

The Mandate

The legislation that founded the Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security came into force 15 August 1984. It states in part that:

The purpose of the Institute is to increase knowledge and understanding of the issues relating to international peace and security from a Canadian perspective, with particular emphasis on arms control, disarmament, defence and conflict resolution, and to

- a) foster, fund and conduct research on matters relating to international peace and security;
- b) promote scholarship in matters relating in international peace and security;
- c) study and propose ideas and policies for the enhancement of international peace and security; and
- d) collect and disseminate information on, and encourage public discussion of, issues of international peace and security.
