A BIG SUCCESS

Not a Vacant Seat in Chatham Opera House-Great Hit By Local Talent.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Chatham, Nov. 20 .- When the curtain arose on the long-heralded Baseball Minstrel Show last evening, the performers-some thirty in numberfaced an audience that was representative or every good class of people in Chatham. There was not a vacant seat in the house, and it is a big one. The audience were confronted with the spectacle of a typical minstrel scene, with red plush curtain for an effective background to a wholly artistic setting. Grouped in true minstrel fashion were 45 or 50 men and boys who, under the guidance of Mr. Holly Shepard, had in an incredibly short space of time, mastered, and mastered efficently (as the large audience were bound to admit) every essential that goes to make a minstrel show a success. The performers were seated in a group of four tiers, one above the Toronto Varsity Teachers Opposed as other, with ten people in each row. In the top row were the youngsters, all wearing white flannel shirts and black ties. The second tier was filled by part of the chorus. The occupants of these seats were arrayed in gorgeous colors and looked very effective. In the lower tier sat the remaining members of the company, all in evening dress, in the midst of whom was Mr. O. L. Lewis, K. C., who acted in a manner that would reflect no discredit on a Lew Dockstader, as interlocutor. The opening number was taken by Roy Glassford, assisted by the boys' chorus. Then followed a number of

WOULD BAR PROFESSORS

Examiners in Medicine.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—There was warm discussion at the Ontario Medical Council this morning on the subject as to who should act as examiners for the council. For some time past there has been more or less feeling on this question. A number of speakers this morning said they were opposed to professors of the University of Toronto acting in the capacity songs, all very good. Especially good named. Finally a resolution was passwas Earl Kimberly in his song, "Things ed which it was thought would meet the views of most interested. It was to the effect that no teachers shall be eligible for appointment as examiner in the subject, which he teaches, but Will Wilson and a capable chorus were these restrictions shall not apply to
