

	Pounds.
Brought forwards ———	1,800,000
hends Spirits of all Sorts, it is to be supposed there is not above one half of it French Brandy : However, as there is some smugg- gled upon the Coast, I will allow the Quantity consumed here, to be 2000 Tun annually at the same Price, and then the Diffe- rence to France is	80,000
	1,880,000

I SAID before, that the Dutch had few and inconsiderable Manufactures of their own, but traded largely in the Manufactures of France to all Parts of Europe. Here follows an Account of such as the Dutch now make themselves, or have from England : But as they still import considerable Quantities of all Sorts of Goods from France, only the Difference to her Loss in each Article is brought to Account.