"ON THE OLD WOMAN'S SIDE, OF COURSE."

How Mary Ann Brookins Surprised Constable French.

The Case of Assault Against Mrs. Christina Chisolm Was Dismissed Today

The duties of a city constable and the manner in which these duties are performed came out in police court case this morning, when Constable French preferred a charge of assault against Mrs. Christina Chisolm, Sherwood Skinner appeared for the defence. The constable testified that he had two papers to serve in the house, one on Mrs. Chisolm and the other on the son for amounts owing D. J. Purdy. He went upstairs, and after serving a summons on the son he was about to serve one on the mother, who burst forth in words that were not fit to repeat in court. She was a strong woman (who by the way is over 80) and caught him by the shoulders and arms and pushed him out of the house. It was while the woman had hold of him that he managed to lay the summons on her arm. She threw it to the floor and put him rather forcibly out of the house. Mr. Skinner asked the constable how he entered the house, and the constable replied, "Well, I didn't crawl in."

In addressing the court Mr. Skinner said he did not think that any constable had a right to enter a house without ringing a bell or knocking at the door, and then coming through the premises in the manner in which Constable French did. In fact, when the constable entered without asking permission he was in the wrong, and not the woman, Mr. Skinner asked that the case be dismissed.

Constable French at this stage of the proceedings said that if such was the case, he would call a witness who could throw some light on the case, and accordingly conducted Mary Ann Brookins to the stand. When asked to tell what she knew of the affair, Mary Ann said: "I don't think it right that the old woman should be brought to court." "What side are you on?" asked the magistrate.

"On the old woman's side of course," said Mary.

The constable's witness was decidedly against him, and she was told that she could return to her household duties. The magistrate, in summing up the evidence, said that he did not think any constable, even the highest sheriff, could on such an occasion, should enter a house without ringing the bell or knocking at the door, and then coming through the premises and enter the bed room or other rooms occupied by the lady of the house, for the lady might be making her toilet and not in a position to receive callers, even an official who wished to serve a summons. Officers are supposed to do their duty and not to exceed it. On the other hand Mrs. Chisolm had no right to lay hands on the constable, and in some sense of the word she had committed an assault. The case however was dismissed and the parties concerned informed that they could go home.

MANY PROSECUTIONS AGAINST APPLE PACKERS

Inspector Sangster Tells Moncton People of His Work in St. John

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 10.—Fruit greatly overgraded, and many violations of packing laws, are reported by fruit inspector George Sangster, who returned home last night from a week's stay in St. John, where he inspected several large cargoes of apples, the output of Nova Scotia orchards. Apples now coming in from Nova Scotia, he says, are of a better quality than earlier in the season, but still not as good as in many years. Many barrels are not marked by the shippers' names, and the fruit within is not of quality in keeping without the outside labels. He says there are likely to be quite a number of prosecutions before the season is over.

SERIOUS FREIGHT WRECK ON THE C. P. R. IN THE WEST

Ten Cars Destroyed and Four Others Derailed—A Broken Wheel the Cause.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 10.—Just east of Meadow, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a bar freight train wreck has occurred. Ten cars were totally put out of business, and four others were thrown off the track. The rails were torn up, and for a considerable distance the ties were cut and moved. The wreck appeared to have been caused by broken wheel on the third car from the engine. This car fell across the track and ten cars or so following piled up on top of it, leaving a big mass of debris and wreckage. Strange to say, several cars of cattle kept the track and were apparently none the worse.

CHARGES LEATHAM WITH THREATENING TO SHOOT Mrs. London, on Behalf of Her Son, Wants to Take Action—The Dog Case Settled.

The cruelty case against the young men Leatham and McMaisters for shooting a dog, was resumed in the police court this morning. The penalty is $100 or three months jail, and a compensation may be made with the owner of the injured animal. Under the evidence the magistrates thought that London was not guilty and discharged him, but the evidence pointed that McMaisters was guilty. Several persons had spoken regarding McMaisters' previous good conduct, and as his father had promised to make compensation to Mr. Leatham for the loss of the dog, the sentence was suspended.

