POOR DOCUMENT

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1925

Dorothy Dix

The Ten-in-One Wife Whose Husband Thinks Her a Failure - Has a Mother of Sixty the Right to Force Her Daughter to Give Her a Home? - Can a Selfish. Insincere Girl Really Love a Man?

DEAR MISS DIX—My hashand demands that I take care of our ten-room house, most of the care of a large garden, do all the cooking and laundry work and sewing for a family of six, and do the canning and preserving of the fruits and vegetables from

For take it from me, sister, if your husband had leaped all day fight to another as hard as he could go, he would be glad enough vening to get on his slippers and his dressing-gown, and sit down radio and listen to them jazzing afar off. He wouldn't want to ing a foot that had already taken a million steps.

But there are limitations to what any woman can do, and a wife is very foolish when she doesn't recognize this, and refuse to kill herself living up to her husband's expectations. There are not many men who really desire to work their wives to death, so the wise thing is just to have a heart-to-heart talk with your husband and tell him that you are overdone and must cut down on both the work and the play.

DEAR DOROTH YDIX—I am a widow 60 years old and live with my daughter, though I have other children. My daughter and her husband want to break up housekeeping and board, but I don't think that they have a right to do this, because if they did I would have to go to live with my other children, and that would not be home to me.

Don't you think my daughter owes it to me to do the way that I would be most comfortable?

MOTHER.

ANSWER:

If you are poor, and sick, it would be your daughter's duty to provide you with a comfortable place to stay, but inasmuch as you have other children with whom you can live, I do not see that it is incumbers on her to maintain a house just for you because you want to live in a certain

But what is the matter with a woman of 60 who is hale and hearty trying to force people to give her a home, especially when they are unwilling to do so?

Nobody is old at 60 in these days. It is just the prime of life. A woman of 60 is generally stronger in body and mind than she has ever been in her life before, more capable of turning out good work, and she should be ashamed to be a parasite, instead of striking out for herself and making her own independent living.

The world is full of women of 60 who have settled themselves down to be burdens on their children. They are disturbing elements in their children's homes; they are miscrable and fretful and whining themselves, and they would be happy and contented if they would get out and go to work and be independent.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been going with a girl of uncertain disposition, have found her to be insincere, selfish and unappreciative, but she says she loves me. Question: Can a girl of that kind love any man as he wants to be loved? Will she play fair? I am thinking of taking to the woods. What do you say?

COLD FEET.

ANSWER:

Not without reason have you acquired cold feet, in contemplating matrimony with that type of girl. She will surely give any man chilblains who marries her, and you will do well to take to the tall timber while the going is still good.

An insincere woman is never to be trusted, and a man's whole happiness depends upon his being able to have perfect faith in his wife.

A selfish woman never loves any one except herself. She is incapable of it, and the only use she ever has for a husband is as a bill-payer and a dancing partner. She wants some one to take her around to places of amusement and to provide her with the lúxuries she craves, and that is all. She never considers her husband's happiness, his pleasure or his comfort, and she works him to death without a pang of pity.

The girl who is unappreciative makes the kind of a wife who takes all that her husband gives without a word of thanks and berates him because it isn't more.

What a man wants in a wife is loyalty and truth and honor; a love that puts him before herself; an unselfishness that makes her highest happiness serving him, and a tenderness and understanding that never fails.

There are plenty of girls who are ready to give this to a man. Don't marry one who carries nothing on her shelves but egotism, and self-centeredness.

Copyright by Public I edger Company.

Off for the day's work with

Full of vim and pep, easy-to-serve

Just Another Darn Old Customer

THE TIMES-STAR FEATURE PAGE ==

Fashion Fancies

EVEN though a man be so absorbed in business as to think that he has no time for recreation, he is seldom invulnerable to the lure of handsome knitted coat or vest. He'll be sure to find a time vest. He'll be sure to find a time and a place to wear either of them. There is almost as much diversity of the style in men's knitted things as in women's, so that there is considerable choice. There is the turtle neck pull-over; then there is the cricket neck which is also a pull-over; there is the sleeveless sweater with a deep V neck or with neckline that is high fitting, finished with a turn-over collar with decided points, and there is the open front coat with a cardigan or turn-over neck finish, and the vest which is almost as tailpred looking as if it were turned out in the West of London.

Nevy and camel might be sug-

Navy and camel might be suggested for the vest which has four pockets and is finished at the neck and down the front like a cardigan and is fastened with seven bone buttons. It is knit in a sort of block effect with the navy blocks in relief.

in relief.

The turtle neck sweater was created for a strenuous life, so that it must be made of strong yarn, the weight depending upon just how much is expected of the garment. Sometimes it is made of a very heavy, thick, double-weight yarn which defles all decoration as well as the ravages of the most determined blizzard, but most men prefer a lighter weight.

Family Menus

Breakfast Whole Wheat with Cream

Vut Sandwiches

Milk

Baked Lima Beans
alloped Potatoes Carrot Salad
Baked Apple Cranberries
Mixed Pickle Bread Jam
Coffee Pineapple Sponge Pie or Pineapple Cake

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Grape Toast—Heat a can of seeded grapes and thicken slightly with cornstarch. Pour over hot toast. Serve at once. Any kind of canned berries may be used in this way.

