The matter of the Peruvian ship Maria Luse, is occupying the attention of the Japanese authorities, and threatens to assume serious proportions from the reasons that several questions of International law are brought into the matter. The Maria Luse left Macao for Peru loaded with coolies, in command of Lieut. Heno, of the Peruvian navy. She put into Yokohama in distress, having encountered extremely bad weather. After leaving Macao one day a coolie jumped overboard from the ship and swam to an English man of war the Iron Duke. The officers of that ship delivered him over to the Japanese authorities, who returned him to the ship Watson newly arrived. The British charge d'Affairs took the matter up and complained to the Japanese authorities intimating that the coolie traffic was the slave trade in disguise, and urging upon them the necessity of taking some steps in the matter. The Watson then quietly left Yokohama for Hakodadi. The Japanese, however acting upon his suggestions. They stopped the ship and are now engaged in examining the coolies as to their treatment while on board, and the nature of their contract. The commander will probably lose 4 or 5 days more, and the result is uncertain though it is thought probable the Japanese will release the coolies or send them back to China, and then allow the vessel to go. The captain has protested against these proceedings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Mr D J Williamson, the U S Consul at Callas, writes that small pox is in an epidemic at many of the seaport towns on the coast between Valparaiso and Panama. The character of the disease, he says, is more pernicious than ordinary small pox, and much more destructive of life. The letter further states that in one hospital at Santiago, Chili, out of 53 patients entered in one week; 56 died, and as there are eight or ten such hospitals in that city, its destructiveness can be conceived. The disease is making its way steadily to Callais. There are many cases not of epidemic from it in the hospitals among the authorities in all Spanish American towns in sanitary affairs given this disease and yellow fever a greater field to spread over than they otherwise would have if the necessary precaution were taken.

About half-past eight o'clock last night a violent thunderstorm broke over the city and neighbourhood for upwards of an hour. The most vivid lightning flashed incessantly, accompanied with deafening peals of thunder and torrents of rain. Mr. Brown's rope walk, at La Canardiere, was struck by the electric fluid, and speedily burst into flames. The rope walk, with a large amount of stock, was destroyed. Mr. Brown's loss, which is heavy, is covered by insurance in the Quebec and the London, Liverpool and Globe insurance offices. A girl was killed by the lightning in a house near the ropewalk. The storm has been followed to day with a warm temperature, the thermometer having risen to 72° in the shade.

A personal altercation occurred in a restaurant in Columbia last evening between Mr. Montgomery, President of the State Senate, and Samuel Milton, regular Republican candidate for the office of Attorney General. In the melee Mr. J. D. Caldwell and Major J. M. Morgan, two friends who interfered to separate the combatants, were shot. Caldwell was instantly killed, and Morgan but slightly wounded. The tragedy grew out of criminations and recriminations of a political nature.

DENVEN, Sept. 25.—A wonderful discovery has been made recently, six miles west of Caribou, of an enormous silver ledge, or a system of ledges, so looked and woven together as to be practically one ledge. It measures 63 feet in width, and can be clearly traced over five miles. It assays $75 to $100 per ton. The surrounding formation is primary granite, and the ore carries galena, black and gray sulphurate. A large number of men are already at work upon it. Great activity exists every where in the mines, and reports came from all quarter of a larger yield than ever.

A special despatch from Constantinople to the London Times says that one of the last public acts of the late Djemel Pasha was to hold an interview with the Czar. The meeting took place on the 19th inst. The Czar on that occasion expressed his desire to render the relations between Russia and Turkey more friendly.

A London special says that King Johannes, of Abyssinia, has sent a message to England with letters for the Queen, asking the intervention of England against Egypt. The same messengers has letters for Franco, Russia, and Germany. The King of Abyssinia in making his appeal to the Queen of Great Britain, relies on an African right to do so, as it existed previous to Her Majesty's war against Theodoros.

FORT GARREY, Sept. 21.—Smith is elected for Selkirk, Cunningham for Marquette, Schultz for Lisgar. There was much disorder. The Ontario Orangemen carried off the poll books at St. Boniface. Many shots were fired, and the offices of the Melis and Manitoba were destroyed, and Mr. Plainval Chief of the Police was seriously wounded. The excitement is very great; life and property are endangered.
