A Voice From Halifax.

A Lady Cured by Hawkers Remedies When all Others Failed.

A Well-known Druggist Adds His Testimony to Hers.

Mrs. John J. Holsted, of Halifax, having received wonderful benefit from the use of the Hawkers Remedies, cheerfully gave the following testimonial for publication:

HALIFAX, Oct. 21st, 1893.

I have been greatly benefited by the use of Hawkers' Nerve and Stomach Tonic and Hawkers' Liver Pills. I can truly recommend them as a superior medicine for nerve and stomach trouble. My case was a very severe one of long standing. I had tried doctor's medicines and some patent medicines, with poor results, before using Hawkers'.

Mrs. Holsted, 37 Brunswick St., Halifax, writes as follows:

H. W. Cameron, the well known dispensing chemist at 219 Brunswick St., Halifax, writes as follows:

"I am pleased to state that Mrs. Holsted informed me of the remarkable results produced in her case by the Hawkers' Medicine's preparation."

Volumes of learned treatises on causes, symptoms and cures could not add anything to the force with which these simple statements apply to every sufferer from nerve or stomach trouble.

HAWKERS' NERVE AND STOMACH TONIC is a perfect blood and flesh builder, and nerve and brain invigorator, as well as a valuable aid to digestion. 75c per bottle, 6 bottles $2.50. For sale by all druggists and dealers. If you are weak and run down, try this great health restorer.

JOHN V. ELLIS,

Who Suffered Imprisonment in the York County Jail.

FOR ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Another large crowd had assembled. Another procession was formed here for the purpose of escorting Mr. Ellis to the Mechanics' Institute. The order was as follows:

City Cornet band, under Bandmaster The S. L. U. and other labor societies with torches.

A number of men carrying torches. The 62nd Fusiliers' band in uniform under Bandmaster Jones.

Barouche containing Mr. Ellis and A. O. Skinner.

The employees of the Globe Office.

It was a large turnout, some 700 or 800 being in the procession, which came down Princess to Charlotte, along Charlotte to King, down King to Germain, and to the Institute. The procession was watched and followed by thousands of people. The building was soon filled.

ON THE PLATFORM

was seated John McMillan, C. W. Weldon, Q. T. Rankin, A. I. Jenks, Jas. Hanney, E. J. Wetmore, A. Everett, Conde Deary, Geo. McAvity, Aid T. N. Robertson, Thos. McAvity, E. H. McAlpine, J. T. Hawks, (Moncton), Robt. E. Armstrong, (St. Andrews), J. E. M. Goss, J. J. Tucker, R. R. Ritchie, A. N. Shaw, Col. Donville, Dr. Morrison, Dr. Bruce, G. W. Merritt, Rev. Dr. MacDougall, Aid Smith, Aid McCarthy, Dr. Travers, A. O. Skinner, J. H. Leonard, A. W. Adams, S. S. McAvity, C. F. Skinner, Wm. McLean, Wm. Hall, L. C. Macnutt, (Fredericton), G. King, (Chipman), A. S. Murray, (Fredericton), T. H. Hall, Dr. McAvenny, G. H. Snider, D. B. Warner and many others.

When Mr. Ellis, accompanied by Messrs. Weldon, McAvity, Rankine, McMillan and Everett, walked to the front of the stage, they were greeted by a cheer. On motion of Thos. Rankine, seconded by Arthur Everett, John McMillan was appointed chairman.

Mr. McMillan observed that they were assembled to express their pleasure at once more having Mr. Ellis among his fellow citizens, and to thank him for the part he had taken in the demonstration that he would long live to exhibit as a journalist.

TRUE, MANLY, FEARLESS SPIRIT characterized everything he had written in the past. The chairman then read the following address:

St. John, 13th Nov, 1893.

Dear Sir,—We, members of the liberal party of New Brunswick, beg to congratulate you upon your return to your home and release from imprisonment.

As law-abiding citizens and loyal subjects of our most gracious Queen we are ever ready to maintain and uphold the dignity and authority of her judges and the administration of justice. We feel, however, that the sentence passed upon you, of which the imprisonment was only a part, is of an exceptional character and repugnant to the ideas and feelings of the people of Canada.

As a fearless exponent of wrong, we feel that you did admirable service, not only for one party, but the whole people, in exposing to just opprobrium the conduct of a returning officer by which a defeated candidate was declared to be entitled to a seat in parliament to which his opponent had been elected by the votes of a majority of the electors of the constituency.

