Mr. M. Bergeron, architect, Montreal, has notified the city that he intends to claim before the courts the sum of $7,000 which represents what he lost by fire at his house on 3rd avenue, Viauville, which could not be saved by the brigade, owing to the lack of water pressure. Mr. Bergeron claims he was entitled to adequate fire protection which was absolutely lacking.

The need of having an official appointed has been urged by Chief Tremblay of Montreal, after referring to the loss at St. Jerome and Calumet, from both of which points a call for aid was sent to Montreal, he said a paid and competent federal or provincial inspector should be selected at once, whose duty would be to visit all the towns of the province and inspect the fire departments, or what passed for such, and advise in what way they could best be improved.

A young man in London, Ont., was riding a bicycle when he discovered that his back was warmer than the exertion warranted. He dismounted and in an instant later was wrapped in flames. It is thought that his clothes were ignited either through matches in his pockets or by a spark from a pipe.

"Vancouver Facts" is an interesting booklet compiled by Mr. Pollough Pogue for Messrs. The F. U. Lantz Company, Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. The booklet contains answers to the questions most frequently asked about the commercial capital of the Pacific coast, and is replete with much statistical information.

In the hope of saving the bank funds at South Porcupine the bank clerks put the money into grips, placed the grips in canoes and pushed boats into the lake, where three or four hundred people were wading around in water up to their necks. Had they left it in the small bank safes it would undoubtedly have been destroyed. The only alternative was to trust the people, and this they did with great success.
