

"BEAVER" FLOUR

Is both a Bread Flour and a Pastry Flour

The perfect flour is the one that combines the good qualities of Ontario and Western wheat. This is exactly what "Beaver" Flour does. It is a blend of best Ontario fall wheat with a little Western wheat to add strength. "Beaver" Flour is equally good for Bread and Pastry—it has the real home made flavor that western flours lack. Which Was Right?

bearing and child raising; the father escapes from this unattractive home by spending his evenings in a saloon.

In the other family, that of Mr. and Mrs. B., the number of children has been purposely confined to one. He is well bred and manly; Mr. and Mrs. B. are devoted to each other, enjoy life and do much good outside the home.

Which, my friend asked, is the better way?

Not being able to solve this question I passed it on to my readers.

Below are some of their opinions:

"Will you let me make a suggestion with regard to the problem?" writes one man. "It appears to me that your friend answers your own question when she says that Mr. A.'s aim seems to be to get away from his wife and children as much as possible in order to pass away the time in a saloon or hotel bar-room, and that Mrs. A. has no charms for him.

"A man with a good wife and seven children, who prefers a saloon to his home is lacking in manhood, and a problem that includes such a man and the family fathered by such a man, and makes the comparison with some other man and his family is no problem. We all know men who are failures, some with families, others without. We all know families where there are a large number of children who are all manly little fellows, and we also know families where there is but one child and he an incorrigible. If Mr. A. can be cured of the saloon habit and taught that true pleasure is to be found in the company of his family, I think your problem will be solved."

This is a good letter, but it seems to me he rather side-steps the real issue. This lady is more straightforward:

"My answer to your question," she writes, "would be just one little sentence in favour of the poor drudge: 'She did the will of her Father, and what does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his immortal soul?'"

"The first woman, no doubt, was not looking for her reward in this world."

Quite as firm in the opposite opinion is this correspondent:

"In line with your article in this morning's paper, permit me to suggest that Mrs. B., who brought one lone child into the world and who, after fifteen years of married life, still held her husband's love, is the woman worthy of respect. Give me the woman every time who refuses to permit marriage to make a drudge of her."

As usual, there were so many excellent contributions to the symposium that I could not condense them into one day's space. Please let me use to-morrow's.

A Hundred Hundreds.

The record which Dr. W. G. Grace held of being the only batsman who has scored one hundred centuries in first-class cricket was equalled recently when, at Kennington Oval, Tom Hayward earned the right to be classed with the great Gloucestershire cricketer by a three-figure innings against Lancashire.

Old Tom—old, that is, in a cricketing sense, for he is now forty-two years of age—has stuck at ninety-nine for a considerable time, and it is curious that he should reach the height of his ambition against the county which provided him with his record score—the 315 not out he put together in 1898.

It was in 1895 that Dr. Grace completed his hundred centuries, and he was then forty-seven years of age. Since that time, of course, he scored a further twenty-six hundred, and probably his is a record which will stand for all time.

Hayward, of course, has his own record achievements, such as scoring the highest aggregate in 1903 of 3,518 runs, with an average of 66.27, and his name will long remain a household word in the cricket world.

Three times he has scored two separate hundreds in one match. Two instances by the Surrey man in 1906 occurred in one week—a feat unparalleled in first-class matches, and in the season of 1899 he scored three successive hundreds.

His partnerships with Hobbs, too, have been wonderful, and in 1908 the pair accomplished a performance without equal by making over 100 together for the first wicket of Surrey four times in one week. In 1908, too, they made over 100 together for the first wicket of Surrey on three successive occasions within the space of five days.

It is worth noting that C. B. Fry, has ninety-two hundreds to his credit; J. T. Tyldesley seventy-seven, Abel seventy-four, and the Jam Sahib seventy-two.

Kitchener's Mistake.

Although Lord Kitchener, who recently celebrated his sixty-third birthday, is sometimes claimed as an Irishman by reason of his having been born in County Kerry, he is of English parentage, his father, who was a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Army, hailing from Leicestershire and his mother from Suffolk.

"K. of K." is unmarried, but it would perhaps be a mistake to describe him as a "confirmed" or "hopeless" bachelor, inasmuch as when his patent of peerage as a Viscount was made out it was so drawn, presumably with his approval, that the succession to the title should be firstly to any son that he may have, secondly to any daughter, and only in the third alternative to his elder brother, who at present stands in the position of heir-presumptive.

