

THE FLIGHT FROM FIRE

First train out of Porcupine, with 300 on board, morning of July 12.
In the foreground, Charles Pierce, town constable hero.

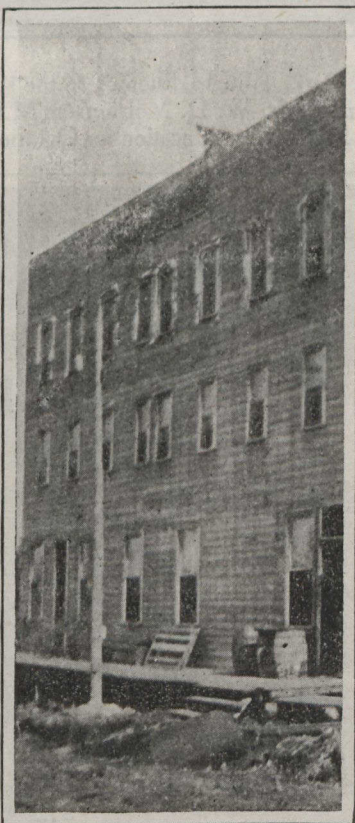

Refugees on the beach at Golden City in the midst of fire on July 11.

Wharf at Golden City; in the distance the point of Pottsville, only part of the town not destroyed.

Corduoy death trail, Porcupine to Hollinger and Dome Mines.

Murphy House, Golden City, stopped the fire.

Fire fugitives from Porcupine and Cochrane changing trains at Kelso on July 12.

A huddle of Humanity at the water's edge in Golden City.