GOSSIP.

Mr. Arthur Johnston, of Greenwood, Ont., in sending in his advertisement for this issue, writes us as follows: "My 1900 importation of 30 head of high-class Scotch Shorthorns have just recently reached Greenwood, from quarantine, and I think I may say they have arrived in the very nicest form. I spent more time in their selection than I have ever done before, and though Shorthorns of the right class and quality were both scarce and high, I bought them so close and carefully, that I am able to give my customers cattle of a very high standard, at prices little if any higher than last year. They are principally all descended from the great herds of Aberdeenshire of the past and present. They are all for sale, as usual with me. I give my customers what they want, if I have it."

J. & A. McTAGGART'S SHORTHORNS, AT SONVA, ONT.

We draw attention to the new advertisement of the above firm. When we called, a short time ago, we found a useful bunch of short horns, founded upon the much-desired Scotch breeding, and to which the firm have exercised much care in the sire selection, sticking closely to the Cruickshank families. The firm has half a dozen young red and roan bulls for disposal this season that are of the correct type, apart from their strength and breeding, being even, thick-fleshed, good feeders, of the short-legged, early-maturing type. Those desiring young sires of good individual merit, that will put a strong dash of Scotch blood in their progeny, will do well to consult the firm's advertisement, and act quickly.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

The 1900 event exceeded any previous effort at Madison Square Gardens. The entries exceeded by 200 those of last year; exhibitors surpassed in numbers those of last season by over 100; the sale of boxes brought about $10,000 more than at any preceding show, and the attendance was record-breaking. The Hackney exhibit was conspicuous for quality in particular. This class had for judges Messrs. Henry Fairfax, Oak Hill Farm, Aldie, Va.; Robert Beith, ex M.P., Bowmanville, Ont.; and Robert Graham, Clarendon, Ont. The aged stallion section suffered a serious loss by the death at the show of the notable stallion, Lord Roseberry, that came so conspicuously to the front in the hands of Graham Bros., who brought him out of seclusion, developed and sold him last year to Chestnut Hill Stock Farm, Berwyn, Pa. Last year this son of Lord Derby 2nd stood 2nd to the champion Fandango, from Maplewood, that also won the leading award this year, entitling him to the American Hackney Society challenge cup. The reserve number was the two-year-old Alarm, by Wild Fire. The champion female of the show was found in the three-year-old Victoria 3rd, a filly that leaves little to be desired in the Hackney breed. She is a daughter of the champion Fandango.

MR. A. B. ARMSTRONG'S YORKSHIRES AND POULTRY, NEAR CARRINGTON, IN NORFOLK, ENGLAND.

During a recent visit to Northumberland and Co. Ont., we had a short interview with Mr. A. B. Armstrong, near Carrington, and looked over his herd of Yorkshire pigs and pens of pure-bred fowls. Mr. Armstrong founded the present herd of swine some three years ago, upon purchases made from Mr. Jos. Brethour, Burford, selecting from those families which helped to make Oak Lodge famous for this breed. Among those now on hand we found Oak Lodge White Rose 3rd, by Jacko, and out of O. L. White Rose 1th, tracing through Holywell strain to the famous Marion tribe. She is a good sort, being true in the desired type, and proving herself worthy of the confidence bestowed in her as a mother, and was on Nov. 1st sucking a litter of choice pigs from Summer Hill Victor 7th, PCH, a pig coming from such popular families as the Basketts, Mand G., and Dominion 3th, to name a few, as prize-winners, with Mr. R. G. Martin, a fine, desirable combination of best blood, from a high level breeding stock. Another new variety of special note is saw, in Summer Hill Victor 3rd, by the noted sire, Victor 1st, by Mr. D.

C. Platt's Look Me Over 242, and out of imported Oak Lodge Duchess 2nd 307, also one of Mr. Platt's good matrons, and in her we found one of the best Yorkshire sows we have seen in the hands of such a young breeder. She is large, smooth, well proportioned, and approaching her prime. Mr. Armstrong informed us that she was due to farrow to a Cinderella boar about the middle of December. Two of her daughters are being placed among the matrons, and approaching the age of maturity, will make a strong good parent, rich in the choice of breeding. At the head of the herd Mr. Armstrong has placed the young boar Summer Hill Model 2nd, by Summer Hill Diamond 1st, and out of Fanny 1st, and from the noted herd of Mr. Sanders, Spencer. He was barrowed with Mr. D. C. Platt, and is being the prize type, to make one of the best sows on hand. He is a youngster of the good type, having lots of length, size and quality, and should mark at his present home. He is a good one. In poultry, Mr. Armstrong is quite enthusiastic with such breeds as the White Wyandottes, Barred Rocks, Black and White Minorcas, Broxton and White Leghorns, Pekin ducks, and Bronze turkeys, each of which are represented and have been selected from the best known breeders of each kind. Note Mr. Armstrong's offerings in our advertising columns.

D. H. RUSSELL'S SHORTHORNS.

While in Stouffville, Ont., a few days ago, we called upon Mr. D. H. Russell, and saw his Shorthorns and Shropshires. Mr. Russell always has a few choice young things on hand, and this season is no exception. We saw a few young bulls and heifers, to which he is giving good attention, also a choice lot of young Shropshires of either sex, which should interest those in search of such stock. Note his offerings.

PLEASE MENTION FARMER'S ADVOCATE.
