

our remarks, by adopting the language of your own Liturgy, which I would devoutly pray to God, were written on the tablets of the hearts of those who so frequently repeat it.

“From all blindness of heart, from pride, vain glory, and hypocrisy, from envy, hatred, and malice and all uncharitableness,—Good Lord deliver us.”

Yours, as heretofore,

BENJAMIN NANKEVILL.