THESE JUDGES MUST QUIT BE BARRED AS DIRECTORS

Partial List of Members of Judiciary Who Are on Company Boards.

When the new scale of salaries for judges is put into effect those judges who are directors of banks and loan companies, industrial concerns, etc., will be called upon to resign their places on the board. Quite a number of the judiciary are identified with these commercial concerns. A few of them are:

Chancellor Sir John A. Boyd, Canada Land and National Investment Company, the Union Trust Company.

Mr. Justice Britton—The Mutual Life Assurance Company, National Trust Company, Ontario Building and Savings Society of Kingston.

Mr. Justice Garrow—The Mutual Life Assurance Company.

Hon. J. A. Guimet—Montreal City and District Savings Bank.

Judge Snider of Hamilton—The Hamilton Provident and Loan Society.

Chief Justice Sir William Ralph Meredith—The North American Life Insurance Company.

Judge Bell of Chatham—Chatham Loan and Savings Co.

Judge Dighton—London and Western Trust Co. Was a member of the board before being appointed judge.

Mr. Justice MacMahon—National Trust Co.

Mr. Justice Maclean—Queen City Fire Insurance Co. Judge Maclean was a director of this company before he was appointed to the bench.

The resolution increasing the salaries says:

"That no judge heretofore mentioned shall, either directly or indirectly, as director or manager of any public corporation or firm, or in any other manner whatsoever, engage in any occupation, business or profession, which is in conflict with his judicial duties; but every such judge shall devote himself exclusively to such judicial duties."

A legal gentleman points out that although the corporations with which the judges are identified are not "public corporations" in the legal sense the resolution is sufficiently clear to preclude the possibility of their engaging in any occupation other than their judicial duties.

Hot? Yes, But It Has Been Worse

92° is Not So Bad for a July Day

Windor Was Warmest Place in Ontario With 94—When It Once Nearly Touched 100—How Toronto Feels the "Wave."

Just by way of a little variation, the weather to-day will be fine and warm. Yesterday it was just warm and fine. This morning we enter upon the third day of our July thaw, and at this evening it will be time to stick a fork in ourselves to see if we are done.

The weather man was in a particularly cheerful and accommodating mood when The World's staff went to his last night. He always seems fine during torrid weather and intensely cold spells. The fact that the temperature reached as high as 92 degrees and stayed there undecided whether to go up or down for two or three hours yesterday afternoon seemed to make him feel flattered. He affirms that 92 was the highest temperature of the day, but if he had said 100 everybody would believe him, for it seemed to be the hottest day in remembrance.

The temperature has never been 100 degrees in Canada yet, but it came mighty near it fifty-one years ago. On Aug. 24, 1854, the mercury soared to 92.6, but there is nobody handy who recollects it. It was a member of the exceptionally warm weather, even at a registration of 92 degrees. It was on Aug. 24, 1854, the mercury soared to 92.6, but there is nobody handy who recollects it. # M. P.'s Line Up for Pension

$6000 Every Year for Them

Retired Members of the Cabinet Who Will Draw $3,500 a Year Pension and $2,500 Indemnity As Well.

WHAT THE PENSIONERS GET.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, $6500 a year.
Sir Charles Tupper, $4000 a year.
John Haggart, Sir John Carling, George E. Foster and Clifford Sifton, each $6000 a year.
Sir Adolph Caron, Sir Hibbert Tupper, Sir Hector Langevin, A. G. Blair and J. Israel Tarte, each $3500 a year.
Total, $58,000 a year.

Ottawa, July 18.—(Special.)—The pensions provided in the resolutions brought down in the house yesterday are very much larger than they appeared at first sight to be. For some of the beneficiaries it is in effect a dual pension system, the beneficiary being entitled not only to the pension allowance, but to the indemnity which he is at present drawing as a member of the senate or of the house of commons.

