel," and with his eyes besought the attention of Dr. M. H. Foy and Dr. Robert Malcolm. The patient died when they were reading the name aloud and seemed greatly pleased.

Almost immediately he began to sink and in two hours he was dead. He was found helpless in a lot at School and Herriot streets on April 12 and was unconscious for two weeks in the hospital before his mind began to clear at all. He was dressed in ill fitting clothing when found. He had no money. No one knew his name. No one knew his name. Otto Gabel, or Gabel, is known here.

RIOTERS ARE TORTURED

Chinese Officials Take Vigorous Reprisals and Order Execution of Rebels—Disorders Used to Stop Railway.

Chang-Sha, China, May 3.—The local government officials are making vigorous reprisals against the rioters in Chang-Sha, subjecting them to torture, and in some cases executing them. There is still evidence of opposition on the part of the unofficial governing body, or "gentry," to permitting foreign business firms to reopen. Permission to open offices in the city has been refused to the Standard Oil Company.

Reports from points up the river indicate that conditions are quiet, but the officials are taking all precautions to avoid a repetition of the disorders. Chang Teh, where considerable disorders took place recently is still cut off from communication. Latest advices from that place stated that there had been no disorder since the recent attempt to loot the government banks.

It is believed that the gentry in Hunan Province are actively using as a threat the ill-temper of the people.

Elbridge Davey, who left his home yesterday morning while mentally deranged and caused his friends considerable anxiety, returned at 3 o'clock this morning almost as suddenly as he had left. He stated that he had been in the woods, but did not explain where. Davey, who is a member of the 71st Regiment Band, has a large number of friends. After coming home this morning he escaped from the house again, but was captured by some of his friends. He has been taken away for treatment.

HEARTBEATS HEARD THROUGH TELEPHONE

London, May 2.—A test that was carried out yesterday shows it is possible to diagnose heart troubles by telephone at a distance of a hundred miles. The experiment was conducted by Mr. Milne's house on the Isle of Wight, where the seismologist and four physicians, using an ordinary telephone, listened to the beating of a woman's heart in London.

A stethoscope held over her heart in the familiar manner had attached to it a telephone relay invented by Sidney Brown. By means of this device minute sounds are magnified.

In order to force the Central Government to rescind its agreement with the foreigners concerning the Hankow-Canton railway loan. LORD'S VETO BILL FRAMED Preamble of Restrictive Measure Forecasts Action for Making Upper House Popular Chamber.

London, May 3.—The text of the House of Lords' veto bill, as introduced in the House of Commons on March 21, and recently adopted by that body.

These resolutions declare, first, that it is expedient that the Lords be prevented by law from rejecting or amending a money bill, but that such limitations shall not in any wise affect the rights and privileges of the commons as they now exist; and second, that it is expedient the powers of the House of Lords respecting all other bills be restricted so that if any such bill shall be passed by the Commons at three successive sessions and rejected by the Lords at each of these sessions, it shall become a law without the assent of the Lords or Royal assent being given, provided that at least two years shall have elapsed between the introduction of the measure and its third passage by the House of Commons.

The bill will be submitted to the House of Lords when Parliament reassembles on May 26. The preamble foretells that action will be taken later for the reform of the House of Lords, with which the resolutions do not deal. It says that it is intended to substitute a second chamber, constituted on a popular instead of a hereditary basis. Such substitution, the preamble declares, cannot immediately be brought into operation. Provision is also made for limiting and defining the powers of the new second chamber.

STORM STRIKES HARD AT HAMMONDVALE

Saturday's Gale Made Things Interesting in Kings County Hamlet—Farming Now Under Way—Stream Driving

Hammondvale, N. B., May 2.—A rather unusual storm passed over here on Saturday last. With the thermometer ranging between 20 and 30 degrees and a very heavy snow storm accompanied by a force gale of wind, it thundered and lightened for over two hours very heavily. It was as vicious a storm as has visited these parts for some time.

A few have commenced farming. The beautiful warm weather of two weeks ago led everybody to think an early spring was ours, but the recent heavy frosts and nasty weather in general makes us change our minds. Most of the men around have returned from the drives.

Two services were held here yesterday. Mr. Whalley preached in the afternoon and Mr. Clarke in the evening.

The many friends of Mrs. C. W. Alexander will be pleased to learn that she is progressing favorably at the Montreal hospital.

Mr. T. Kelly had the misfortune to lose a colt on Saturday. Mr. Kennedy's mill is going full swing now and Mr. Kelly's pile of lumber is consequently getting smaller.

