BRITAIN TO RAISE THE INCOME TAX

LLOYD-GEORGE'S BUDGET ANNOUNCEMENT

Will Increase Revenue by $28,000,000—Death Duties to Provide $13,000,000 More—Liquor Dues to Add Twenty Millions—No New Sources of Revenue.

"CONFISCATION AND SOCIALISM" SHOUT CRITICS IN ANGER

LONDON, April 29.—Accumulated wealth and "the trade," which the liquor business is popularly called in the Liberal government's budget David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, presented in the house of commons to-day, are made to bear the burden of the £25,762,000 (£78,810,000) deficit of the fiscal year, incurred by the old age pensions and the race with Germany for Dreadnoughts.

"Socialism and confiscation," the wealthy classes already are crying and a few are clutching at the hope that these classes, may throw out the budget entirely, but this is the probable, increased income taxes, death and legacies duties, a tax of 20 per cent. on future increases in the value of lands, due to the enterprise of the community, taxes on motors, to be devoted to keeping up the roads, and stamp taxes on sales of property are the principal levies upon which the government gets its revenue for the rejection recently by the lords of its licensing bill, by increasing the taxes on some classes of public house and the customs excise duties on spirits.

A tax of three pence in the pound on sales of liquor also is imposed, and this is likely to antagonize the liquor interests and the workmen.

On the other hand, the latter are placated by provisions made for labor exchanges for the unemployed, expenditures for afforestation and the promise of an industrial scheme as well as the satisfaction of knowing that the rich are to carry the greater share of the load.

The new taxation bears heavily on corporations. The only features affecting the United States are the increase on the tobacco trust, a tax of five pence per gallon on petroleum and heavier stamp duties on stock transactions.

The first comments of the members of both parties in the assembly, at the number and the sweeping nature of the changes in the country's financial system.

The "maddest" ever introduced. Sir Frederick George Banbury termed it during the course of a speech in which he declared that the new budget included every bad on the face of the earth.

John Redmond, leader of the Irish party, asserted that the whiskey tax imposed another burden on Ireland, which the Nationalists would resist by every means.

The increase in the tax on tobacco, he declared, would be a cruel hardship to the poor of Ireland.

HOW LLOYD-GEORGE INCREASES THE REVENUE.

GOUVIN MAY SOON RETIRE

Estimates That Count When Ungava is Annexed.

MONTREAL, April 29.—(Special.)—A statement made by Premier Gouvin during the debate on the annexation of Ungava, which generally escaped attention at the time, is being taken as being of special significance. He said: "I am looking forward with keen anticipation to the consummation of the project of the annexation of that great and fertile country. After this has been accomplished, I shall be able to withdraw, happy in the consciousness that before doing so, I have made my province larger and happier."

BOUND GIRL TELEPHONES

Wriggles to Instrument and Sends in a Bangler Alarm.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Imprisoned in a chair, with tightly bound ropes searing her wrists and ankles, Mrs. L. Mann, wife of Dr. Charles M. Mann, who lives in the Munford Apartments at 323 West 113th-st., watched a robber strip her rooms of everything portable in the broad daylight of yesterday afternoon. The moment he disappeared she wriggled her way out and all, despite her bonds, to a table where there was a telephone, and knocking with her elbow, called for help.

Her action was the more heroic inasmuch as she is only 23 years old, but when the police arrived, as they did in return for the reward that prevented her being taken to a hospital in an ambulance which had been already summoned. Meantime only a cursory investigation was necessary to show that the daring burglar had left virtually nothing of value in the place.

GEN. HAIN'S EVIDENCE

FLUSHING, N.Y., April 29.—An affecting scene was presented to-day at the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., when Gen. Hains, retired, the aged father of the defendant, related with suppressed emotion, the incidents of his son's life from boyhood to the time when driven to insanity by his wife's infidelity, he shot down the man whom the defence contended was the cause of it.

FREDERICTON, N.B., April 29.—(Special.)—The legislature adjourned to-night after one of the busiest sessions in its history.

STORM GENERAL THROUGH THE WEST

Eastern Ontario Escaped the Snow—Two Inches in Toronto—Damage Done by Lightning.

TO-DAY: The local probabilities are a strong wind and gales from east and south, occasional rain and local thunderstorms; higher temperature.

Winter gave a reminder yesterday that, the almost forgotten, it hadn't really gone after all. After the spoils of balmy weather it came as the spoils to find the ground carpeted with white once more, a blizzard of respectable proportions raging, and a chilly temperature varying from thirty to thirty-six degrees. Many an overcoat which had been packed away in the campfire drawer was resurrected, and cutters were again in the mode.

In Toronto two inches of snow fell, comparing very favorably with some other places where a record was made of six inches to a foot. There was a strong easterly gale, which made lake navigation difficult, but, however, the Monassee came down from Hamilton in the morning.

While such weather is not usual for this time of the year, the experience was not unique by a long way. Last year on April 20 three inches of snow fell.

