

ULSTER REPRESENTATIVES MAY BE CALLED INTO CONFERENCE

Irish Republicans Are Firm in Stand That Sir James Craig Has Forfeited Right To Participate in Negotiations — De Valera Meeting Prominent Leaders in the Irish Movement Today.

London, July 16.—Resumption of the conference between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Eamon de Valera, Irish republican leader, was not planned for today, it having been announced that the next meeting would occur on Monday. Discussions they would have with advisers during the day, however, might, it was believed, have an important bearing on the future progress of the negotiations begun on Thursday and continued yesterday.

Mr. de Valera remained at his hotel here, and was expected to meet prominent Irish leaders during the day. The prime minister went to his country home at Chequers Court for the weekend, but did not look forward to any material relaxation of the strain of the last week. It was said he had been conferred in private with many prominent members of the British cabinet and men who had taken a leading part in the conduct of Irish affairs.

It would appear that the discussions between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. de Valera have developed the subject of a future tripartite conference between the Irish republicans, representatives of the British government, and the Ulster Unionists. It was stated the republicans looked upon the presence of Ulster, definite propositions. Sir James was escorted by Mr. Lloyd George yesterday after Mr. de Valera had left Downing street, and it became known later that several members of the Ulster cabinet had been called to London.

Against Craig's Participation.

Belief was expressed in responsible quarters that Sir James wished to consult his colleagues before committing himself as to certain phases of the situation that have developed as a result of the postponement of the conference until Monday looked upon as significant of danger to the future of the negotiations. In fact, there seemed last night to be a relaxation of the tension which prevailed on Thursday and Friday, and the impression gained was that, while the situation had lost none of its delicacy, some progress had been made.

A statement issued at Mr. de Valera's headquarters during the evening appeared to reflect the determination of the Irish republicans not to meet Sir James Craig, at least for the time being. It was indicated he had forfeited his right to enter the conference by refusing to meet the Irish republicans at Dublin, although South Irish Unionists had availed themselves of the chance to take over matters with the republicans. It was stated the republicans looked upon the presence of Ulster, definite propositions. Sir James was escorted by Mr. Lloyd George yesterday after Mr. de Valera had left Downing street, and it became known later that several members of the Ulster cabinet had been called to London.

NAVAL QUESTION TO BE SHELVED BY PREMIERS

Calling of Washington Conference Changes Plans.

MEIGHEN TO RETURN

Canadian Premier To Sail For Home On Thursday Next.

London, July 16.—(By Grattan O'Leary, Canadian Press staff correspondent.)—As a result of the informal discussions the last few days, the naval question will be shelved by the conference of British prime ministers. This course has been urged by Premier Meighen from the beginning and its adoption has been rendered inevitable by the decision to have the disarmament conference at Washington. It is probable that some form of resolution will be passed, but it will have no relation to policy, or any contemplated action, and it will commit the respective dominions to nothing.

It is not at all improbable that the question of the time and date for the discussion of other matters in connection with the proposed constitutional conference will be left in abeyance. The Canadian Press is in a position to state that this is the view held by at least two Dominion premiers, both of whom, it is known, have subscribed to the resolution of 1917 urging the holding of a constitutional conference as soon as possible after the war.

Smuts Opposed.

The argument they now use is that in a state of flux, the question of devising machinery suitable to the changed status of the Empire with its attendant danger of throwing the whole question into the vortex of domestic politics, can safely be delayed. In a word, their position is to leave well enough alone.

It is known that Gen. Smuts strongly disagrees with this view. In the last general election in South Africa he practically pledged himself to secure certain reforms. However, as only a few days more remain before the conference concludes its work, the probability of anything concrete being decided appears to be exceedingly remote.

Premier Meighen will sail for Canada on Thursday next. If the Pacific conference is held here—which now seems likely—he will return for it. If, on the other hand, it is held in Washington, he will attend it there. Today (Saturday) the Canadian premier goes to Cardiff, Wales, to visit friends, and on Monday he will be in Edinburgh to receive the honorary degree from the university.

