WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 24, 1889, A Lion in the Path.

Twice in the course of his lifetime did John right stand like a lion in the path to prevent land from going wrong. The first occa-was that of the American civil war, when the Government, the governing classes gener-ally, and the commercial class in particular ere all anxious to recognize the Southern ites as a belligerent power, to which they wild thus have been at liberty to sell munins of war and all other supplies. Had this itted to take place, the American would have had another ending, and the th would have taken position as a separ victorious and independent. For South did not want for men, and G re men too; but frequently it did ack for arms and powder, and ball, and on sions its most pressing want of all was for ine and other medicine. All this time for in the second se axious to recognize the South, for they saw te victory for Free Trade and the defeat for Protection that would follow. The Govern-ment, too, was awaiously urged in the same direction by Louis Napsleon, who expected to get his own way in Mexico if the South won. it the people of England were as a mass firm ainst what was intended to establish human alavery , as a permanent institution in a large part of North America ; and Euglish support-ers of slavery feared to take the risk of doing anything. Be it remembered, however, that the balance hung nearly even for a while, with a good deal of doubt as to which it would probably turn. Even at a man as Gladstone was of opinion that Jefferson Davis had created a nation and ted that the South would win. In those ays John Bright came out with a number of hes, in which he denounced in ringing words the proposed iniquity of helping to build up a slave power in America as a permanent thing. His words gave such telling expression to the popular conviction that what he said was recognized as the real public opinion of England, and those who thought differently had to stand back. This time John Bright was emphatically the lion in the path, who prevented England from going

The other occasion was when, in quite recent time, he refused to follow Gladstone in supporting the Irish Home Rule movement, supporting the Irish Thome American war ques-as led by Parnell. The American war ques-tion is now among things settled, and we sup-tion is now among things settled. ose that by this time only a small minority of nglishmen would be found unwilling to dmit that on this same question the Quaker nan was in the right of it. But the Irish question is one of to-day and is still ling. It is a noteworthy fact that in the ent day these two Liberal leaders-Gladtone and Bright-have parted company on the Irish question, as they did on the issue of the American war twenty-five years or more ago.

Conly, the parting between them was not as conspicuous (on the former occasion as it was West Toronto Junction took place on Monday West Toronto Junction took place on Monday on the latter one. Still, it is true that the second time, too, John Bright proved himself the ion in the path. But for him, Gladstone might have carried all the Liberal party with him, as supporters of Home Rule. And no erstood better than Gladston himself who the power was that stood in his way, and held a strong body of Liberal-Union-ists firm against Home Rule as demanded by Parnell. The latter contest, as we have said, still depends. But you may say that Home Rula must come by and by notwithstanding. Well, Well, perhaps. But if so it will probably be Home Eight studies of birds and flowers, exact re-productions of the original water color paint-ings, by eminent artists, exquisite in finish and design, with a description of each subject, -something th Rule with a compromise-something that John Bright himself might have assented to were he still left. The man himself is re on earth; but it may yet appear that his and design, with a description of the up in a and directions for reproducing, all put up in a handsome portfolio, are published by the wellinfluence is still felt in favor of some such settlement of the Irish question as shall provi truly "Laberal" and "Unionist," too.

Railway employes by the nature of their oc-cupation are frequently called upon to render the first assistance to the injured. The want of some special directions as to how they should proceed in cases of accident to give the best aid to the injured has been very much felt. Dr. Riordan, surgeon of the Grand Trunk Railway, at the request of a number of mployes, has consented to give a lect illustrations this (Wednesday) even at 8 o'clock in the reading-room at the Grand Trunk Railway Round-house, subject "First Aid to the Injured."

In Trinity Methodist Church last r night Rev. Dr. Berry of Detroit delivered a lecture mil-filled "That Minister of Ours." The lecture r depicted the laughable side of a minister's life, depicted the laugnable side of a minister system showing how the Rev. Mr. Striver, as he call-ed him, built up a failing parish. He described him as an A1 disseminate of the gospel, and an ideal minister. The lecture was humorous throughout and was thoroughly enjoyed. An interesting feature at the close of the lecture was the presentation to Mr. C. R. S. Dinnick by the trustees of the church, of an illuminated advance.

A Painful Sight.

Few people fully realize the sorrow and uffering which is daily endured among the sick of this city. Some are stricken down with acute disease, while others are just able to seep around under great difficulties, able to keep around under great dimolities, and still another class, the most to be pitied, are those who though afflicited with painful disease, are compelled tokeep to their daily duties. No better example of this last class of sick people could be mentioned than Mary Philling who, when asked about here trout of sics people could be mentioned than Mary Phillips, who, when asked about her trou-ble, said : "My disease had so reduced my strength that I could hardly stand, and I felt tired, languid and worn out. I could encrease and the stand, and I felt tired, languid and worn out. I could scarcely est anything, and what I did force down lay very heavy on my stomach, which was always bloated and full of gas. I had severe headaches, and my heart throbbed so I almost thought I had heart disease. My mouth was bitter, and my tongue always coated, especially in the morning. I felt myself getting gradually worse, my liver and kidneys were also in a diseased condition, which troubled me very much. I had severe pains through my chest and back; in fact I seemed stok all over, and don't suppose I ever would have got well back; in fact I seemed sick all over, and don't suppose I ever would have got well except I knew personally of others who had been cured of diseases like my own by the doctors of the Medical Institute at 170 King-street West. As their counsel is free I called upon them and applied for treat-ment. After a careful examination they prescribed for me a medicine which I began taking, and it benefitted me so rapidly that in less than two months I was entirely, cured, and am pleased to tell in public print what they have done for me.