We assure you that in your case imprisonment has not been a degradation. On the contrary, you possess to a greater extent than ever the respect and esteem of your political friends. We believe that you will continue in the future, as faithfully and courageously as in the past, to uphold the principles of the liberal party.

With best wishes for the welfare of yourself, Mrs. Ellis and your family.

The address was signed by over one thousand people in various parts of the province.

The applause following the reading of the address was terrific, and it was some time before the chairman could again make himself heard. He said it would take him too long to read all the names accompanying the document, but that the people would be able to read them in the papers.

MR. ELLIS THEN STEPPED TO THE FRONT and was cheered and applauded for several minutes. He said it would be impossible for him to come back to the city in which his home had been for so many years, and receive such a demonstration without having his heart touched to its very depth by such kindly expressions of feeling as had been shown yesterday. He had an address to read, and he had prepared a speech for the occasion, it would vanish from his mind when he saw the enormous gathering before him. Mr. Ellis asked to be allowed to make only a few remarks.

He could only say for himself that in this country a public man or a newspaper writer, he had always upheld the principle of law and order. He had always referred to the people who should have a hand in the political affairs of the country. When the people have spoken, their voice should not be hushed. Once he had spoken of an affair, as he thought, in the interest of the people; but if, at that time he had said stronger words than he should have, it did seem that the banishment of thirty days on bread and water (laughter and applause)—that he had had, had been a degradation.

ENTIRELY TOO SEVERE.

He objected strongly to the mode in which he had been tried. No man knew better than he, how judges should be maintained, but he believed that the judges passed such a sentence upon him, they knew not what they did. They had been groping in the dark and were now, he believed, perhaps sorry for what they had done. He was glad that the address said that his imprisonment had not been a degradation. He did not feel rejoiced over the imprisonment, and he had sons and daughters, and a wife here, who had experienced with him the sorrows of his enforced residence away from home. His first feeling had been, how would the imprisonment affect his wife and children? He was glad that the address said that he would be held in respect by the people who ever loved him all through. He was glad that the address said that he would be held in respect by the people who ever loved him all through. He was glad that the address said that he would be held in respect by the people who ever loved him all through.

Mr. Ellis did not see a possibility of his getting out of the liberal party. He had built his ideas upon that party and felt that they were best fitted to govern the people of Canada. He did not say that the conservative party did not contain as good a class of men as the liberal party, but his hopes were in the liberal party, and he had the people had said he was honest in his convictions. When he had come in the station all thoughts of wharves, and the people fled from him. He had had, he could say, an experience of jail. The one of York was a most excellent one. He was glad to see Deputy

Two Thousand Killed.

Matabeles Make a Desperate Defense Against the British.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A special despatch from Johannesburg to the Pall Mall Gazette says that the Fort Tati column, consisting of 800 Bechuanaland police and a number of Chief Khama's men under commander Raaf, captured Bulawayo on Nov. 5, 4 days after the column had repulsed an attack made upon it by the Matabeles under command of Gumbo, Lobengula's son-in-law, during which engagement Gumbo is reported to have been killed. The dead lay in swaths. The Matabeles fought with desperate fury, but they found it impossible to stand up against the machine guns which laid the dead in swaths upon the field. It was not until 2,000 of the Matabeles were killed that the remaining number of the Impis retreated and allowed their King's capture to fall into the hands of the British.

This is the severest loss yet dealt to the Matabeles, and it is believed Lobengula will now treat for peace.

The British loss was five men killed. Many of the horses of the troopers were shot beneath their riders. The British were killed that the remaining number of the Impis retreated and allowed their King's capture to fall into the hands of the British.

After Bulawayo was captured the place was set on fire and burned to the ground. The magazine, containing the greater part of Lobengula's ammunition, was blown up.

It is reported some of the Matabeles' invaders or commanders, committed suicide after the fight at Shangangani, being impelled thereto by the cowardice shown by their men in the attack on the Lager.

The chiefs along the route to Bulawayo sent presents of cattle and mealies to Dr. Jameson, administrator of the British South Africa Company, who, with the Victoria and Salisbury columns, was marching on Lobengula's kraal when the Tati captured it. Two powerful chiefs beyond the border have joined Chief Khama in aiding the forces of the Charter company.

Despatches from Dr. Jameson have been received from Fort Victoria. They confirm the report that Bulawayo, Lobengula's capital, was captured by the forces of the Charter company. The columns which took the town were commanded by Dr. Jameson and Major Forbes. They had several skirmishes with the Matabeles before the critical battle. When about ten miles from Bulawayo on Nov. 1, they were harassed constantly by Lobengula's warriors. Several attempts were made to surround the columns.