BIG WASHOUT ON L., H. AND B.

Top—Washout at old wooden culvert on London, Huron and Bruce branch of G. T. R., three miles south of Hensall, which help up trains for two days this week.

Bottom—Temporary trestle work erected on Huron and Bruce branch of Grand Trunk, between Hensall and Exeter, following washout Sunday evening. The receding waters can be seen in the foreground. More than 60 carloads of gravel will be required to fill in this big washout.

ALBERTA FARMERS STRONGLY OPPOSED TO PARTY SYSTEM

Want More Democratic Control of Government Affairs.

CAMPAIGN NEARS END

Provincial Elections Taking Place On Monday.

Calgary, Alta., July 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—The provincial election campaign in Alberta comes to a close tonight and on Monday the electors go to the polls to choose sixty men and women who will constitute the next legislature, with Premier Charles Stewart returned unopposed for Sedgwick. There are no deferred elections. There are fifty-two constituencies, the large cities, Calgary and Edmonton, each being allowed five members and Medicine Hat two. All others are one-member ridings.

Unusual interest in the election has been created by the presence in force of official candidates of the United Farmers of Alberta. Forty-four U. F. A. candidates are contesting as many constituencies, and the organization is prepared to accept the responsibilities of administration should it command a majority in the new House.

The U. F. A. is in opposition to the Liberal Government of Hon. Charles Stewart, on matters of political principle which are held by the leaders of the farmers' movement to be vital. The Conservatives, who are running full slates in Calgary and Edmonton and have a few other candidates, attack the government's record and point to its alleged extravagance and its alleged unfairness to the cities in taxation as reasons why it should be defeated.

Promises of Government.

The government points to its administrative record with pride in the accomplishments of recent years; promises to continue development of live stock and agricultural industries; suggests the early establishment of a department of labor under a deputy minister, and congratulates itself on the outlook for settlement of the demand of western provinces for the return of their natural resources by the Federal Government.

There is a Labor ticket in Calgary and Edmonton, and some Labor candidates elsewhere and a considerable number of assorted independents.

In the absence of W. H. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, H. Higginbotham, general secretary of that organization, was asked by the Canadian Press today to define the issue which divide the Stewart Government and the United Farmers of Alberta.

"What is on trial in this election," he said, "is the political party system. It is identical the same in Medicine Hat. The United Farmers of Alberta believe that the political party system is obsolete and that a more democratic and more representative method of control of our political institutions is introduced with the organization of the people into economic groups according to their predominant interests. Farmers and Labor groups already are organized and clearly grasp and thoroughly understand this principle. The opponents of economic group organization urge that it is selfish. We state that we organize as an economic group because that is the only permanent basis upon which society can be organized. All other interests lack permanence and therefore lack stability as a political organization."

CIRCUS CAMEL SUCCEUMS TO HEAT PROSTRATION

Died During Journey From Toronto to London.

When the Sells-Floto circus arrived here early Thursday morning employees discovered that one of the camels had succumbed to heat prostration, the cramped quarters of the car in which the animal was transported being an added factor in causing death.

The dead camel was a veteran of the circus menagerie, and his remains were turned over to the London Fertilizer works for final disposal.

CIVIL SERVICE EMPLOYEES TO ENTER STRONG PROTEST AGAINST THE DISMISSALS

Claim Sir George Foster Has Tried To "Pass the Buck" To Three Different Departments — Griffenhagen Experts Only Used As Camouflage—Age Is Not Basis of the Proposed Discharges.

Word reached London today that of a determined action is expected by the Civil Service Employees' Association of Canada in protest to the wholesale and indiscriminate dismissals, which are, presumably, based upon the recommendations of the now famous Griffenhagen Company, Chicago, efficiency experts.

A True Ottawa.

