BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Makes Good Blood and Good Blood Means Good Health.

Mrs. Frel Biggs, Kingston, Ont., writes:—“I was completely run down, my blood was out of order, and I used to get so weak I would be compelled to stay in bed for weeks at a time. I could not eat, and was pale and thin; everyone thought I was going into Consumption. I tried everything, and different doctors, until a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. “I did not have one bottle used when my appetite began to improve. “I used six bottles. “I gained ten pounds in two weeks. When I began to take it I only weighed ninety-three pounds. It just seemed to pull me from the grave as I never expected to be strong again. I will tell every sufferer of your wonderful remedy.” Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. See that their signature appears on every bottle.

Victoria Kid is Shy.

Victoria, July 28, 1910.

Sir.—Having read with interest the letters from the young people on this page, I beg permission to be allowed to become one of the number, not with regard to matrimony, but to pass away the time. I would like to correspond with someone. I am sixteen, but will be seventeen in September. I have blue eyes, and light hair and fair complexion. I am 5 feet 2 inches in height, weigh between 100 and 114 lbs., and am told I am not bad looking. I am fond of all sorts of sports, and love all kinds of animals. I am fond of music, and play a little. If any boys or girls about my age or between 16 and 20 care to write to me they will find my address with the Editor. Boys and girls must write first, as I am shy. Hoping I haven't taken up too much space.—I remain,

“Victoria Kid.”

This One Offers Advice.

July 20, 1910.

Sir.—I am an interested reader of your am so bashful I would have joined your magazine, and but for the fact that I circle before. I was greatly interested in “All Alone's” letter of May. I wonder if he thinks marriage is the only thing that will make a girl sensible and broad-minded. I am not married, and am not writing with the object of finding a husband. Perhaps I think I am sensible enough, or again, perhaps I think myself too sensible to get married. I am a wage-earner, making a comfortable living and enjoy my work very much, and therefore will never marry in order to have a home. May I say that I think the biggest mistake parents can make is bringing up their daughters without any means of supporting themselves if it becomes necessary, thus forcing them into unhappy marriages. Making girls independent does not make them despise marriage, but enables them to see it in its true light. Such girls will marry, not at the first opportunity, but when they see a man they can honor above all others. “Girls, don't marry the first man that you think you could live with, but marry the man you don't think you can live without.” I am a Western Canadian girl, nearly a quarter of a century old, and have been away from home since I was sixteen. I am tall and slim, with brown hair and eyes, and could not tell you half of my good qualities, and if you asked my friends they would find time all too short to tell my faults. Let it suffice to say I am fond of fun, and find plenty of it, too. I have many friends and would like more, so if any would care to write I will leave my address with the Editor. Please forward the enclosed p.c's.

Who Understands Gaelic?

Victoria, B.C., July 1st, 1910.

Sir.—I have been reading your interesting paper for the last six months (though not a subscriber), and I always look with pleasure to the date when it is due, as I find it contains many interesting letters in the correspondence columns; also a number of poetical verses, which I am very fond of reading. The information and views of the prairie and new settlements are welcomed by all emigrants and those intending to take up homesteads. As I intend to get one myself before long, you may be sure that I take great interest in reading the bachelor experience on the farm. So now I will describe myself a little, in the hope that one of your fair correspondents may think it worth her while to exchange letters with me. I am a Highland Scotchman, Protestant, 5ft. 10in. in height, 175 lbs. in weight, 27 years of age, dark hair, grey eyes, fair complexion. I do not chew, smoke or drink; can read and write English and Gaelic. Now, Mr. Editor, I hope to see this in print soon. I will be glad to answer any letters written to me. Wishing the Editor and his welcome Western Home Monthly every success.

All Speak Well of the W.H.M.

Nokomis, Sask.

Sir.—Although not a subscriber I have been able to read and enjoy the Western Home Monthly through the medium of a friend, and intend as soon as settled down here to become a regular subscriber. Your paper is both interesting and elevating and certainly deserves great success. Am enclosing letters to various correspondents and hope you will kindly forward them. Your correspondence columns are indeed a happy thought and doubtless have been the means of brightening many a heart and home. I like the fearless manner in which some of your correspondents air their views on Christianity and total abstinence, hence my asking the above favour.

Salmon Makes His Bow.

New Westminster, June 19, 1910.

Sir.—For the past ten years I have been an interested reader in one of the best all-round family magazines published in Canada, and that is the Western Home Monthly. But in all that time I have never attempted to enter into correspondence with the fair sex through your correspondence columns. In entering your circle of correspondents I do not intend to enter seriously into matrimonial affairs, because I do not think that marriage by mail is always a success, but I would like to correspond with some fair maiden under eighteen who is not already overloaded with correspondents and would-be admirers. Well, as space is limited in the W.H.M., I will have to conclude now, hoping to see my letter in print soon. Those wishing to correspond will find my address with the Editor. Living on the Fraser River. I will sign myself

Swastika on the Warpath.

Hilton, Man., July 29, 1910.

Sir.—Would you kindly send the enclosed letter to “Sweet Sixteen” of the May number of your paper? Would also like to correspond with “Innocence and Mischief” of the May issue, if they would write me a postcard with their address. As to corresponding with a view to matrimony, I am not that way inclined, but, as “Soft Sammy” says, it might lead to acquaintance and that in its turn lead farther. As most correspondents think it their duty to describe themselves, I will do the same. I am somewhere between the age of 18 and 22, five feet ten inches tall, weigh 165 lbs., and like all kinds of sport. I do not chew or drink, but take an occasional smoke. My address is with the Editor. Wishing the Western Home Monthly the best of success.

Another Maiden from Morse.

Morse, Sask., July 7, 1910.

Sir.—I am interested in your valuable paper, especially the correspondence columns, and finding so many interesting letters I thought I would join the circle. I will describe myself now, so that you may know what I am like. I am 5ft. 3in. tall, weigh 121 lbs, have dark brown curly hair, blue eyes and a very lovable disposition (at least, that's what my friends tell me), and I am sweet sixteen. I live on a farm with my brother. I am very fond of riding and driving, and am a crack shot with the rifle, and it's very good sport to shoot the gophers, as there's no bigger game around here. I feel sorry for some of the poor bachelors who write such lonesome letters, and if any of them will write first I will be glad to cheer up some of their lonesome moments. I am a good housekeeper and a good cook, and can do the outside chores in a pinch. Now, if any of the boys or girls care to write to me my address is with the Editor. Now, I will close, wishing the Western Home Monthly the very best of success. I will sign myself

Also removes skin blemishes such as eczema, warts, cysts, weeping sinew, boils, cuts, sores, wounds, relieves larkspur, Varicose, Hydrocele, disc strains and sprains. Takes out corns and inflammation—stops lameness.

A customer writes: “My wife has been troubled with a ruptured fibrous for 12 or 13 years—no rest day or night. We tried most every known remedy for the trouble—nothing even gave temporary relief. One bottle of ABSORBINE JR. has been used by rubbing on with the hands only, also with a piece of flannel and has not suffered from pain since the second or third application. The veins were large and prominent—at this time almost invisible with very little swelling. This is almost a miracle, but it is as near the truth as I can express it. We gladly recommend it to any one who may suffer in like manner.”

Safe and pleasant to use—quickly absorbed into skin, leaving it dry and clean. Results like the above make ABSORBINE JR. a household name. Ask your neighbors about it.
