The London Free Press has the cheek to accuse Mr. Mowat of stirring up a quarrel with the Dominion, because he insists upon preserving Ontario's rights under the Boundary Award intact. The party who stirred up the quarrel was Sir John Macdonald when he refused to abide by the unanimous award of the arbitrators, and did all in his power to rob Ontario of a slice of valuable territory. The boot is on the other foot, Mr. Free Press. Mr. Mowat is merely defending this Province from robbery, and every honest citizen of Ontario ought to back him up in defence of their rights. - Sarnia Observer.

He was a bachelor about sixty years of age. When the murder was committed a nephew, named John Smith, about 14 years of age, was with The boy's story is, that his uncle himself sat by the fire after tea, when he heard a report either of a gun or pistol, and the old man fell. He looked towards the window, and saw a tall man with dark moustache. The boy immediately started for the door, when the man fired at him, the ball passing through the top of his hat. The boy ran for his life, and looking back saw the house on fire. The boy alarmed the neighbors, and on returning they found the old man dead and partially burned. The old gentleman was reputed wealthy, and robbery was no doubt the incentive to the murder. No clue.
