Words of the Wise.

ONE of the best preventives of evil-doing is well-doing. When the mind and hands are occupied with that which is true they will care but little for that which is false.

Sow love, and taste its fruitage pure;
Sow peace, and reap its harvest bright;
Sow sunbeams on the rock and moor,
And find a harvest home of light.
—Bonar.

"SCRIPTURE watching, or waiting, implies steadfast faith, patient hope, labouring love, unceasing prayer; yea, the mighty exertion of all the affections of the soul of which a man is capable."

You cannot tamper with evil. Repeated indulgences will form a habit which ere long may make you its slave. Avoid the first appearance of evil. There is danger in all dallying with it.

TURNING sunshine into night, and making misery gratis when we are not miserable, is anything but Christian, though, alas! some very good people do sometimes make a merit of it.—H. Bushnell.

O FEARFUL heart and troubled brain!
Take hope and strength from this,
That nature never hints in vain,
Nor prophecies amiss.

Her wild birds sing the same sweet stave,
Her lights and airs are given
Alike to playground and the grave;
And over both is heaven.
Whittier.

HEAVEN is the day of which grace is the dawn; the rich ripe fruit of which grace is the lovely flower; the inner shrine of that most glorious temple to which grace forms the approach and outer court.—Dr. Guthrie.

SOME people, judging from their reluctance to give a word of encouragement to their minister, seem to think it is better for him to die of depression than to run the risk of being inflated by a compliment.—Dr. J. M. Crowell.

IT is the habitual thought that frames itself in our life. It affects us even more than our intimate social relations do. Our confidential friends have not so much to do in shaping our lives as thoughts have which we harbour.—J. W. Teal.

EVERY event in this world is a syllable breaking from the lips of God. Every epoch in affairs is a completed sentence of His thought; and the great stream of human history is God's endless revelation of himself.—Rev. J. H. Ecob.

THERE is no place where earth's sorrows
Are so felt as up in heaven;
There is no place where earth's failings
Have such kindly judgment given.

if our love were but more simple,
We should take Him at His word;
And our lives would be all sunshine
In the sweetness of our Lord.
Faber.

IMPROVEMENT depends far less upon less of tasks and hours of application than is supposed. Children can take in but a little each day; they are like vases with narrow necks; you may pour little or pour much, but much will not enter at a time.—Michelet.

INFINITE toil would not enable you to sweep away a mist; but by ascending a little you may look over it altogether. So it is with your moral improvement. We wrestle fiercely with a vicious habit which would have no hold upon us if we ascended into a higher moral atmosphere.

A HOW different are the sufferings of the sinner and those of the saint! The former are an eclipse of the moon, by which the dark night becomes still blacker and wilder; the latter are a solar eclipse, which cools off the hot day and casts a romantic shade, and wherein the nightingales begin to warble.—Richter.

ANOTHER lesson we may receive from the leaf, that of its death. If ever, in autumn, a pensiveness falls upon us as the leaves drift by in their fading, may we not wisely look up in hope to their mighty monuments. Behold how fair, how far prolonged, in arch and aisle, the avenues of the valleys, the fringes of the hills, so stately, so eternal; they are but the monuments of these poor leaves that flit faintly past us to die. Let them not pass without our understanding their last counsel and example, that we also may build our monument in the world,—monuments by which men may remember not where we died, but where we lived.—Ruskin.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave. J. W. MOREY, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1881.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost. I know it."—A WORKINGMAN.