As detailed reports of the ruthless slaughter throughout the country are being recorded the nature and scope of the endeavor of the economical commission becomes more apparent. Sir George Foster, in a dispatch from Ottawa Friday, disclaims all connection with the dismissals, and neatly, with all the characteristics of a true Ottawa, "passes the apular buck" to be handled by anyone or all of three suspects—the civil service commission, the departmental heads and, of course, the Griffenhagen associates.

Do Not Bear Seal.

At the time the changes were about to be placed into effect a report was issued by Ottawa that any dismissals to occur would be without the approving seal of the American firm. That such procedure has resulted is denied by civil servants from Windsor to the Atlantic, and they are highly incensed because, as they aver, the civil service commission, with Griffenhagens admirably situated just to the left of the executive block (in an advisory capacity) is continuing with its work, completely ignoring the heads of the different offices throughout the country. That the latter should be in the better position to place a value on their employees is claimed.

Age Spares None.

It develops further that evidently age spares no one. In several cases, in some of the eastern offices, many of the younger employees have been dismissed.

Among the more prominent clerks to be let out in Ottawa during the past week are Miss Casgrain and Mrs. McKay (formerly Miss Casgrain), both former residents of Windsor.

Wage-Earning Children Must Contribute Part To Mothers' Support

Effect of New Clause in Mothers' Allowance Act—Children Residing At A Distance From Parent Are, However, Exempted.

That children who are earning wages are only morally bound to support their parents, without being compelled to do so, was a fact brought out at the court of revision, which heard appeals from Ward 3 at the city hall last night. This matter was discussed during hearings of appeals against statute labor tax, on the ground that aged parents are supported by the appellant.

Major T. J. Murphy, a member of the court, who is also a member of the Mothers' Allowance Commission for the Province of Ontario, pointed out during the session that children of mothers in receipt of allowances, who are earning wages, must contribute a percentage of such wages to their mother's support, otherwise no allowance will be granted.

This is a new clause in the mothers' allowance act, and such stipulation is conditional that the children are residing with or in the same municipality as the mother concerned. It is not compulsory if the children reside at a distance from the mother.

Major Murphy will attend a meeting of the Mothers' Allowance Commission of Ontario, to be held in Toronto next week, when some important changes in regulations will be made, he declared to The Advertiser today.

ROBINS GET 'STEWED' ON HOME BREW

Sparrows Also Enjoy Some of Forbidden Refreshment.

Home brew is good stuff at times, and when it sends all the robins and sparrows in the neighborhood on a flying jag it is not time to quit. At least, that is the opinion of a south end resident who recently experimented on "making good" by a very amateur brewer obtained a recipe with a reputation to kick with all-fours, from a friend, and proceeded to make up a mash, with raisins as one of the principal ingredients.

However, unfortunately for fortune, according to members of his household, the home brew soured, and the violator of the Ontario temperance act dumped the mash into one corner of his yard, before proceeding to work Monday last.

Within a few hours his wife noted that several birds in the yard were acting peculiarly. Two sparrows were seen sprawling on the ground attempting in vain to rise to their feet, while another not quite so unsteady attempted to rise several times, but could not take off properly.

Under the impression that she was seeing to confirm her suspicions, and other members of the family to the scene to confirm her suspicions, and investigation further revealed a robin turning somersaults in the mash, while a companion was seen attempting a similar feat on the clothesline near by.

In a few moments more birds joined the happy throng, and feasted on the raisins. They also performed many interesting stunts, such as "flying in circles," bumping into the fence, and trees blindly, and turning flips in the air. Some greedy ones became absolutely "paralyzed," and fell blinking to the ground, unable to rise. A neighbor's cat, whom the spectators chased away ere he, too, fell a victim to the potency of the home brew.

Finally the entire mash was consumed, and the birds, who were still in evidence for hours, when he returned at noon, and he now regrets that he threw away the kicking powder. A new mash was made up, and according to latest reports is working overtime. The birds, which are said to be hanging round a certain backyard fence corner in large numbers, will not even smell "the extra raisin" in this one.

MRS. KABER FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Will Be Sentenced To Life Imprisonment.