A pie social and dance will be held in the hall here Friday evening. Everybody is invited. Proceeds to go towards a flag for the school.

Mr. Paxton Sherwood has taken the contract of hauling the cream for the Jeffries Corner factory this summer. Mrs. John J. Sherwood has taken charge of the Hammondford school once more.

PEARY IN ENGLAND

Many Honors for North Pole Discoverer in Course of European Trip—Will Receive Medal Today.

London, May 3.—Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, arrived here yesterday and tomorrow will be presented with a gold medal from the Royal Geographical Society.

Commander Peary expects to be in Europe several weeks and will fill a number of lecture engagements. With the commander are Mrs. Peary and Captain Robert Bartlett of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt. They were passengers on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. The party was met by Major Leonard Darwin, the president, and Secretary Kettle of the Royal Geographical Society; Commander Edward Simpson, American attaché at London, and a committee of the Pilgrims' Society.

Commander Peary will lecture at Queen's Hall tomorrow and on May 5 at the Royal Albert Hall. After that he will lecture in a few of the principal cities of the British Isles and on the Continent, returning to England on May 22 to attend the annual dinner of the Royal Geographical Society, when Major Leonard Darwin, the president, will be in the chair. On May 28 he will be the guest at the Savage Club dinner, and on June 15 he will leave England for America. The members of the Geographical Society and their friends will be able to attend the gathering at Albert Hall tomorrow. The first lecture open to the general public will be given on the following day at Queen's Hall, and the event will gain interest from the fact that Captain Scott of south polar fame will occupy the chair.

The royal geographical society has concluded elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of Commander Peary, who will arrive in Berlin at the end of the present week. He will be the guest of the society in the state apartment of the hotel Kaiserhof during his sojourn. On Saturday night, May 7, he will deliver his first address at Queen's Hall, and on the night before the members and invited guests of the geographical society, on which occasion he will be decorated with the gold medal which is the organization's supreme honor. The last person to receive it was Lieutenant Shackleton. After the decoration ceremony Commander Peary will be entertained at a reception and banquet.

On the evening of May 12 he will deliver his public address. Although the commander's Berlin visit will come in the same week as Mr. Roosevelt's sojourn, German geographers and scientists will see to it that the explorer is not overlooked. He will be the guest of honor at a reception and banquet on the evening of May 12.

Princess von Buelow, the former imperial chancellor, in connection with the memorable interview with Emperor William published in October, 1908, by the London Telegraph is contained in a lengthy volume which is to be issued by the ex-governmental councillor, Rudolf Martin. The chancellor is accused of treason towards the emperor. The author of the book asserts that the interview never occurred, that table talk, the gist of which the emperor communicated to Princess von Buelow was put into the form of an interview by the German foreign office, reaching the Telegraph from the hands of the journalist, Harold Spencer. Herr Martin gives the names of prominent persons who support his assertions, one of the chief of which is the former councillor of the German embassy in London, Baron von Eckhardt. Both he and Herr Martin have left the government service.

Noted Presbyterian Dead. Philadelphia, May 3.—John H. Converse of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, one of the most prominent Presbyterian laymen in the United States, died suddenly at his home early today.

LAST CASE AT ANDOVER

Manzer Gibson Received $1,098.75 from Toronto Construction Co., at Last Session of Court.

Andover, May 1.—The case of Manzer Gibson vs. The Toronto Construction Co. finished Friday night, is probably the last case at nisi prius tried under the old Supreme Court Act which stands repealed on Monday by the coming into force of the new Judicature Act.

Judge Barry presided. The jurors were, Chas. DeMerchant, James Brener, Arthur Ridgwell, Anders C. Jensen, C. E. Pickett, E. T. Campbell and George Price.

W. F. Kerton, clerk of the circuit, was in attendance as also T. C. L. Ketchum, special court stenographer. T. J. Carter and C. H. Elliott were counsel for plaintiff and F. R. Carr, K. C., was counsel for the defendant.

The suit was brought to recover the price of lumber and railway ties which plaintiff alleged he sold and delivered to the defendant company through their agent C. H. Ferguson. The defendant company denied that Ferguson was their agent. Part of the lumber was burned subsequent to delivery. Ferguson is now in the west.

The trial occupied the attention of the court on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with an extra session on Wednesday evening.

A number of questions were submitted to the jury and upon their answers Judge Barry directed a verdict to be entered for the plaintiff for the sum of $1,098.75.

At the close of the case the court which was an adjourned session of the March circuit, was adjourned sine die.
