BAD LEG FOR 60 Years
OLD LADY'S SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY TO ZAM-BUK.
Here is strong proof of how Zam-Buk cures long-standing sores, or chronic wounds. Mrs. J. Minnett, of 192 Thurbers Ave., Providence, Rhode Island, says:
"When a child of eight I was bitten on the leg by a dog. The wound never healed up soundly, and I have suffered with an ulcerated leg for over 60 years. At one time, I was an in-patient at the East Suffolk Hospital for a long period, and for three years I was in and out of hospitals with it. I was continually in pain, and the sore would not heal, but continued to discharge.
"Twelve months ago I came out here to my daughter, and as soon as she saw how bad the leg was she sent for a doctor. He gave me some ointment, but it did me no good. Doctors said my leg would never be healed.
"One day my youngest daughter brought home a box of Zam-Buk and induced me to try it. With the first application I seemed to find ease. I kept on with the Zam-Buk treatment, and soon saw that the wound was getting better. I persevered, and, to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk healed up the sore! It is marvellous to think that, after suffering for sixty years, Zam-Buk has been able to heal the wound."
Zam-Buk is superior because it is nature's own healer, composed entirely of pure herbal essences. For eczema, ulcers, cold sores, chaps, abscesses, piles, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, rashes, etc., it is unequalled. All druggists and stores 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

An Undignified Chair
"In my allow youth I was once assistant to an undertaker," said a portly, smiling individual in the cafe of the Hotel Astor a few days ago. "Strange but true and the manner of my leaving the profession was still stranger.
"It was a sizable Maine town to which I took my gifts when I first started in search of a calling, and the undertaker was the only man who would give me a job. The first important case, if I may call it that upon which I was engaged was the funeral of an old resident, an immensely wealthy and very eccentric man whose chief claim to fame lay in the remarkable collection of curiosities from all lands with which he had surrounded himself.
"Part of my duty was to attend to the seating of the persons about the coffin preparatory to the services, and I was quite proud of the orderly and convenient manner in which I had arranged the chairs in the large parlor. I had reserved one row conspicuously in front of and to the side of the rest of the company for members of the family. On the end of this row I had placed a large, clumsy chair, with a solid back and very heavy legs.
"The room was nearly filled and the ceremonies were waiting upon the appearance of the relatives. Finally they arrived in a sort of blue garbed procession, and the others stopped whispering to watch them. The place was very quiet. I stepped forward and pushed the end chair a little to one side to allow the passage of the little group.
"At that instant a most remarkable thing happened, a thing that to tell of still sends chills along my back. The chair on which I had my hand began to move, of its own accord, and a thin strain of metallic music wafted through the room. I can only suppose that the sensations of the others there present were similar to my own. I dropped the chair. The company sat petrified.
"Left to its own devices, the chair began a kind of solemn jig, keeping a halting time with the music box melody, which came apparently from under its upholstered seat. It hopped and swayed and pirouetted for all the world like a fat dervish on a spree. It was ribald in its uncanniness. It had the open space before the coffin all to itself, and it made the most of it. The tension in the room lasted a full minute, and then a dozen persons started for the doors. A niece of the dead man stopped them. She explained that the chair was one of her uncle's curiosities.
"Someone must have touched the spring," she said, and looked at me. My employer took the hint, and in the glare he gave me I read the end of my employment with him.
"Take the thing out of here, quickly," he whispered, and while the company stared and the music tinkled I captured the chair and dragged it out of the room. I got it down in the lower hall and released it, whereupon it promptly renewed its weird dance. I had overcome my fear by this time and was just about to examine the mechanism of the extraordinary contrivance when my employer's fierce whisper reached me down the stairs.
"Get away from here with that. You scoundrel! Do you want to ruin me?"
"I caught up the offending piece of furniture and started for the basement of earshot there. On the top step I stumbled and I went the full flight in with it, thinking I would be well out one grand revolving, crashing descent. When I sat up at the bottom with an aching head to take inventory of the disaster a mass of wires, wheels, cogs, broken wood and torn brocade was all that remained of the dancing chair."-New York Sun.

While it is often impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's purse. Invest 25 cts. in a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and you are prepared for bruises, sprains and like injuries. Sold by all dealers.

RICH MINERAL FIND IN CAPE BRETON.
North Sydney.—In cross-cutting at the east drift of the East Bay mining property on Wednesday, another lead of galena, rich in silver was struck, samples of which were brought into town we going about a hundred pounds. It is understood that Boston capitalists are negotiating for the purchase of part of the areas in that region, and will arrive here in a few days to complete the deal and prepare for the erection of a smelter, which will include the smelting of imported ores as well.

Do you know that croup can be prevented? Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It is also a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Sold by all dealers.

