No need to worry about coal strikes if your home is heated with a "Sunshine" Furnace.

By placing our patented wood grate over the coal grate it will burn wood or coke and give as perfect satisfaction as with coal—also saves starting a coal fire in spring and fall when a wood fire will take the chill off the house in a few minutes.

Feed-doors are double and extra large—will admit rough chunks.

Radiator is made of heavy steel plate and encloses the dome in such a way that it leaves a wide space between the two for the circulation of air and gives an immense radiating surface.

LONDON PICTURE SALE.

Many Famous Paintings Were Sold at Auction.

London, July 12.—The collection of pictures and watercolors of the late George Guernsey was sold at Christie's Saturday afternoon. Fifty-one lots of watercolors and drawings were sold for £2,900. The best price realized was £250 for a small Turner. A pair of drawings by Landseer brought only 30 shillings. Among the pictures sold was Sir Joshua Reynolds' "Portrait of the Marquis of Tavistock," which brought £1,207, a Gainsborough portrait, which sold for £1,029, Millais' "Diana Vernon," which went for £551, and Raeburn's excellent portrait of James Byers, which was taken at £520. Sir Joshua Reynolds' "Portrait of Lady Stanhope" was sold after many had left the rooms, for £157 10s.

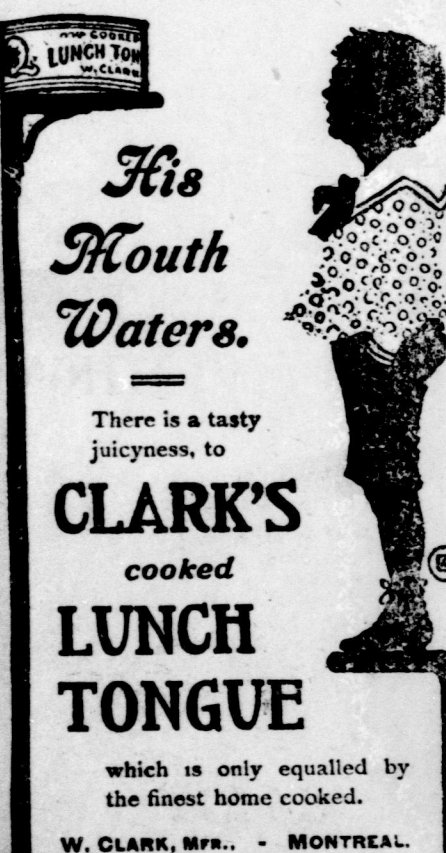

Living Girl in Coffin.

Berlin, July 12.—When a coffin supposed to contain the body of a 14-year-old girl, was delivered at the cemetery at Altona Saturday, the attendants heard cries emanating from the coffin.

The lid was removed and the girl was found still alive. She died two hours later.

Murderous Italians.

New York, July 14.—John Boland, driver for the International Packing Company, ran foul of a number of Italians in Brooklyn yesterday and was stabbed to death by one of the foreigners. The stabbing created a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood, for the reason that it was on the same block earlier in the day that two shooting affrays, in which two Italians were wounded, took place.

Question of a Permanent Pavement for King Street.

Petition Before Council, With Counter-Petition Possible—The Cost.

The question of a permanent pavement for King street, from Matfield street west to Wellington street, was brought before the city council at its next regular meeting on Monday evening. A petition for a pavement was now in the hands of the assessment commissioner, and it is said that an examination of it shows that it is sufficiently signed. It contains the signatures of 60 owners in the four blocks interested. That Mr. McMechan, who strongly opposed the last move for a pavement and threatened legal proceedings if the work was proceeded with, does not appear on the document. On the contrary, it is alleged, that Mr. McMechan is now endeavoring to secure a petition against the work.

The last petition was not acted upon, even though it was supposed to be sufficiently signed, because the city authorities did not desire to get into a legal tangle over the matter. Care is said to have been taken in the preparation of the new petition to leave no room for a legal quibble, such as existed in regard to the other one.

The city engineer has written a letter to the ratepayers to effect that the cost of the work will not exceed $2.20 a square foot, with a ten-year guarantee.

LONDON MOSQUITO PEST

Suburbs of the Metropolis Almost Uninhabitable.

London, July 14.—Life is becoming a burden too hard to be borne in the suburbs of London bordering upon the Lower Thames by reason of the plague of mosquitoes. All the inhabited places adjacent to the docks and the Thames marsh ground at Woolwich, Greenwich, and even the high and wholesome land towards Blackheath are groaning under the common incubus. To sit in a garden in the cool of the evening is to invite an attack. An evening walk in Bostal Wood is a torment, and a stroll across the soft grass of the Richmond Park twilight falls results in swollen ankles from the stings of mosquitoes, brushed from their resting places. They can sting through thick cycling stockings.

After dusk the streets positively are unsafe because of the lifting mosquito hordes. In Eastham Hospital they are obliged to cover the beds with muslin curtains, a thing hitherto unknown here.

During the long, hot night little children toss their arms outside the curtains, and before morning they are suffering from their hands and feet, which are inflamed, and with scratching the tender skin comes to the verge of erysipelas. Some of the nurses' hands are swollen like puddings.
