

Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Dear Mr. King,

Thank you

and to those who are such a flow, coming to you in the midst of your absorbing work and large responsibilities. much to a heavy tax upon your strength and courage. But I know how well grounded your faith is on a faith that turns even sad a sorrow to account, for the fulfilment of hopes and ideals that are no less than of your loved ones than they are your own. And no your work, as well as affectionate memory, will bring its consolation.

May I ask you to express my deep sympathy to your family
