Jim, the West Coast Indian who a short time ago while drunk resisted arrest and tried to shoot constable Gilchrist, came up for speedy trial before Mr. Justice Crease yesterday. He pleaded guilty to assault and was sentenced to two years in the peni-tentiary. At the same time Tom James, charged with stealing $80 from another Indian, elected for a speedy trial and was re-manded as some of his witnesses were absent, the case to come on on 24 hours'

YESTERDAY was breaking up day at the St. Ann's Kindergarten, and the parents and friends of the little ones assembled in St. Ann's Kindergarten, and the parents and friends of the little ones assembled in the Institute Hall, View street, at 2:30 in the afternoon to witness the closing exercises. Recitations, songs, dialogues and pretty musical drills with dumb bells were given by the children in a manner that reflects great credit on their instructors, the good Sisters of St. Ann. Some of the items on the programme were unique as well as exceedingly pretty, particularly the "Nanaimo Train" and "The Chorus of the Living Flowers." At the close of the parformance Rev. Father Nicolaye in a few words congratulated the teachers and their little pupils on the result of their efforts.

THE CITY MARKETS.

The market this week is unchanged and fruit continues to come in plentifully from the reighboring islands, and is being sold very cheaply by the Indians. The variety, however, has not been extended, but an improvement in this respect may shortly be expected. The consumption of fresh meat is certain to fall off during the warm weather and with the departure of some of the warships from Esquimalt. Appended are the current retail quotations:

have over their voices. The next two numbers, a "Sea Song" and a "Serenade" were rendered in a way which spoke well for the hard work that must have been put on their preparation. A piano solo, "Fantasia upon themes from Il Puritani," was given by Mr. R. Eurick, and while not being perhaps the best possible selection, gave evidence of the performer's ability. The next number was possibly the gem of the avening, a selection from "The song of the Little Baltung." The oborus on this was admirable, and Mr. Kent's rendering of the baritone solo won the admiration of the audience. "Lutzow's Wild Chase" was another "Lutzow's Wild Chase" was another especially good number. The first part of the programme closed with the "Bugle beginning good number. The first part of the programme closed with the "Bugle Song."

Part 2 opened with an "Italian Salad," a pleasing piece, in which the club have already been heard at other concerts, and their rendering of it last night was if anything, better than on previous occasions. Mr. E. H. Russell took the tenor solo with good effect. "Home," a sweet, plaintive air, touched a sympathetic chord and was heartily appleaded by the hearers. Mr. Eurick was again heard in Liest's "Rigoletto" and displayed a keen spirit of interpretation of the composer's idea. Some "Nonsense Verses" by C. W. Chadwick furnished a bit of humor which was appreciated by the audience. "On the Water" was a pretty selection which had a baritone solo by Mr. W. S. Goodwin, both chorus and soloist doing good work. The last number was the well-known Pilgrim chorus from "Tannhauser."

The proceeds of the concert are to be supported in the process."
