THE TARIFF.

The tariff as it has been padded out and the rates increased during the nearly three year regime of the present Government, who, it will be remembered, went to the country with the insincere cry of reduced duties, is an important factor in the lives of Newfoundlanders, which must neither be forgotten, nor permitted to be winked out of sight, when the time comes round for a consideration and discussion of its demerits—it has no merits—by the electorate. A commission of sorts was appointed by the Executive last spring to go over the whole revision of the tariff, but so far as can be learned, instructions have been issued that instead of going over it, the members of the Commission are, to walk very warily around it, and to handle it as delicately as possible, in order that the ratings may be brought up to a standard which instead of a reduction will make for a further increase. There is no necessity for emphasising this point, for it will be remembered that Premier Squires when introducing the Budget at the recent session of the House, estimated the revenue for the year ending June 30, 1923 to be $8,903,000, an increase over the actually collected revenue of 1921-22 of fifty thousand dollars. For the same fiscal period, his estimate of expenditure was in the vicinity of $8,850,000, a sum which has possibly been augmented by emergency expenditure for which no provision was made in this estimate, but which nevertheless will have to be found somewhere, and if it is not taxed on the people directly, it will come out of their pockets in some other way by processes known to the present Government, and improved on by them in the way of surtax, super tax and sales tax, all of which have tended to place a far greater burden of taxation on the consumer than any government in Newfoundland had ever imposed. And now, it is said, the orders to the Tariff Commission are specific. In effect they are that in the revision it must not be forgotten or left out of consideration that no matter what happens, the rearrangement or readjustment of the rates and items must be so made that revenue will have to meet expenditure as estimated, plus emergency allocations for such public works as been ordered by the department controlling the same, or by the Ministers who are said to be the real powers behind the acting Premier. It will be well for the people to watch closely the deliberations of the Tariff Commission and their ultimate report. The responsibilities of finance that have to be shouldered by the quarter million of people in this Colony are greater in proportion than those of any country in the Empire. Sir Richard Squires was most eloquent and vigorous in his condemnation of the tariff as it was in 1919 and previously. Has he lessened it? Nay rather has this modern Rehoboth piled on still more. In effect he has said since he assumed office almost three years ago, to slightly misquote the words of that tyrannical king of Israel, "and now whereas my predecessors did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my predecessors chastised you with tariff whips, but I will chastise you with tariff scorpions." Let the taxpayers think it over.

AGUS DIARY.
Aug. 26.—Aris much talk of an election in the fall, and a scribe in the Telegram sheet will have it so, but this, to my mind, naught save idle gossip, nor will there be an election till the next year. I did wait upon Mr. Jennings in the Public Works office, and he welcomes me from my trip and would have me tell him some thing of it. I learn from him how times will be mighty had in the North next winter, nor can anything be done to prevent it. So to the Board of Trade where Mr. McKay discourses on his silver mine, and will have all believe it to be worth millions, which I hope is true, but he ever an optimistic fellow. To rest all the day being weary from the lack of sleep. Aug. 27. (Lord's Day).—I to Top-sail and did twice baths in the sea, but the water mighty cold and I chilled to the marrow almost. Many people there for the day, and indeed, more than I have seen this long time. My wife greatly discontented, and would have me leave the place betimes, but this I would not do, nor shall it be said of me, that I am such a weak fellow, that I must obey my wife's commands in all things, as is the custom among married men to-day.

REG. DOWDEN,

Open Letter to City Councillors.

Gentlemen:
I have been following the proceedings of the public meetings of the City Council hoping to find some expressive opinion on the House Building Proposition submitted by Mr. Collishaw, but so far there is no indication that you intend even to seriously consider the merits or demerits of the proposal. As one who is interested in the proposition and who hopes to take advantage of the same should be realized, I think that in justice to the citizens, especially those who want comfortable and clean workmen's houses, you should at least analyze the offer of Mr. Collishaw and if you turn it down give the public, whom you represent, your reasons for doing so. I appeal specially to Councillors Outerbridge and Dowden, young men who are supposed to represent and embody progressive ideas of the city. In the past we had too many ultra-conservative old men in the Council who had not the spirit and the courage to undertake bold progressive measures in harmony with the times as regards civic improvements in streets and houses. Now we have some young men in the Council including yourselves, who are supposed to have new ideas as to what constitutes a well governed and a clean city and the public are counting on you to put into execution the ability which they credited you with when they elected you to office as City Councillors imbued with up to date ideas in civic matters. Are you going to be true to the trust reposed in you by the people? Are you going to be true to the promises made before you were elected? This is the day of the young man. The young men are successfully handling the big problems of business, finance and government the world over. They are not afraid to be progressive. It is to young men the world looks to-day for a bold solution of her problems. It is to you, therefore, the public of St. John's are looking to take up a bold campaign for a cleaner and better governed city. The proposition of Mr. Collishaw to build 100 houses for workmen is one that you cannot afford to ignore without losing the esteem and confidence of the people, especially those who want better houses and a city cleared of slum habitations. The public will certainly expect that if you do not advocate this building proposition, you will at least study it and analyze it as a cold business offer and that having done this, if you turn it down you will give your reasons publicly for doing so. If you are believers in the scheme and are held back by your associates, you should at once let the public know. There is a way open to you then which I have much pleasure indicating, viz., to call a public meeting and invite all who want a cleaner city and better houses and you will, I venture to say, be both pleased and surprised at the result. However, whatever may be the result, you two Councillors will have done your duty. If you do not get a big endorsement why then let the proposition drop. I claim, however, that the public will back you once you get them to understand this building proposition clearly. Now, gentlemen, what are you going to do about it? We want houses and you have been preaching houses. It is now up to you.

Our Gallant Fire Brigade

Among the good and brave men Who surely die to save men, There is a class of heroes most worthy of renown.
Courageous and most true men, Prepared to "dare-and-do" men, Who night and day are ready to protect our native town.

When they're put to the test men East, Central, and West, men You'll find that they're undaunted, and of terror unafraid.
None either that we know, men Have in them as much "go," men Among our high or low, men, as our gallant fire brigade.

Their fall is long and dreary In winter cold and weary, They're often called at midnight when all folks have gone to bed. They rush in buildings burning, They don't take any sleeping.
To see that to great danger, now this noble band are wed.

Long life to one and all men, They're ready for the call, men, For fighting the cruel fire, men, A glorious name they've made.
Inspector "Charlie H." men Everyone, and each man, I tell you he's a peach man, in our gallant fire brigade.