STOLE BRONZE TABLE OFF SLOCUM MONUMENT

Despicable Outrage at Brooklyn by Which the Memorial to the Victims of the General Slocum Disaster Was Damaged.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Probably the meanest and most despicable theft that has taken place about New York occurred last night when the bronze tablet on the monument erected in Lutheran cemetery, in the memory of the victims of the burning of the steamer General Slocum, was stolen. The cost of the tablet was about $10. The theft was discovered this morning and reported to Charles Dersch, president of the organization of General Slocum survivors, who erected the monument. The tablet being defaced in the operation. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to remove the tablet from the back of the monument. The police of Middle Village, where the cemetery is located, have information that the theft was committed by men who drove to the cemetery in a buggy from the direction of Glendale.

The stolen tablet was three feet square and bears a representation of the burning of the General Slocum and the story of the disaster.

REVOLUTIONISTS STEAL A GUN AND AMMUNITION

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.—The most recent exploit of the St. Petersburg revolutionists is the theft of a machine gun of the latest model, and a large supply of cartridges. It is presumed that an expert gunner is involved, because all the necessary accessories were simultaneously abstracted from the armory. The prefect of police has issued an order specially emphasizing the necessity of recapturing the gun.

SHOT HIS WIFE WHO REFUSED TO LIVE AT HOME

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 10.—Jacob Stehmann, a boiler maker employed at the Pennsylvania Steel Works at Steelton, near here, shot and killed his wife in a crowded Broad street market today. Stehmann and his wife have been living apart for some time, she being employed as housekeeper for a York County trucker, who attended market. Stehmann went to the market today, and after failing to persuade his wife to return to his home he shot her four times. She was 48 years old and was the mother of four children.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Sporting goods valued at $25,000 were damaged or destroyed by fire in the store of A. G. Spaulding & Company, No. 524 Nassau street last night.

A party composed of J. C. Doherty, Elias Doherty, Chas. Everett and J. E. Day left this morning for a week's shooting trip to Wood Lake. A. Leith Slipp, of Cambridge, and Percy Elliott, of Gagetown, returned today from a month's visit to their uncle, the Hon. C. H. V. Belyea, at Regina, Alberta.

Hon. L. J. Tweedle came in on the Montreal express today.

Chas. McDonald Thinks There is Too Much Talk Over New Industries and Not Enough Active Effort—Dr. Roberts an Enthusiast on the 75,000 Club Scheme.

CHAS. McDONALD, Charles McDonald, manager of the St. John Iron Works, puts his idea in an original manner. "There is not a city in North America," said he, "in which there has been more talk of industrial progress than in St. John, and if talk was a marketable commodity we would stand high commercially. Unfortunately for us it is not, but still we continue to produce it. Business men, as a rule, find enough to do in looking after their own affairs, and seldom feel like interfering, but if they who attempt to conduct the affairs of the city could do so with less incompetence and could place the city in its proper position, there would be no need for this agitation about new industries—they would come of their own accord. What is the use of a lot of so-called progressive citizens spending hours at the board of trade rooms in conversation over new industries and talk of exemptions from taxation, when the taxes we are now collecting are being squandered through incompetence? Let us clean our own doors, prove that we can conduct civic business, and the industries will come."

DR. ROBERTS

Mr. Goodwin is also in favor of the new club, and is of the opinion that any industry could be located in St. John if properly managed. He sees no reason why the club should not become a success, and even if the actual organization never takes place much good will have been accomplished in this agitation which will arouse some degree of enthusiasm among the people and lead them to think more about their own city.

DR. W. F. ROBERTS

D. W. F. Roberts is an enthusiast over the idea. "Unless we turn up the stone," he said, "we will never know where it is under. Nothing can be accomplished without effort and we need never hope for increased activity in St. John unless we do something ourselves to bring about the desired condition. For years I have been an advocate of the institution of a well-directed campaign for new manufacturing industries, but had almost given up hope when I saw that there was some prospect of such a scheme being introduced. I have learned a little of the workings of a 100,000 club in Vancouver and have been impressed with the success met with there. I will gladly do all in my power to help bring such an organization as is proposed for St. John."

