

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JULY 20, 1894.

Our Water Service.

For a few weeks back those who are immediately interested in matters pertaining to our water service have been uneasy. Although the season has been a dry one and the amount of water used has increased greatly year by year, this did not appear sufficient reason for the apparent shortage in the water supply.

The Masonic Grand Lodge.

By request of St. George's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., we publish the following report of their proxy, Mr. A. M. Hoare, at the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge at New Glasgow:

To The Worshipful Master and Brethren, St. George's Lodge No. 20, R. N. S., Wolfville, N. S.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHERS,—Your proxy to Grand Lodge at its late session begs leave to report as follows:—

On Tuesday, June 12th, at 5 o'clock P. M., your proxy started for New Glasgow to attend Grand Lodge. The journey up was as pleasant as could be expected considering that the major portion of it was after dark. Our stop at Truro was one long to be remembered for there we dined and our good Brother Rockwell of Kentville Lodge, who sat next me at table, showed that his appetite had not been injured by his early rising to catch the morning train from Kentville.

Under his example we all did justice to the good things before us, and we arose with our appetites completely gone and a satisfied feeling within us which nothing could disturb.

We arrived at New Glasgow about 7 P. M., tired but cheerful, and after locating at our respective hotels, started to hunt up those who had come before me. This occupied our time till after midnight, when we retired to rest.

The session of Grand Lodge opened at 10 sharp next morning, and shortly after, we went to church in full regalia. The procession was said to be one of the largest and best ever taken part in by Grand Lodge. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Carruthers of New Glasgow, and was a telling and effective and notable short discourse from the text "In understanding be men."

I am not just clear about the wording of the text, but that was the idea any way. It was a very thoughtful and clear sermon and evoked great commendation from those who had the pleasure of hearing it. On our return to the Lodge room, a very little routine business was got through and then we adjourned for dinner. After dinner, at the invitation of Albion Lodge, we all went on board the steamer which plies between New Glasgow and Pictou, and after a delightful sail down the river, we landed at Pictou and spent a couple of hours inspecting that town.

In the evening we again met in Grand Lodge, and the business was proceeded with.

I shall not attempt to give you the debate in detail for even were it possible you would find much of it uninteresting. I will content myself therefore with a brief synopsis. I may say that I was able to carry out your instructions, as embodied in your resolutions forwarded to me "win my argument" so the text.

But right here let me say that, I am entirely opposed to the principle of giving proxies arbitrary instructions. Cases frequently occur where the proxy goes to the Grand Lodge meeting firmly convinced that things are in a certain condition and either in the course of the debate or from private sources of information, finds that he and his Lodge were laboring under an utter misconception, either of the facts or of the details affecting the case.

By giving your proxy fixed instructions he is prevented from exercising his judgment or correcting any erroneous idea he may have had. I may say further that so firm am I in this opinion that had I not been personally entirely of one mind with the Lodge and that there was little or no probability of my changing my opinion I should have felt bound to decline the honor of being its proxy.

The resolution to raise the per capita was a very ill advised one and I think was put forward without careful consideration. The discussion on the affirmative side was weak, and ended in an attempt to withdraw, this was opposed, and the motion went to vote, where it was practically unanimously defeated.

The resolution re Past Masters of other jurisdictions was withdrawn with the statement that it had inadvertently appeared on the Agenda paper.

The charity due resolution was the subject of a good deal of debate and was referred to a committee for consideration and amendment. I have not the exact text of the resolution as it passed, but it was to the effect that each Lodge be requested to send every year with its dues $c. to Grand Lodge, a voluntary contribution in such amounts as its members individually feel disposed to give for the purpose of increasing the charity fund and decreasing the debt on Masonic Temple, the capital to be devoted to the latter and the interest on the amount to the former purpose.

On Bro. McLeod's (of Westville) motion to change the reading of Chap. 22, Sec. 28 was on a point raised by the proxy for your Lodge ruled by the M. W. G. M. to be not necessary as the present law gives just what was called for in the motion. It was decided by the M. W. Grand Master, that members of subordinate Lodges who were Past Masters in their own right having earned the honor and who were afterwards excused from paying the Lodge dues, were not honorary members within the meaning of this Section and could not be delinquent on a seat and vote in Grand Lodge. "Honorary members" as alluded to in this Section, means members of other Lodges or jurisdictions, who have never passed the Chair in a Lodge in this jurisdiction.

The case of Bro. Slaughter of Moncton was cited, but it was held that he had never been in the Chair of a Lodge in this jurisdiction.

This may not be very clear to you, but I hope some day to be able to meet with

The Delinctor for September is called the Autumn Announcement Number, and is the strongest issue of this popular magazine that has yet come to hand. The "Harold Borden" is unusually large and attractive, and is the first authentic representation of the Autumn Modes, and there is besides a special illustrated article on Clothing the Baby. A most interesting contribution is the plan for and against according the Suffrage to Women by such well known writers as L. G. Runkle and Edith Thomas, and there is also a valuable paper on Public Schools, teaching as an Employment for Women. The first article of a series on the Kindergarten appears in this number, and should prove of much service to both public and private teachers. In the "College Series," Girl's Life and Work at Radcliffe (late Harvard Annex) is described. Further instruction is given in the making of ornamental articles from Crepe and Tissue papers, in Bent Iron Work, and in the Cultivation of the Voice for Singing and Declamation. The instructive talks on the Relations between Mother and Daughter are continued, and in the papers on Health there is much good advice on the proper exercise for both body and brain. Grapes are considered in the Hints on Serving Fruit, and there is a suggestive description of a Cotton Wedding. There are also the usual illustrated papers on Knitting, Crocheting, Netting, Tatting, etc. The subscription price of the Delinctor is one Dollar a Year, Single Copies, Fifteen Cents. Address Orders to The Delinctor Publishing Co., of Toronto, Ltd., 22 Richmond St., West, Toronto.

During the month of May in this year 3,092 tons of hay were received in England from Canada as compared with 993 tons in the same month of the previous year. For the five months ending May 31st, the receipts were 9,860 tons as compared with 3,091 for the corresponding period in 1893. The United States appears to profit chiefly by this trade. Out of 33,127 tons received in May from all countries the United States contributed 24,161 tons. It is a little singular that the United States should be able to lead Canada in the hay trade but such is the fact.

It is reported that the hay crop in England, which is now mostly gathered in is the biggest for a long time, and that both the grain and general crops are full of abundant promise. Potatoes form a possible exception both here and in Ireland, but it is not too late for their chances to improve. Much the same hopeful story is told from most parts of the continent.