Cleveland, July 16.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber was today found guilty of murder in the first degree, but with a recommendation of mercy, by the jury which tried her, on a charge of plotting the killing of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber. Under the verdict, Mrs. Kaber must serve the remainder of her life in prison.

THEATRE WILL CONTRIBUTE SHARE OF ITS TAXES TO LOCAL SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Court of Revision Grants Appeal of Roman Catholic Shareholders.

That Roman Catholic stockholders in Loew's Theatre here, represented in amount of cash or shares, are just two and three-fifths of the total shareholders, was a fact disclosed at a sitting of the court of revision Friday night when this percentage of the assessment on this building was ordered to be transferred to the support of the separate schools of this city.

Loew's Theatre is assessed for $365,275, of which $250,000 is on the building, with $2,500 business tax, $34,000 is on the theatre front, and $8,000 business tax on this portion. Of this total assessment the taxes on approximately $2,275.15 will be devoted to support of local separate schools as a result of the decision of the court. The appeal sustained was entered by Roman Catholic stockholders of the theatre.

Chamber of Commerce To Co-operate With Ontario Immigration Department

Local Employers Will Be Asked To Avoid Taking of Prospective Farm Hands Into Factories.

Prompt action obviously has been the outcome of the meeting on Friday afternoon between Gordon Philip, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and John Farrell, the London representative of the Ontario department of immigration.

In pursuance of his outline to better facilitate the disposition in Western Ontario of new arrivals from the British Isles, Mr. Farrell consulted the chamber of commerce with a view toward closer co-operation between the big employers of the community and the immigration department. Citing two very recent cases, the government representative emphasized one of the serious handicaps to complete success in his department. After completing arrangements for the placing of two men, just arrived from the old land, Mr. Farrell pointed out that as time passed the farmer reported that they had not arrived. Upon inquiry at different local factories, however, they were finally located.

Employers Co-operate.

On being made conversant, however, with the real state of affairs, the management of the factory in question on Friday afternoon intimated that a number of companies that the matter would receive instant consideration. Other of the big employers in the city, Mr. Philip asserts, will be asked to co-operate, as far as possible, as the government official suggested, so that strict attention shall be paid to the identity of prospective employees.

That such action will have any appreciable effect generally is not the opinion of the secretary of the chamber of commerce. "We shall certainly ask the employers to exercise the utmost judgment in their selection of applicants for work. It is the primary intention naturally that immigrants coming out for farm work be handled through the local government office and placed with farmers. Following my conversation with Mr. Farrell, however, I have been in touch with the firm in question which employed the two men referred to, and I have been assured that this matter will be forthwith considered."

Make Investigation.

Within the next few weeks the chamber of commerce has made certain investigations relative to a couple of cases, one in particular which was mentioned by The Advertiser. This was the case of the experienced millwright from Liverpool who related the case with which he had satisfied the immigration officials in that report. We made a report of the matter to the federal authorities at Ottawa. It developed that the man in question was in fact a Greek, and that he had been assured that this matter will be forthwith considered."

PARISIANS ARE SURPRISED AT LONDON ENTERPRISE

Officials of Paris, Ont., Make Study of Local P. U. C.

Mayor H. Rheder, Chairman McFarlane of the public utilities commission and Commissioners Wilson and Stewart, all of Paris, Ont., were guests of the public utilities commission of this city on Thursday, paying a visit of inspection of the local waterworks and hydro-electric systems.

The members of this party expressed great surprise at the up-to-date manner in which these departments are conducted here. They candidly admitted that in Paris district London bears the reputation of being backward in civic affairs, and were astounded at the progressive administration of this city. They declared that men of vision are at home here, and left for Paris pleased with the results obtained by their visit.

CONSTANTINE DIRECTING DRIVE

Constantinople, July 16.—King Constantine is undertaking the active direction of the Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists, now in progress. It is stated in advices reaching here from the front.