Here, by the way, is a story of a rare occasion on which Lord Kitchener has given himself away. Lord K. has a great faculty by which he is able to size a man up at a glance. Shortly after DeWet fell like an avalanche on Lord Roberts's communications in the South African War Lord K. was down the line fitting out extempore mounted infantry columns. A large number of details had been dumped down at Vrededorp Road Station. Lord K. determined to equip and send them into the field at once. He went to the waiting-room to look for officers, and found a single man in occupation. He was smart and well-dressed, and pleased Lord K.'s critical eye.

"You will command a corps of mounted infantry I've just raised," said the general.

"Very good, sir; what will my duties be?"

"Don't you know your duties?"

"My own—yes, sir."

"Then don't argue. What is your regiment?"

"Blankshire, sir."

"What rank?"

"Master tailor, sir!"

His Plan Bears Fruit.

Dr. Roddick Sees Consumption of His Dream—Widely-Known Doctor, Who Has Laboured for Years to Place Medical Professions of the Various Canadian Provinces on an Equal Footing, Has Completed His Work—Old Provincial Troubles at an End.

The delegates who attended the first Dominion Medical Council at Ottawa recently were enthusiastic in their praise of Dr. T. G. Roddick, of Montreal, and the success of the first annual session of the new body.

Dr. Roddick is the man who bore the burden of the big fight to bring about general medical registration for the Dominion. The subject has been for him one of steady and persistent work for years and his efforts have at last been brilliantly crowned with success. Now he has succeeded in obtaining a universal standard of medical examination for the Dominion of Canada, and what is more important, he has induced the various provincial medical boards to co-operate and work in harmony with the Dominion board.

He took up this fight several years ago, when he was a member in the House of Commons for the St. Antoine division of Montreal. He got the federal Parliament to pass a law establishing a Dominion Licensing Board with the consent of the various provinces. These licenses are to hold good in any part of Canada. This bill passed the Parliament in 1912. Since then Dr. Roddick has energetically devoted himself to winning over the medical bodies in the provinces and now registration lists for medical men will be opened, qualifying them for the whole Dominion. Examinations for the purpose will be held at Montreal Oct. 7.

All Canadian physicians in any province of ten years' standing will be registered on payment of a fee of $100 without examination. New doctors by passing the examinations of the new Dominion board will be qualified to practice anywhere in the Dominion. The change marks an epoch in the medical history of the Dominion and is considered a great stride forward as far as medical men were subjected to much inconvenience and annoyance on account of the petty provincial spirit displayed in regard to medical practice in Canada. Thanks to Dr. Roddick and his co-laborers, this grievance will disappear.

In recognition of his invaluable service in this cause the medical men of the Dominion have made Dr. Roddick president of the new medical council of Canada.

Editor Evening Telegram.

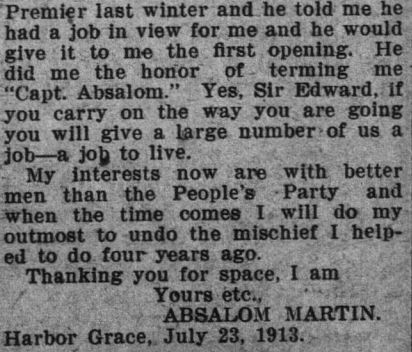

Dear Sir,—Permit me once again to say a few words about our Roads, Road Board and the general political situation here. Some person may be inclined to think that I know very little about the political situation, but I can assure you and them that I do. We, sir, the roads in this neighborhood is the first thing I have to mention. A writer in last week's Standard told us that the roads about here were never better. I was surprised to see such a statement in the Standard, as it is a well known fact that that statement is false. I have seen a few men employed on the roads about here lately, but instead of putting gravel on the roads, the old custom of cleaning off the road bed is resorted to. Even rakes are used now-a-days to repair roads. Morris (Sir Edward I should say) promised us the opportunity of electing our own Road Board, but when a petition to that effect was signed by a large number of voters and presented to the House it was ignored and thrown in the waste paper basket. It is not necessary to say that not one voter who signed that ignored petition will vote for a Morris man at the coming election. The Chairman of the Road Board must have felt the blood rush to his face as he read that false letter in the Standard last week. The writer signs himself Pro Bono Publico, but he must be after some job or he never would give such taffy to people who did not deserve it. The steam ferry on the harbour is still an unfulfilled promise. The South Side people who are the greatest sufferers will remember this, particularly on polling day.

I, myself, was promised something good, and was put off from time to time. I received a letter from the Premier last winter and he told me he had a job in view for me and he would give it to me the first opening. He did me the honor of terming me "Capt. Absalom." Yes, Sir Edward, if you carry on the way you are going you will give a large number of us a job—a job to live.

My interests now are with better men than the People's Party and when the time comes I will do my utmost to undo the mischief I helped to do four years ago.

Thanking you for space, I am
Yours etc.,
ABSALOM MARTIN.