But the ex-prime ministers are not the only beneficiaries of the dual pension system. Every member of parliament who has served five years as a cabinet minister secures both the pension and the indemnity. The favored ones are John Costigan, John Haggart, George E. Foster, Sir John Carling and Clifford Sifton. Each of these gentlemen will draw $6000 a year while he remains a member of parliament, and $3500 a year for the rest of his life. Following is the list of the beneficiaries of the pension plan:

Conservatives.	Former Salary.	Pension.	Indemnity.	Total.
Sir Chas. Tupper, ex-prime minister	$8000	$4000	$...	$4000
Sir Mackenzie Bowell, ex-prime minister	8000	4000	2500	6500
John Haggart, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
George E. Foster, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Sir John Carling, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Sir Adolph Caron, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Sir Hibbert Tupper, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Sir Hector Langevin, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Liberals.
John Costigan, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Clifford Sifton, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
A. G. Blair, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
J. Israel Tarte, ex-minister	7000	3500	2500	6000
Total		$43,000	$15,000	$58,000

There are now eligible to be added to this list the following members of the present government: Sir Wilfrid Laurier ($6000 pension) Sir William Mulock, Sir Frederick Borden, Sir Richard Cartwright and Messrs. Scott, Fitzpatrick, Patterson, Fisher and Fielding, $3500 each.

Five other members of the cabinet have not completed the five years. They are: Messrs. Prefontaine, Brodeur, Emmerson, Hyman and Oliver.

Of the Laurier cabinet it is already announced that Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. R. W. Scott will retire from the government, but remain in the senate, which will net them each $6000 a year for life. If Mr. Fitzpatrick takes a judgeship, as it is rumored, he will have to forego the $3500 pension as long as he is a judge. If he has to forego his pension under these circumstances, why should not the same restriction apply to senators and members of the house who still draw their indemnity? These latter are: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir John Carling and Messrs. Haggart, Foster and Sifton, also Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. R. W. Scott when they retire from the ministry.

WITTE'S INTERVIEW DIPLOMATIC

HE DIDN'T MEAN WHAT HE SAID

War Party Designs to Make It Impossible for Him to Conclude Peace and He is Bitterly Indignant.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Evidence of the government's consternation over interior conditions is found to-day in its abrupt recession from the position it assumed in respect of the All-Russian zemstvo congress. It practically decided this morning to let the zemstvo meet in Moscow without serious molestation, although it is understood semi-officially that the governor-general of that city was instructed privately to make a prolonged show of resisting the popular will and to lead out the troops in another way. Attempts were made yesterday to trammel M. Witte, chief peace plenipotentiary, with limitations devised by the grand duke party, which would prevent the statesman from obtaining a cessation of hostilities in the far east save on terms imposed by the emperor himself. It is asserted that M. Witte's attitude toward the war has been a constant source of irritation to the emperor. He is reported to have given that warning to men in high places, and even that he did not stop short of the emperor himself. In his public interview, M. Witte said blandly that he was the servant of the czar, and would obey orders. He said he hoped to make it impossible for him to conclude a peace treaty, but that he would only be able to continue the war, but could say to the peace advocates throughout the empire that the idol of the people was unable to obtain terms advantageous to Russia. He forced views with several of the opposing chiefs and told them in plain words they must keep their hands off his policy.

END OF HISTORIC SESSION

SENATE DELAYS DEPARTURE

Business of Commons is Finished, But Time of Prorogation is as Yet Uncertain.

Ottawa, July 18.—(Special.)—The house of commons to-day completed the business of the session. On motion to adjourn shortly after 4 o'clock p.m. Sir John Laurier stated that the time of prorogation could not be announced definitely, because the senate had not completed their consideration of certain important measures.

The bills providing for increases of salaries and indemnities were finally passed this afternoon, the one regarding salaries of judges being amended so as to provide that the chief justice of the supreme court of the Northwest territories shall receive $7000 annually, and each of the puisne judges $6000 a year.

The house went into committee of the whole and means to provide out of consolidated revenue fund for supplies voted since the first supply bill was sanctioned earlier in the session.

The balance of supply for the present year, ending June 30 last, amounting to $160,430, and the balance for the current fiscal year was $2,794,975. Resolutions were carried and the supply bill based thereon was introduced, given its third reading and passed.

This is the 127th session of the present session. Sir Wilfrid announced that the governor-general would reach Ottawa at noon tomorrow.

All Sorts and Conditions of People Affected—Thousands Spend Night on Park Grass or on the Street Sidewalks.

New York, July 18.—An area of oppressive heat that brings to mind the record breaking summer of 1901 has settled down over the Eastern and New England States, already numbering hundreds among its victims and causing indescribable suffering in this and other cities.

Philadelphia reported a maximum temperature of 94.4, the highest figure officially noted. In this city the weather bureau's high mark was 94, while in Boston, where the street cars were literally paralyzed, the temperature of 100 or higher.
