CHARGE ATTEMPT TO "SHAKE DOWN" RICKARD, $50,000

Said to Have Involved Suspension of Two Children's Society Agents.

New York, April 1.—A charge that agents for the Children's Society sought to "shake down" Tex Rickard for $50,000 before his recent trial and acquittal on complaint of a 16-year-old girl, and a counter-charge that the affair was concocted to create a favorable atmosphere for the accused promoter during his trial, were reported today as involved in the suspension of two agents of the society.

The report was issued by Assistant District Attorney Pecora, who prosecuted Rickard. He said the suspension of the two agents had been announced to him by General Manager Coulter of the society. The suspension was for "failure to report what appeared to be an attempt to shake down Rickard." Pecora declared he had been informed.

Pecora said in a statement that he understood the agents were suspended for deliberately withholding the facts of their meeting with Rickard. This meeting was in a saloon, Feb. 27, according to an account of it which Pecora said was given to him during the recent trial by William Kelleher, agent for the Children's Society. Kelleher's story, he said, was that Rickard met four of the agents, that their spokesman told the promoter that for $50,000 they could get the girls to change their stories, thereby weakening the case against him. As the story goes Rickard said: "I won't pay a cent; I'm innocent," and walked out.

During the trial Max D. Steuer, counsel for Rickard tried to bring the matter out, but failed. Previously Pecora had known of it and found it not competent as evidence.

Since the trial he said he had questioned two of the society agents. These interviews, he added, had confirmed an earlier impression that the whole thing was a scheme in behalf of Rickard "concocted to create a situation that would enable those interested in his behalf to show there was an attempt to shake down Rickard and develop an atmosphere favorable to Rickard on his trial."

Mr. Coulter would make no statement today. He referred interviewers to the district attorney's office.

CASE BEFORE THE CIRCUIT COURT

In the Circuit Court, before Mr. Justice Barry, on Saturday morning, a jury was asked to find as to the mental fitness to stand trial of William Parry, charged with attempting to murder Mr. Jacobson in his shop on Main street, on December 31 last. Dr. J. A. McCarthy of the Lenoir Hospital testified that the accused had formerly been employed there and had shown the mentality of a boy. The witness gave instances of the peculiar conduct of Parry on different occasions which led him to form that opinion. Evidence was also given at the hearing by Policeman McElhiney. The jury found that the accused was mentally unfit to stand trial. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K.C., appeared for the Crown.

RADIUM MAKING GREAT ADVANCES IN MEDICINE

Not Considered Cure in Malignant Cases, But Does Arrest Disease.

London, April 1.—Dr. A. H. Hayward Pinch, medical superintendent of the Radium Institute in his report of the work of that institution for last year, combats the idea that radium has no therapeutic value. He declares that this theory originated from well-meaning but ill-informed practitioners having very little personal experience.

"Radium," he declares, "is not a failure when used intelligently and scientifically and applied to the treatment of those conditions which experience has shown are amenable to its action. No honest worker claims, or has ever attempted to claim, that radium is to be regarded as a panacea, or as a cure for malignant disease and many years must elapse and much more research and clinical work be done before it will be justifiable to use the word 'cure' even in selected cases of malignant trouble."

"It is best, therefore, to speak only of 'arrest of the disease' and this can truthfully be affirmed in very many instances. Patients whose lives would have speedily terminated and who would have suffered much intense agony have been enabled by radium treatment to live for many years in comparative comfort after all the known resources of medicine and surgery had been exhausted."

"At the present moment," states Dr. Hayward Pinch, "the institute case-sheets comprise the names of many patients suffering from recurrent inoperable malignant disease who first presented themselves for treatment some seven, eight, nine or ten years ago, and who are now leading useful and comparatively healthy lives, the disease having been rendered quiescent by the treatment which they have received."

Since the Radium Institute was opened in August, 1911, 7,750 patients have been dealt with and nearly 100,000 treatments administered.

Civic Election Nomination Day

Intending Candidates Must File Papers Before Noon Today — Some Filed on Saturday.

Today is nomination day for the civic election, and intending candidates must file their papers with the common clerk before the hour of noon. In order to get their names on the ballot, some have already completed this little formality, having filed their papers on Saturday.

Those who took time by the forelock were Messrs. Edward Sears and H. R. McElliott, who are candidates for the mayoralty, and Messrs. R. W. Wigmore, who is offering for commissioner and the present commissioner whose term of office will expire on April 30, Messrs. Jones and Bullock.

Should there be more than four candidates for the commissionerships and two for the mayoralty, the primary election will be held on April 10 and the final on April 24. The ballot on the latter date being on the names of the two highest in the mayoralty contest and the highest among those offering for commissioner.

MR. NORRIS MAY BE AGRARIAN PREMIER IN MAN.

Elections in Early Summer When Agrarians Are Expected to Win.