It was stated at the observatory last night that the storm area extended over Western Ontario, and as far east as Kingston, while the storm centre hovered over Illinois. A continuation of bad weather is promised to-day, with probable rain and a little higher temperature.

Capitain "Joe" Goodwin, who is an authority on local navigation, declared last night that he had never before known such a storm as was raging around the islands. Along the eastern breakwater the spray was being hurled as high as a telegraph pole. As some of the piling was being loosened, he was afraid portions of the breakwater might give way during the night.

Why the Cars Stopped. W. B. Boyd, chief railway electrician, says the cause of the shutting off of power about 5 p.m. yesterday was due to a tree blown across the lines sent on its way from Burlington. It happened that two lines were in circuit at the time, and so both were put out of commission. The right-of-way between the trees, showing the gale must have been blowing with a good deal of force.

The cars were stopped altogether for about eight minutes, and Niagara power generally suspended, but no material damage was done to the transmission lines. Men were sent out last night to clear the line. Had it not been for this unforeseen accident the storm would have been such as no other line in America had.

Where It Came From. The storm, prevalent in the Americans, developed in the southwestern states. In the early hours of yesterday morning it centred over Kansas, but moved on into Ontario.

A despatch from Chicago last night said: "A squall with the wind blowing 45 miles an hour, and rain descending in torrents, was sent on its way at 10 o'clock to-night. Wires went down in every direction and communication with other cities was completely severed. Persons experiencing the worst storm in history," was the last message sent from that city, just before communication was cut.

Rain prevailed throughout the middle west yesterday, causing much damage. In Kansas and Iowa, the windstorms approached the violence of tornadoes. In western Ontario the storm seemed to have been struck by lightning in Chicago.

There was a light snowfall in New York, it being the latest recorded since 1891. A Niagara Falls wire says: "A severe snowstorm visited this city to-day, about three inches of snow falling. The storm was accompanied by a severe east wind and thunder. The storm will check seeding and may harm fruit, which is forward in many sections."

A Windsor despatch last night said: "A severe sleetstorm prevailed in this district last night on a two-day storm. A severe sleetstorm prevailed in this district last night on a two-day storm. A severe sleetstorm prevailed in this district last night on a two-day storm."

Eastern Ontario seems to have escaped the snow visitation, but exceptionally cold weather for the time is reported at Ottawa, Brockville, Belleville, Lindsay and elsewhere.

In western Ontario the storm seemed especially violent, as usual, and London being completely tied up in the morning.

MR. MARTIN (who is a little "shy" in Bible knowledge): I wonder what the blank pit's for?

CHICAGO TINNED MEAT EUROPEAN WAR FACTOR

Germany Said to Be Preparing to Make Contracts That May Interfere With British Requirements.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Herald's London cable says: "An important item of news which illustrates German enterprise as contrasted with the short-sighted policy of the British Government has just come to my knowledge."

Simultaneously with the publication in the Globe of London of a cabled report from its Chicago correspondent, to the effect that some German officers have arrived there in order to inspect and report on the packing of army foods in the stock yards in anticipation of the proposed new tariff arrangement between Germany and the United States, it learned that four German officers, two naval and two military, representing the supplies department of the German army, left London to-day on their way to Chicago.

These are either four more inspectors, or else, as I suspect, The Globe correspondent has been fighting, killing an plunders of going on all sides, the Wall of Adana kept the Turkish troops in government house day and night under orders. On the sixth day he ordered them to put a stop to the fighting, which could have been done on the first day.

The conditions in the country surrounding Adana as a result of the recent fanatical attacks by Moslems upon the Christian population are terrible. Dead bodies are lying out on the fields. Numberless Armenian farm houses have been burned and dysentery is beginning to make its appearance.

Bodies Thrown in River. MERZINA, Asiatic Turkey, April 29.—The river that empties into the sea here is carrying down a good many bodies of men, women and children. Several corpses are drifting in close to the Italian warship in the harbor. They undoubtedly were thrown into the river in the country above.

The men from the British warship in the harbor are doing splendid service.

SEEDING IN WEST

Should Be Finished Well Within the Usual Time.

MONTREAL, April 29.—(Special.)—In an interview to-day F. W. Thompson, the managing director of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, in referring to seeding conditions in the Canadian North-west, said: "While seeding has been temporarily delayed by the recent cold weather and snow, the quantity of ground prepared last fall was the largest ever over 25,000,000 represents imports from France."

While there was little doubt of the amended treaty between Canada and France being ratified by the chamber of deputies next month, it was thought wise to renew the steamship subsidy for one year only.

STEAMSHIPS TO FRANCE

Subsidies Will Be Extended For a Year Only.

OTTAWA, April 29.—(Special.)—Mr. Brodeur's bill authorizing a contract for direct steamship line between Canada and France was taken up to-night.

MASSACRES PERMITTED BY THE WALL OF ADANA

Kept Troops at Government House Five Days While Slaughter Went On.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Ambassador Leshman to-day cabled to the state department saying that order had been restored in Constantinople, that troops are being hurried where there are disturbances and that it is believed the trouble in the Odana and Alexandretta districts soon will disappear. He also reported on the methods of the establishment of the constitutional government.

