

STOLE FROM THE Y.M.C.A.

Young Englishman Remanded Until Enquiries Are Made.

East End People Accused of Neglecting Their Children.

Father Was Warned Against Drink and Case Dismissed.

Despite the fact that it is the home of the Young Men's Christian Association, crime sometimes penetrates into the Y.M.C.A. building. This year several articles have been missed, overcoats, gloves and hats, and the police were called upon to look into the cases.

On Jan. 5 Harman Willetts missed his overcoat and gloves, and three days later William Goodwin missed similar articles. Both of these cases were reported to the police, and Detective Sayers was detailed to investigate.

He made the rounds of the pawnshops first, with a description of the stolen articles. In one shop he found an overcoat and a pair of gloves, and in another store he found the other coat, but no gloves.

The pawnbrokers in both stores gave good descriptions of the man who had sold them the articles, and the descriptions tallied in every respect. Detective Sayers then went to the Y.M.C.A., and for several nights waited for a man who would answer this description.

Last night about 9 o'clock an Englishman about 20 years of age walked into the parlor, and he fitted in perfectly with Sayers' mind picture of the man he wanted.

Sayers stepped up to him and taxed him with the thefts, but the stranger indignantly denied that he had taken any coats or gloves.

The pawnbrokers say you did," said Sayers. "Bring the pawnbrokers here," said the young man, and they were sent for. While waiting for the pawnbrokers many curious ones gathered around the detective and his prisoner, and there was consternation in the building.

Two large and prosperous Knights of the Three Balls arrived shortly after, and they at once identified the prisoner as the man who sold them the coats.

The man broke down at once, cried, and begged for a chance to do better, but he was taken to the cells and locked up. He gave the name of Robert Ward, and said he boarded at Cannon street east. He stated he had been here a year. This morning in court Ward elected to be tried by the Police Magistrate, and pleaded guilty to both charges.

He was remanded two days for sentence, to give the police a chance to see what he has done in his year's stay here.

Hugh Toner and his wife, who live at 330 Wentworth street north, were in court this morning charged with neglecting their children. Truancy Officer Hunter, inspector for the Children's Aid Society, took out the summons against the pair. Through A. M. Lewis they pleaded not guilty. W. M. McClelland appeared for the society, and was just opening the case after the court had been cleared of back-benchers, when Willie Hunter spotted three reporters in the room.

Prof. Hutt, of the Ontario Agricultural College, last night addressed the members of the Hamilton Horticultural Society on the subject of making Hamilton more beautiful. The speaker advanced a number of helpful suggestions. The presence of some objectionable bill boards near the Valley Inn advertising Toronto theatres, was the subject of some discussion. These boards may be removed, as seen by passengers on the G. T. R.

FATHER WEPT. While Counsel Spoke in Defence of Thornton Hains. Wants Either Acquittal or Murder in the First Degree.

Flushing, N. Y., Jan. 12.—John F. McIntyre, counsel for Thornton J. Hains, summed up for the defence to-day.

Mr. McIntyre spoke slowly and with much force. He reviewed the points of evidence carefully and embellishing the recital of his address with rhetorical skill, held the jury in rapt attention. Seated near his counsel at a table upon which rested the miniature model of the float and dock of the Bayside Yacht Club, Thornton Hains made frequent notes upon a tablet and scrutinized the jury as Mr. McIntyre scored his points.

General Hains and his son, Major Hains, sat within the enclosure and listened to the defense's address. The old general sat with his bowed head resting upon his hand, and not infrequently a tear coursed down his cheek as counsel summed up the case of his son.

"Thornton Hains only tried to protect his brother from an infuriated crowd," Prosecutor Darrin objected to the statement of Mr. McIntyre that the prosecution was of the manner of a conspiracy, saying that there had been no evidence in the case of that conspiracy. Justice Crane held that the defendant's counsel had a wide latitude in summing up and Mr. McIntyre proceeded with his attack on the special prosecutor engaged in the State's case.

GOES OVER TO NEXT COURT.

Criminal Libel Case Stands For the Spring Assizes.

Unlooked For Development in a Civil Case To-day.

Girl Swore to Story Yesterday and Denied it To-day.

The criminal libel suit, in which M. M. Robinson, of the Spectator, is defendant, will not go on at the present sitting of the High Court. W. J. Southam, manager of that paper, has booked passage to Bermuda, having arranged to leave to-night, and the private prosecutor consented to allowing the case to stand till the March court, to accommodate him.

Mr. Southam will be an important witness. He signed a statement to the effect that Robinson was the writer of the alleged defamatory libel, which was not till after criminal proceedings had been taken. The prosecution was not prepared to go on this morning, although the Grand Jury brought in a true bill, on account of differences of opinion as to who had the right to conduct the case.

