THE PLAN WINS AGAIN .-- The Dundalk Democrat says: Some mouths ago the tenants on the Kenny e-tate, in the parsh of Inni-ken, asked for a reduction in their rents, which the receiver point blank refused. Subsequently legal proceedings were instituted against s number of the tenants for the recovery of the full amount of rent due. The tenants, seeing that war was thus declared against them, and being convinced of their inability to pay the amount of rent demanded, sought and found protection under the banner sought and found protection under the panner of the plan of campaign. They lodged the amount of their rents—less the reduction asked by them—in the hands of trustees. Their next step was to sell all the goods and chattels on their farms. Having thus deposited their money in the war chest, and having subsequent ly cleared their decks for action, they calmly awaited the contemplated attack on their homes. We are glad to say the receiver formed a correct view of the situation, and accordingly he wisely decided on abandoning the war-path, and acceded to the demands of the knats. He applied to the courts for permission to make the reduction asked for, and the court granted the application. On Thursday met by the tenants, who paid their rents—less 30 per cent. on judicial and 50 per cent. on nonjudicial rents. As to the costs, the tenants very Properly refused to pay a shilling of them, on the grounds that these costs were incurred in an attempt to force them to pay an unjust rent. The tenants have reaped the reward of their pluck and determination.

The freshest eggs are heaviest. Placed in a ing was chiefly made up of substantial farmers of the township, who appeared to take a deep interest in the question. With Mr. Wiman on the platform were many prominent and representative mee, not pay to the faming, but of the commercial, professional and manufacturing classes. Mr. Wiman was introduced by President Blackwood, of the Agricu thral Society. He said that Commercial union was not a vary question, and had nothing to do wastever with politics. The Butterworth Billist troduced into C ngr-ss last winter proposed to chittratic the customs line which treetales for four thousand ing was chiefly made up of substantial farmers customs line which stretches for four thousand miles between the two countries keeping them miles between the two countries keeping them ap rt commercially, like, a privileged barbed it may also be cured by exercise and fresh air. wire fence. A Saratoga, N.Y., farmer reports that he swept away without Canadi in the least. He had to ask the people with a pople of Canada if they want Commercial Union, it is and repeating it if necessary. The crows eat they did he thought it now possible to get it. He believed the American people might easily be educated up to the point of meeting them sail way. Commercial Union meant unrestricted trade on this continent. The prosperity of the farmers flowed from the sale of their produce, and free trade with the United States would open to the Canadian farmers a market of sixty open to the Canadian farmers a market of sixty millions of people, the greatest money making and money spending people in the world. Eggs are one of the two articles on the free list, and last year fourteen million dozens of Canadian eggs were exported into the United States. If there could be the same unrestricted interchange of all national products, it would mean wealth and prosperity to the prest body of Canadian producers. Almost everything raised in Canada as wanted by the Americans. The Maritime Provinces seem to have been specially created to supply the New England States. The Province of Quebec has along its borders the greatest market in the world, from which it is shut out by barbarous onstoms. He hones by believed this measure would enhance the value of every farm in Canada, and every farmer would find himself more prospercus. Mr. Wiman next dealt with the manufacturing side of the question. He contended that instead of Canadian manufacturing enterprises being crip-pled they would be actually benefitted. Canada has an unlimited supply of wood, iron and water power, capable of almost unlimited de-velopment for manufacturing purposes. The French-Canadians furnish the most thrulty and with the same opportunities the same traits would become characteristic of them at home. He believed that if the American continent were one nation commercially. Montreal would eventually become the largest manufacturing point in this continent. Canada is richer in trondores than any country in the world and it only needs Commercial Union to develop them. Mr. Wiman also pointed out the wealth of Canada in copper, asbestos, nickel, mica, phosphates, etc. Canada was rich by nature but made poor by policy. The farmer in Manitoba should be given as soon as cooler weather comes, as flesh begin as soon as cooler weather comes, as flesh is land on as cooler weather comes, as flesh is land on as cooler weather comes, as flesh is land on as cooler weather comes, as flesh is land on as cooler weather comes, as flesh is land on as large share of the food is concerned in weather, when a large share of the food is concerned in weather, when a become characteristic of them at home. He given an equal chance with the farmer in Minnesota and Dakota. When that was done the great tide of immigration coming to New York would flow on to the North-West, filling it in a of old grease tried out clean, one tablespoonful of coal oil, the same of crude carbolic acid, and of coal oil, the same of crude carbolic acid, and mix land of promise a large pearant class, pros-rerous, contented and capable of consum-ing the manufactures of the East. Canada does not want political union, and if the people can get Commercial Union it will the people can get Commercial Union it will do more to perpetuate Brivish connection that anything else that could be devised by British or Colonial statesmen. In Detroit the other day enstor-Palmer said he was opposed to Commercial Union, on the ground that he thought it would indefinitely postpone armays though At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Wiman was warmly cheered, and a vole of thanks unsulmously carried.

The work, which had been carefully rehearsed under the baton of the composer, was listened to by about six thousand persons, and, heard within the vast and venerable pile, it has a telling effect. It was first suggested to M. Gounoff by Cardinal Lavigerie, who wanted it for the festival of Pope Urban II., of Crusade memory, but the composer found that he was more inspired by the history of the peasant girl of Domremy than by that of the Pontiff. GRATEFUL—COMFORTING EPPS'S COCOA.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and natrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocon, Mr. Lips has provided our breakfast tables with a demastry flavored beverage which may save us many heavy octors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up strong enough to resist every tensiency to discouse. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with yure blood and a properly nourlabed frame."—Civil Service Graette.
