X SUCCESS OF COUNTRY

Canon Welch Speaks at Closing Exercises of the Blshop Strachan School.

"The future of this great country of ours depends largely on the early training of our young people," said Canon Welch, speaking on "Character" at the closing service of the fishep Strachan School, Sunday,

"The early years of life are the deciding factor in character building. It is character alone that is of an order of the word of true position in the sight of the divine and the human. The formation of true character is a matter of slow and patient process, and is persisted of the divine and the human. The formation of true character is a matter of slow and patient process, and is persisted only to the persevering. Its course is thru sorrow and disappointment, and many long years of outward discipline. It is the one thing that of all this earth's possessions is permanent, immortal, for it is not an all this earth's possessions in the falled in himself? Nevertheless in the persistent, in the course is the substitute of the dividence of the persevering. Its course is thru sorrow and disappointment, and many long years of outward discipline. Abbrr Montan Green of The State never did of cours take evil.

Humanity to-day was being dashed to pleces over the precipice of false beliefs and fears. There was only one way to salvation and that was a perfect understanding of Christ, who, by His resurrection and ascension, had revealed and proven that the real life of man was spiritual. The Divine Mind—God.

Christian Science tenets were an influence for good only. They had no place for evil, desire or sin.

The throwing off of false beliefs and an unbounded faith i nthe divinity of Christ and that man was the image of God, that God was in him, i.e., that life was God, was the only way of salvation.

A conception of these facts meant the betterment of mankind.