The Greek plan for this offensive, it appears, was to strike directly at the Turkish centre at Kutia (now reported from Athens to have been occupied by the Greeks), where the third Nationalist army corps, commanded by Col. Arif Bey, constituted the main defensive force, with Nasim Bey commanding at Afium-Karakissar, to the south. The plan differs from that of the offensive of last March, which called for the armies from Brusa and Usak to operate in straight lines eastward with their objectives behind Eski-Shehr, whereas the present plan, while less ambitious, is considered in military circles here more dangerous to the Turks.

DON'T BE CAT'S PAW WARNS GEN. HAMILTON

Urges Britain To Go Slow In Turning Down Jap Alliance.

RESULTS FAR-REACHING

Retain Pact and Serve Best Interests of All.

LONDON, July 15.—Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, in a speech at Manchester tonight, strongly opposed abandoning the Anglo-Japanese alliance in favor of "some looser bond which would not be strictly naval or military." He declared Great Britain's position at the proposed Washington conference, with its limitation of armaments would be that of a cat being urged by half a dozen monkeys to pull chestnuts out of the fire, and declared it was not advisable to carefully consider the temperature of the chestnuts before stretching out its paws.

The speaker argued that the Japanese would be absolutely loyal to a military alliance, but would be suspicious of any other combination or league which looked like it contained a possibility of their being encircled.

The only policy means for England to exert an influence for good upon her relations with the United States and United States relations with the Japanese, declared Gen. Hamilton, was to retain the alliance with whatever safeguards might be considered necessary to insure against being drawn into any move against an English-speaking people.

WANTS INFORMATION.

LONDON, July 15.—It has only just become known here, through a semi-official Japanese statement, that while Japan is ready to enter a conference on general disarmament the Japanese Government is seeking from the Washington Government fuller information on the nature and scope of the proposed discussion on Pacific affairs.

This attitude on the part of Japan had not been generally anticipated, and it has not been the subject of comment. The English papers only having foreseen possible difficulties in the direction of a discussion of the Japanese of France and Italy in the discussions.

Stirs Up Discussion.

The recent attacks of the London Times on Premier Lloyd George and Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, in which the paper declared they would not be qualified to attend the Washington disarmament conference for Great Britain, had the effect of driving comment in the direction of a discussion of the question of who best would represent the country. In this connection, it has not been the subject of comment from that intended—namely, general support of the two statesmen, even from the papers ordinarily opposing the Government.

Providing the affairs of state permit the premier's absence, the general view is that the mere fact that the attack occurred makes it more imperative than before for Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon to go to Washington.

Various Opinions.

The weekly review comment at great length on the subject.

Results Achieved At Premiers' Conference

London, July 16.—By Grattan O'Leary, Staff Correspondent, Canadian Press.—With the congress of prime ministers of the British Empire nearing its close it is now possible to sum up what it has achieved. This, in brief compass, may be summed up under seven separate heads, as follows:

- First—It paved the way for and made possible the great disarmament conference of the world powers.
- Second—Its deliberations resulted in the decision that the Anglo-Japanese alliance must be brought into harmony with the covenant of the league of nations, which means that the military clause of the treaty must be eliminated, and it prompted the idea of a conference on Pacific problems which, if it is successful, will make the Anglo-Japanese alliance unnecessary.
- Third—It created the atmosphere favorable for the step toward the settlement of the Irish question, and produced a General Smuts to rescue the negotiations from failure at an extremely critical juncture.
- Fourth—It enabled the statesmen of the dominions to arrive at full knowledge and comprehension of the principles underlying the British foreign policy, and of the effect which the application of such principles produced upon the international situation.
- Fifth—It settled the important question of the distribution of the German reparations among the various portions of the empire in a way satisfactory to all.
- Sixth—It reaffirmed and defined certain basic principles of the empire's constitutional development and cleared up misconceptions and misunderstandings regarding a number of questions, such as, for example, the decision to appoint a Canadian minister at Washington.
- Seventh—It discussed and passed useful resolutions upon such important problems as overseas settlement, development of aerial transportation, improved wireless, cable communications and shipping.