ADANA, April 29.—The emergency hospital established here contains 300 patients suffering from wounds. Many of them are women. The average number of wounds to each patient is four. Practically the entire Armenian population of Adana, 15,000 persons, is homeless. Many Armenian girls were carried off by the Turks as booty. A large number of mutilated bodies have been found in houses in the city.

During the first five days of the disorders, with fighting, killing and plunders of going on all sides, the Wall of Adana kept the Turkish troops in government house day and night under orders. On the sixth day he ordered them to put a stop to the fighting, which could have been done on the first day.

29TH YEAR

NEW WARRANT IS NECESSARY

Coroner Has No Power Outside His County—Crown Will Resort to Old English Law.

Coroner Anderson's bench warrant demanding the presence of Florence Kinrade at the Hamilton inquest is worthless outside the boundaries of the County of Wentworth.

So say the divisional court, in a preliminary decision on the points argued on Wednesday by G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C.

The inquest is scheduled to return on Monday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, with Miss Kinrade as the first witness.

For the crown have unearthed a new process of law which may be invoked to get around the other discomfiting obstacle. It is by resort—for the first time probably in the history of Ontario courts—to the issuance of a crown office subpoena for Miss Kinrade, an English court procedure.

Only the attorney-general in person can apply to the judges at Osgoode Hall for this document. He represents the presence and testimony of the witness to be absolutely necessary in the interests of justice. Refusal to obey such a summons is stated to be a "very serious proceeding." The judgment lies with the judges issuing the subpoena. The procedure is possible under the general clause which makes English criminal law as it was in 1930 the law in Canada in all points not excepted or otherwise provided for by Canadian law.

Of course, Mr. Lynch-Staunton will endeavor to dig up more technicalities and it is not unlikely will seek relief in writ of habeas corpus. But if so, the crown can be trusted to find some way out of that difficulty.

So that Miss Kinrade's presence in Hamilton on Monday seems assured. But whether it will result in voluminous and tedious reports in the newspapers is not so certain. Should counsel for the defence request that the examination be held in private, the coroner, with whom decision rests, may not see fit to accede.

Meantime, Mr. Lynch-Staunton can console himself with a victory won in Osgoode Hall, for while the coroner yesterday rules out the certiorari proceedings as a wrong course to pursue, yet the main desire—the security of his client—is upheld.

The official record of the judgment reads: "The Anderson and Kinrade-G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., T. C. Robinson, K.C., and T. Hobson (Hamilton), for applicant, J. B. Cartwright, K.C., and J. B. Mackenzie for the crown."

This application was argued upon its merits, the judgment states, and a test in a preliminary objection. The coroner has considered the matter in both aspects and will briefly give our conclusions. First: We think that the present mode of proceeding is not the proper method of seeking redress. The coroner in issuing the warrant to apprehend based upon default in obeying the summons to appear, and his duty was acting not in a judicial but a ministerial capacity. His duty is to serve such witnesses as the magistrates called by the crown or its representative, and to follow up that summons in the event of default by enforcing their attendance. Thereafter, and according to the mandate of another, as provided by the statute R. S. Ont., cap. 97, sec. 5.

The little authority there is as to the examination of magistrates warrants upon certiorari justifies this distinction and this conclusion. For certiorari is a writ of a judicial character such as a search warrant or a warrant to arrest, and the warrant in question is not a judicial character, but a ministerial one. It is a warrant to arrest or apprehend based upon default in obeying the summons to appear, and is not a judicial character. This is pretty distinctly indicated in Jervis on Coroners 2 Ed., pp. 64 and 65, and 6th ed., p. 65, and Encyclopaedia of England, 2 ed., vol. 3, p. 678, where it is said that the writ of habeas corpus has never been decided. But as similar situation has been found in Grantham v. Bishop, 1 C.P. 237, to the effect that the process of a local officer cannot be legally carried into effect outside of his territorial jurisdiction.

Can Be Recalled. We do not think we should interfere on the ground that the witness having been already questioned at great length should not be subjected to further examination. We must assume that the magistrates will not permit the witness to be unduly harassed; that he will not permit the examiner to go over ground already traversed, that he will not permit any line of inquiry tending to lay a foundation for collateral purposes. And from what was said by the deputy attorney-general, we think it is to be assumed that the witness is to be examined on new matter lately disclosed or discovered.

The application is dismissed. No costs.

NEW SERVICE TO AUSTRALIA

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 29.—(Special.)—Frank Waterhouse & Company, of Seattle, have contracted an agreement with the C.P.R. to exchange traffic at Vancouver for the Antipodes with vessels of the Australian Line, operated by the Waterhouse Company. Vessels will begin calling at Vancouver either in June or July.

DETROIT, April 29.—A Free Press special from San Francisco, Monday, reports the sinking of an unknown steamer, about 400 feet long, in Whitefish Bay to-day.

Capt. Boyce of the steamer George W. Peary, reported that the crew of the sinking steamer were seen walking over the ice to another vessel, which had also been caught in the ice.