At noon Dr. Jameson and Major Forbes decided to give battle and formed their troops in a lager. The Matabeles, 7,000 strong, accepted the challenge. They attacked furiously, but were held a safe distance by the machine guns. The fight lasted an hour during which the Matabeles kept up a steady, but ineffective rifle fire. They fled in disorder. Mounted men were sent in pursuit, but soon were recalled, as they were unable to do much execution.

The Matabeles left 1,000 dead and wounded on the field. The forces of the Charter company lost three killed and seven wounded, all by rifle shots. During the same afternoon the columns advanced some distance towards Bulawayo and then went into lager. The night passed quietly. Early in the morning of November 2 the columns resumed the march with great caution, but no Matabeles appeared. Bulawayo was found empty, but for a few old people and the white traders Fairbairn and Usher, who were supposed to have been killed by the Matabeles. The traders said they had been well treated.

Bulawayo had been abandoned a week before, after Lobengula had set fire to the huts and exploded the magazine, which contained 80,000 cartridges and 2,500 pounds of powder. The King had been disheartened by the defeat of his warriors at Indimans Mountain but his men insisted upon another encounter.

A despatch from Fort Victoria says that Dr. Jameson has sent Lobengula an ultimatum guaranteeing his safe conduct and good treatment, but that the King had been disheartened by the defeat of his warriors at Indimans Mountain but his men insisted upon another encounter.

ONE THOUSAND LIVES LOST.

Frightful Floods Sweep Through Japanese Provinces.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Steamer China brings news of frightful loss of life and tremendous destruction by the floods in the southern and middle provinces in Japan.

At Toyote the water rose twenty feet and submerged all the houses in the town.

At Minoma the water attained a height of thirty feet, sweeping away many houses. It was still worse in the neighboring prefect of Ekayama where at Kawabe the river rose eighteen feet and broke down a great embankment, carrying away 200 houses.

About 100 persons are unaccounted for. Going northward, the storm beat with violence on the Island of Sado, where it broke to pieces six vessels in the port of Ybiu and nine others at Suiza whereby four seamen lost their lives.

Before going so far northward it touched at Toyamakani and carried away forty-eight houses and broke down the roads at Shing Minato.

At Toyama, eighty houses were carried away and over 1,000 are under water.

The Yoshino river twenty-seven feet from Tokushima Ken. Many houses were demolished and the embankment burst in many places. In Kawabe and in the neighborhood 400 houses were carried away and the fate of over 200 persons is yet uncertain, while a similar number of houses have been swept away at Kubeyi.

At Tanoura in Auzan, a large number of junks and fishing boats were smashed to pieces. Up to the present the reports of the greatest loss of life so far as actually known comes from Futakata Gun, in Hyogo Ken, where a mountain side gave away, burying two villages and killing fifty persons.

At Misumi, in Kumagiketen, nineteen of the houses were damaged and all of the goods of the houses were destroyed. The Yoshino river burst its banks at Oita harbor is half destroyed and a majority of the houses are demolished.

The Tsurugisawa river burst its banks and carried many houses to sea. At Miji twenty-four vessels foundered. Of Tanosawa seven others were wrecked and the crews were seen clinging to the tops and crying for help, but no help could be given as they sank into the sea. At least one thousand lives were lost.

THE WITNESS.

The Montreal Witness is now offering the remainder of the present year free to new subscribers for next year as an encouragement to give that valuable paper a trial. The Witness, both weekly and daily, has, during the year, adopted what it declares to be the model form, with neat, convenient pages, being enabled by the possession of one of the most complete printing presses ever built by the City of New York, to vary the number of pages at will. The paper enters the press at two places, on rolls broad or narrow as required, and the newspapers come out at lightning speed, pasted and cut. Besides the improvement in form, there is a remarkable improvement in typography, the type being set by the wonderful Linotype machine, which attains the speed of five men, and casts a new type face every time. The proprietors invite visitors to Montreal to see these machines. The picture element has so greatly developed in the Witness, that it may now be fairly called an illustrated paper. The Witness has moved to the busiest corner in Montreal, the junction of Bleury and St. Peter streets with Craig street, and has a spacious building there which is in some respects as fine a newspaper office as is anywhere to be seen. The price of the DAILY WITNESS is three dollars, and of the WEEKLY WITNESS one dollar, while the little penny paper, the MESSAGER, costs only thirty cents.
