ROSSLEY OPENS BRITISH THEA. TRE TO-NIGHT.

All lovers of good pictures and music will be pleased to know that Mr. Jack Rossley has got a splendid selection of pictures for their approval, the finest that can be had. Mr Rossley has taken a least of the British Theatre for a term of years, and has erected a beautiful stage and other improvements. The heating and ventilating system is all that can be desired. It is rather hard to induce performers to come here either from England or the States, but in meantime while the scare is on, we can see all the best people in the pictures. There will be drama, comedy, travel and educational films please all classes, old and young. The British Theatre will be conducted in first class style, and the Rossleys hope to please patrons as before by on Sunday next. giving only a clean and refined entertainment.