Col. Gwyn, of Dundas, was appointed Crown Prosecutor for this court by the Attorney-General's Department. As the prosecutor had already paid Mr. S. F. Washington, K. C., to conduct the case, he very naturally declined to agree to be the Government's special official. The plaintiff wrote to the Deputy Attorney-General last night to find out if there is any law to compel a complainant to pay for a solicitor he did not engage, or to take the case out of the hands of his own solicitor, in which the Government declines to pay the costs.

Col. Gwyn was present when the case was presented to the Grand Jury by Crown Attorney Washington.

WENT BACK ON HER WORD. In the action of Gravelle vs. Zaas, for $1,000 damages for seduction, Mr. Gwyn, acting for Peter Gravelle, father of the girl, received a great surprise when she swore that she was in ignorance as to the parentage of her child, although she had been quite positive when before the Grand Jury. Mr. Gwyn asked that His Lordship permit him to withdraw from the case, as the girl had lied to him, and also to her mother and father.

His Lordship soundly lectured the girl, and wanted to know why she had committed perjury. She said that she had been frightened into it by her people. His Lordship told her that she was committing a grave crime, and said he would have the Crown Attorney appear of what she has done, and if he sees fit to bring a charge against her it would prove rather serious. He also notified Chief Tupper to keep an eye on the girl and see that she behaved herself in future. His Lordship wanted to know if she would return to her home and lead a decent, respectable life. The girl agreed to do so.

H. C. Gwyn, K. C., appeared for Gravelle, and W. E. S. Knowles and J. W. Lawton represented Peter Zaas. The case was dismissed without costs. The Grand Jury brought in a true bill against Louis Perrini, charged with aiding and abetting Giovanni Cordeiti in the seduction of Cyrus Rose. His trial is set for to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The jury in McBride vs. the Hamilton Street Railway did not return a verdict at press time. This afternoon the jury in the McBride case brought in a verdict, having found that Mr. McBride's death was the result of a grave crime, and that the case was therefore dismissed.

WILL GO ON. Case Against Bowerman to be Proceeded With. Percy Bowerman, the young lad who was arrested some months ago by the local police on a charge of holding up the tower man at the Junction Cut and robbing him of $20, will be brought before the Police Magistrate shortly, despite the fact that his case has long been hanging fire.

Bowerman was arrested by G. T. R. Detectives Brine and Barroch, and in his possession was found a note book, in which he is alleged to have entered deeds of daring he had performed. Bicycle stealing and the tower robbery were items referred to in the book, and the police charged him with several offences, which the note book informed them of. A remand was granted, and shortly after he was let out on bail Bowerman developed typhoid fever. The officials were of the opinion that the typhoid fever developing in the system might have mentally unbalanced him, and led him to commit the offences. Police Magistrate Jelfs spoke to Chief Smith this morning, and the chief stated that he was in the act of writing a letter to the county police, offering to bring the case on at once. Bowerman lives in the county, and the robberies took place outside the city.

NO WAR. Turkey Accepts Austria's Offer of Money Indemnity. Constantinople, Jan. 12.—The Turkish Government accepts the Austro-Hungarian offer of $10,800,000 indemnity for the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, thus removing every possibility of war. The Grand Vizier, Kiamil Pasha, received Marquis Pallavicini, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, at noon to-day, and notified him of the decision of the Council of Ministers.

MRS. JOHNSON'S CASE. As stated in the Times some days ago, Mrs. Ida Johnson, who was assaulted by an unknown man in her rooms, MacNab and York streets, shortly before Christmas, will be examined as to her sanity. Chief Smith had an information this morning, but as the woman is still in St. Joseph's Hospital, a commission, consisting of Magistrate Jelfs, Dr. Roberts and Dr. McGillivray, will go to the hospital to examine her. If she is found to be insane, Mrs. Johnson will be removed to the asylum as soon as she recovers from the effects of the assault. The police are still in the dark as to the name of her assailant.

DEBATED WOMEN'S RIGHTS. A very interesting debate was held last evening in St. George's Sunday School, amongst the members of the Girls' Friendly Society. The subject was "Should Women Vote." Mrs. Barrett and Miss Jessie Hamilton upheld the affirmative side in an able manner, but Miss Gillies and Miss Violet Caddy carried the day by three votes, proving that women's truest duties lay in the home sphere. Miss White was critic.

WERE LET GO. Judge Monck was in a lenient mood this morning, and as a result Roderick McKay and James Stewart were allowed out on suspended sentence, after being found guilty of conspiring to defraud Edward Leonard of lunch tickets.