Winnipeg, April 1.—(Special Correspondence).—The possibilities of a Farmers' government in Manitoba taking over the office from the administration of the present premier, T. C. Norris, which went down to defeat on a censure motion, appear to be far from remote. Although a probable date of the election is sometime toward the end of June or early in July, political observers show no hesitancy in forecasting that Manitoba will swing into line with Ontario and Alberta, which already have administrations with agrarian tendencies.

The defeat of the Norris government will give the farmers an opportunity they have long awaited, and that is to send a solid block of farmer members to the Legislature, from the rural constituencies at least, at the forthcoming elections. It is stated that it is true that one of the three groups which opposed the Norris government and which contributed largely to its defeat, is known as the Independent Farmer group, with a membership of 14, second numerically to the government group. But the members of this group are bolters from the United Farmers of Manitoba and ran for office in the face of a resolution passed by the organization in convention to the effect that it would not, as an organization, enter the provincial political arena. For this reason none of the Independent Farmers in the Legislature are officially supported by the United Farmers of Manitoba, and it is doubtful whether they would be elected by their legislative constituencies, if they are nominated at the forthcoming elections.

At the last annual convention, held in January, the United Farmers of Manitoba broke its decision regarding provincial politics, and decided to take a hand in the next election. Since then gradual organization has been effected by the headquarters officials and the not unexpected fall of the Norris government has found the farmers' organizations prepared to enter the political conflict of emerging victoriously.

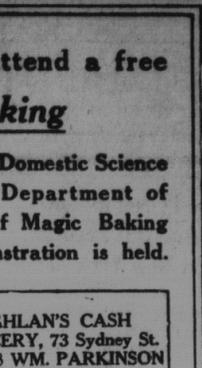

The organized farmers in the Province lack a political leader. C. H. Burrell, president of the United Farmers of Manitoba, is not likely to seek political honors. He is said to be an exceptionally capable organizer, and will lend his talents to directing the campaign. No effort will be made to choose a leader until the results of the election are known, it is stated by those who are in close touch with the farmers. If the results, as expected, show a majority of farmer candidates elected, the example of the Alberta agrarians will be followed, and a premier will be chosen who may not even have been a candidate. He will then form a government and seek election in the constituency where room will be made for him.

Thomas A. Crerar, the leader of the Progressive party in the House of Commons, has been mentioned as a possible leader of the Manitoba farmers, but, although he has not made a formal denial, it is not really thought that he will desert his untiring following in the federal house for the more circumscribed field of Manitoba. Mr. Crerar was asked to become Premier of Ontario when the farmers first found themselves returned to power in that province, but he refused.

Other names mentioned for the Manitoba premiership in case of an agrarian success are Robert Forke, member of the Dominion Parliament for Brandon, W. R. Wood, former member of the Manitoba Legislature, and now secretary of the United Farmers of Manitoba, and J. L. Brown, M. P., last year's president of the organization.

It has been further suggested that the attorney-generalship might be offered to A. B. Hudson, and if Mr. Crerar refused the premiership, the double office would be offered to Mr. Hudson. Mr. Hudson has an enviable record as former Attorney-General for Manitoba in the early years of the

The sons are Geo. C. Bais Verre; Thomas, Hugh Harold, Corey and Christopher, Port Elgin, Ivan and Elmer, in the West; Mrs. Cecil Taylor, of Shaganaga, and Miss Florence Hayward, in the West, are the daughters.

United States Was Misinformed of India's Status

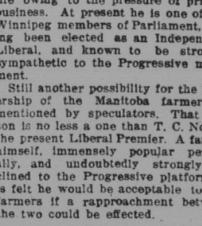

Desire to Remain Within Empire Not Fully Recognized, Says Sastri.

London, March 31.—(Right Hon. V. S. Srinivasa Sastri, speaking at a dinner given at Delhi in his honor, stated his Delhi correspondent cables, made his first important utterance since his return to India from the Washington Conference. He declared that a section of the American press was functioning in wrong channels regarding India's connection with Great Britain. He stressed the urgent need for unofficial visitors touring the United States, to proclaim that according to the best opinion in India that country was determined to remain within the British commonwealth.

Mr. Sastri said that, after the conclusion of his official mission to Washington, he spent a few weeks in the Washington Conference. He declared that a section of the American press was functioning in wrong channels regarding India's connection with Great Britain. He stressed the urgent need for unofficial visitors touring the United States, to proclaim that according to the best opinion in India that country was determined to remain within the British commonwealth.

Speaking of his intended mission to Australia, New Zealand and Canada this summer, Mr. Sastri said he would devote himself to pleading the cause of the Indians settled in the Dominions. He said he hoped to help educate the electorate in these countries, with a view to assisting their premiers to carry legislation giving effect to the resolution which the Imperial Conference passed last year. He expressed the belief that India would soon attain Dominion status.

Still another possibility for the leadership of the Manitoba farmers is mentioned by speculators. That person is no less a one than T. C. Norris, the present Liberal Premier. A farmer himself, immensely popular personally, and undoubtedly strongly inclined to the Progressive platform, it is felt he would be acceptable to the farmers if a rapprochement between the two could be effected.