Fruit Sponge Pie-One cup sugar, four tablespoons flour, one pint fruit well drained, two eggs, one-half cup milk. Mix sugar and flour together, add yolks of two beaten eggs, add fruit and milk; mix well. Put in unbaked pie crust and bake slowly thirty minutes. Will have a top like sponge cake and nice fruit filling. Pineapple or strawberries may be used. A cup of cranberries chopped and scattered in pan with apples and plenty of sugar and little water makes a nice combination.

White Cake—One cup sugar, three-eighths cup butter, one and one-half

DAILY MOVIE SERVICE

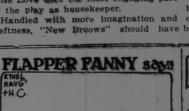

"New Brooms" Film Marred By Poor Treatment

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

With the patronizing airs of assured youth he sets out to "big brother" his employes, predicting that within a year he can revolutionize the medest establishment. He does—but hardly in the manner expected by the son.

Hamilton plays his role with too heavy a manner, and the reversed parallel device is used so obviously that the beholder is all too easily enabled to outrun the screen development. Phyllis Haver does several bits of adroit pantomiming, but her role also is cut too much to familiar pattern to be intriguing. It is Phyllis whom the young hero desired particularly to impress with his business acumen. But Phyllis proving to be unworthy, or having too much sensible intuition to tie up to a constant "smiler," Neil turns to Bessie Love for sympathetic understanding. Miss Love does the most engaging part of the play as housekeeper.

Handled with more imagination and deftness, "New Broows" should have hack job.

WHEN husband and wife start reading the same novel it turns out to be a scrap book.

teaspoons baking pawder, one and onc-Olives half cups flour, whites two eggs, onehalf cup milk, one-half teaspoon van-

Pineappie Filling—Cream one-eighth cup milk, one and one-half cups sugar, add one teaspoon lemon juice and one tablespoon small pieces of pineapple; add one teaspoon melted butter; spread between cake with pineapple pieces pressed into icing. A few tablespoons pineapple is enough.

With Fried Ham fry until crisp. Fry the sliced liver in the ham fat. Serve on toast—a slice of ham and a slice of liver. Cover with thickened gravy well seasoned with SAUCE

Calves Liver

"I have no whiskers on my face," aughed the Clowh. "But that's the ight answer."

Your Birthday

November 19—You are cheerful, contepted, truthful, and affectionate. You have many friends, and love is nearly your life.

Try to be thoughtful for the dearly ones who love you, and place love first in your life.

Your birthstone is the tones which the tones whole and the tones who love you, and place love first in your life.

Your birthstone is the tones which the

Your birth-stone is the topaz, which means fidelity.

Lour flower is the chrysanthemum.
Your lucky color is grey.

Modesty.

An architectural work is like a piece of music played over and over again as long as you live; or like myself making speeches forever. — G. K. Chesterton.

Sorry."

"It is all right," said Mister Dodger, "but please don't let it happen again. Nancy, will you please make up the next question?"

"Certainly," said Nancy obligingly. "What has a ceiling and a floor but not an inch of space in it?"

"That sounds like a riddle," said Mister Dodger. "Can't you tell us a little more about it?"

"Well," said Nancy. "It sometimes

It cannot be found in cook books

Her own famous recipe comes ready-mixed. The only way to get pancakes with that wonderful old-time plantation flavor—just like those she made herself.

MACLAREN-WRIGHT LTD., TORONTO Agents, Aunt Jemima Mills Company

THE LAST FRONTIER

Science Only Substitutes A New Kind of Poetry

brought against science is that it is robbing the world of poetry and killing the imagination of the world. This is an indictment which makes the scientists smile. For it shows chiefly that the person bringing it is greatly ignorant of the march of science.

But the man who takes the trouble to look into what the scientist has found out about the sun will discover that he has at his command material a thousand times more poetic and dramatic than any picture that the ancient Greeks conjured up.

In fact, the astronomer is so accustomed to digging up facts that stagger the human imagination that the use of that phrase itself has become a bromide in the literature of astronomy.

It is possible to see how much the scientist has done to stimulate imagination and to bring a new poetry into the world by comparing the ancient idea of the universe with the modern one,

has raisins in it, or apples, or cherrie

"Good!" said Mister Dodger. "It's your turn now, Mister Herner.
"Oh, dear!" said Jack Horner. "I like to eat better than I like to think. I really can't make up a guessing—whatever you call it."

But suddenly Puss-in-Boots reached

A Thought

WITHOUT faith a man can do no thing; but faith can stifle a science.—Amiel.

"Murder is murder in British Colum right to kill him. Which may help to count for the fact that the murder rate for all citizens over that way is comparatively low."

More and Less

It costs money to cook the water out of tomato ketchup. Costs money to use real granulated sugar and to obtain the very finest of spices. But it costs you less to buy that kind of ketchup—Heinz -which is thick with boiled-down, genuine tomato quality. For utmost value, therefore, buy

HEINZ TOMATO

Thick with boiled-down goodness