DINNER BELL MUSIC.
The music of the dinner-bell is always welcome to the healthy man or woman—like to the working man or woman who eats a plain meal at noonday, or to people of easier lives who enjoy a rich dinner in the evening. But to the Dyspeptic there is no music in the dinner-bell—it calls him to a trial for which he knows he is unfit. No one can enjoy a meal, or get nourishment and strength from it, knowing that pain and distress will follow after. The true course, even for healthy people, is to help the digestive system, from time to time, with that excellent tonic medicine, Mother Siegel's Syrup.
Mr. Michael Bureau, of Stanham, Quebec County, P. Q., writes: "For some time I suffered from indigestion. I had headaches which made life a misery. I could not sleep at night and after eating I felt a sensation of fulness and pains, with heart palpitation. I took no medicine for this illness except Mother Siegel's Syrup and was cured when I had used one bottle of it."
CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.
Yarmouth, January 18.—The four-year old daughter of Chas. R. Vickey accidentally set her clothes on fire yesterday afternoon at her home, receiving such injuries that her death resulted at an early hour this morning. Her mother was quite severely burned about the hands and arms in her efforts to subdue the flames. Mr. Vickey, a pattern foreman with the new Burrill-Johnson Iron company.

The publisher of the best Farmers' paper in the Maritime Provinces in writing to us states:
"I would say that I do not know of a medic that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."

One gave me a word of cheer.
When dark my sky.
My day—how drear!
Out flashed the sun with radiant gleam,
And with that kindly ray did seem
To chase away the dark, the drear:
How sweet a thing—the world of cheer!
—Western Christian Advocate.

If troubled with indigestion, constipation, no appetite or feeling bilious give Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets a trial, and you will be pleased with the result. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all dealers.

An enquiring citizen has asked the "Times" to state whether this is a late fall or an early spring. Another citizen, filled with astronomical lore, informs this journal that it is the comet. He says the mysterious comet that is coveting around and warring its fiery tail in the heavens is responsible for the floods in France, the warm spell here, and the political deadlock in England. Far be it from us to dispute this authority. Our acquaintance with comets is limited, and our attitude one of profound respect. Let it go at that.—St. John Times.

OLD MAN SAVES HIMSELF AND HORSE.
George Day, a seventy-year old fisherman at Pokiook, saved himself and his horse from drowning beneath the ice of the Kennebecasis yesterday by an exhibition of agility and presence of mind most remarkable in one of his years. He was none too quick however, for the entire rig was carried under water before he managed to clamber out of it. As the water closed about him, Mr. Day jumped from the punz, and secured a good enough hold upon the ice to draw himself out upon it. The horse and punz sank, but the old man managed to save both by a novel plan. As the horse was struggling, and rapidly weakening, he managed to get a rope over its head, and strangled it until its struggles ceased. He held it thus until his two sons, Frank Day and John Day, arrived from the shore 100 yards distant. Between the three the horse and punz were hauled in safety to solid ice. It was fully half an hour before this was accomplished however, for the horse kept breaking the ice with its hoofs. Had the day been really cold, the rescue could hardly be accomplished at all.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY FLOODS IN NEW ENGLAND.
Boston, Jan. 28.—Down from the hills has come the winter's accumulation of snow melted by the January thaw' and augmented by the recent rains causing New England rivers and streams to assume freshet stages. In many places, these floods have caused damage.
Minor washouts are many in the railroad tracks, dams and culverts have given away, water mains have become so full that they broke, and the invading waters, often with floating ice have entered mills and factories on river banks crippling the water power system, damaging stock, and rendering useless boiler rooms and power plants. In a few cases buildings have been washed away.

Constipation is the root of many forms of sickness and of an endless amount of human misery.
Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, thoroughly tested by over fifty years of use, have been proved a safe and certain cure for constipation and all kindred troubles.

Convince yourself that it is worth the price
THE secret of the greater flavor and body of Union Blend Tea—the choice rose aroma,—lies in the fact that there is not a single full-grown tea leaf in it. I use nothing but the tender, young sprouts hill grown in Ceylon and India, and I get the pick of the crops every year. This ensures quality. In my thirty years I have gathered together a staff of expert blenders who devote their entire time to make Union Blend the one perfect tea. That's why I stake all my business reputation on its delicious, refreshing flavor. Union Blend Tea comes to you in a hermetically sealed packet that keeps all the strength and flavor in the leaves. It's as different from ordinary tea as well, there's no comparison, really. You can prove it—right in your own tea-cup!
Union Blend one pound packets—the pound packets only contain coupons that are worth money to you. But this is only an advertisement—the tea itself is worth the price, fully.
I HAVE no doubt you wonder why I use my picture in advertising a tea. Let me explain—it is for your protection. When you buy, look for this picture on the end of the packet; it is your guarantee that the packet contains Union Blend—"the tea that satisfies." I firmly believe that you are going to like Union Blend Tea when once you try it—grocers tell me that of all who once start using it, ninety-five per cent. continue to buy it. Remember, also, that you have only to buy one, single, half pound packet to convince yourself of the truth of my claim—will you give me the chance to prove my words? I shall be perfectly satisfied to accept your decision.
