Toronto, Nov. 2, 1908.

My dear Hart-McHarg:

I thank you most cordially for your very kind ult. letter of the 27th inst just received. You know without any assurance how much I value your friendship, and how especially welcome on this occasion are the generous words to which you have given expression. I thank you sincerely for your good wishes, and shall endeavour to merit them in some degree by striving after the realization of those ideals in public life which I know we hold so much in common.

With kindest regards and best wishes always,
believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

D. Hart-McHarg Esq.,
