

particularly to the United States Bank... which will bring some idea of the extent to which British capital is now invested in United States securities.

We believe that the amount of British capital invested in the United States... is not, perhaps, at this instant in a state of progressive augmentation, because in a period of disturbance and derangement every man is engaged in fortifying and securing his particular local position, and will not part with any of the securities which he commands in any disposition which would place a property in jeopardy.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

It has been seen that one fourth part of the entire stock of the Bank of the United States was held by foreigners—nearly the whole of this no doubt, being the property of the inhabitants of Great Britain.

another London paper we have seen... that the collection of "justice" removed, and hence the "great objection" interest in opposing the introduction of this panacea.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.

Another London paper we have seen... that the collection of "justice" removed, and hence the "great objection" interest in opposing the introduction of this panacea.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.

No child afflicted with any infectious, contagious, or dangerous disease, will be allowed to attend school, or to be present at any public assembly, or to be in the company of others, until he has been pronounced by a competent medical officer to be free from the disease.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.

No child afflicted with any infectious, contagious, or dangerous disease, will be allowed to attend school, or to be present at any public assembly, or to be in the company of others, until he has been pronounced by a competent medical officer to be free from the disease.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.

No child afflicted with any infectious, contagious, or dangerous disease, will be allowed to attend school, or to be present at any public assembly, or to be in the company of others, until he has been pronounced by a competent medical officer to be free from the disease.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.

No child afflicted with any infectious, contagious, or dangerous disease, will be allowed to attend school, or to be present at any public assembly, or to be in the company of others, until he has been pronounced by a competent medical officer to be free from the disease.

The Correspondent of Toronto has given a number of reasons for thinking that a Legislative Union of the two Provinces is contemplated by the home authorities.

General Jackson attained his 70th year, on the 10th inst.

A large and massive stone building, intended for the banking house of Messrs. Jones, at the corner of Wall and Exchange Streets, New York, fell to the ground on Tuesday morning last.

The fifth and last instalment of the allowed claim of Citizens of United States against France, was brought to New York by the steamer "Plover," and paid to the Bank of America.

The Editor of the "Poughkeepsie Journal" was presented the week before last, with cucumbers, radishes, and tomatoes.

Without affecting to underplay the study of the Greek and Latin classics, we consider the following observations to be strictly just, and deserving the attention of those parents and guardians who may be tempted, in obedience to custom, to compel those under their care to go through all the drudgery of the usual routine of what is called a good and classical education.

It is a mistake of common sense, as well as of experience, says our author, that youths should be educated, not altogether according to the whims of their parents, and according to the notions of their own talents, and according to the notions of their own talents.