

HENRY VII.

articles as the matter toucheth every man apart, to deliver in writing to Mr. Secretary, which shall inclose the said articles severally in as many letters as there shall be articles, and the same direct and cause to be sent to such persons, as be named in the heads of the said articles, desiring them by the same letters, to do and perform for their parts as is expressed in the same articles.