W. C. CROSS

W. C. Cross thinks that if such a club was formed new enthusiasm would be put into the people, and the city would benefit greatly. Mr. Cross would suggest that a public meeting be held in the near future when the matter can be thoroughly discussed.

FRANK P. STARR

Frank P. Starr said that he had not interested himself to any extent in the matter, but thinks the scheme a good one.

E. R. CHAPMAN

E. R. Chapman said: "I am certainly in favor of the movement, in the western cities, to people have great confidence and in this way are the cities booming. The St. John people haven't enough faith in their city." Mr. Chapman has no doubt but that the proposed club would bring new industries and would also tend to increase the city's population.

HAZEN DICK

Hazen Dick is in favor of the club being organized. He thinks that new industries should be brought here, and when outsiders become aware that there are good chances for employment here, a good number will soon be residents of St. John. "We need new industries and more people," said Mr. Dick.

THOMAS B. BLAIR

Thomas B. Blair is in favor of the movement, and sees no reason why success should not follow the formation of the club.

GEORGE DICK

George Dick said that he was in favor of the proposed club, and thought that the city would benefit by the proposed formation.

F. E. WILLIAMS

F. E. Williams thinks that the idea is a good one and should be successful.

F. A. DYKEMAN

F. A. Dykeman expressed himself as being heartily in favor of anything which had the interests of the city for its object. He thinks such an association as that proposed ought to be very successful.

J. G. TAYLOR

J. G. Taylor, of the Bank of Commerce, thinks that the proposed club would be of great benefit to the city, and ought to meet with encouragement from everyone.

Charles McDonald, manager of the St. John Iron Works, puts his idea in an original manner. "There is not a city in North America," said he, "in which there has been more talk of industrial progress than in St. John, and if talk was a marketable commodity we would stand high commercially. Unfortunately for us it is not, but still we continue to produce it. Business men, as a rule, find enough to do in looking after their own affairs, and seldom feel like interfering, but if they who attempt to conduct the affairs of the city could do so with less incompetence and could place the city in its proper position, there would be no need for this agitation about new industries—they would come of their own accord. What is the use of a lot of so-called progressive citizens spending hours at the board of trade rooms in conversation over new industries and talk of exemptions from taxation, when the taxes we are now collecting are being squandered through incompetence? Let us clean our own doors, prove that we can conduct civic business, and the industries will come."

POLICE MUST GATHER IN BOYS WHO ARE OUT LATE

North End Case Heard in Court Today—The Law Was Made Clear.

Fred. Dunstan, Frank Doherty and Louis Walsh, boys all under 15 years of age, were in the police court this morning. Dunstan was charged with throwing a candle pin at a boy named Sabean, who works in George T. Black's bowling alley on Main street. The charge was made by Mr. Black, who informed the court that he did not see the boys fined.

Young Dunstan said that Sabean struck Doherty, and for that he (Dunstan) threw the pin.

The case gave the magistrate an opportunity to strongly quote the law regarding boys being out at night, and also that young boys are not allowed in liquor saloons, concert halls, billiard halls or any place attractive after hours. He also pointed out that he did not think Mr. Black could have a ten-year-old boy like Sabean in his place working. The law was made in the early reign of Victoria and was in a manner a curfew law. No boy or girl should be on the street after seven o'clock during the months of November, December, January and February, and during the other eight months must be home before nine o'clock. He had heard that a woman near Reed's Point had complained to a policeman that boys were disorderly and the officer said it was no use to bring the boys to court. "If the policeman throws his hands down and don't bring the boys to court, 'if the policeman throws his hands down and don't bring the boys to court,' said the magistrate, "I have to assume the responsibility." He took another turn, when Mr. Black was reported under the act to prevent and punish wrongs to children, by allowing the three boys in his bowling alley. Mr. Black pleaded ignorance to such a law. The cases against the boys and Mr. Black were allowed to stand, the magistrate remarking that probably the information given out on the law might prove beneficial.

ANOTHER INCENDIARY FIRE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—A dangerous fire early today that was thought to be of incendiary origin ruined a five-story brick building on Beverly street in the north end and caused a loss estimated at about $100,000. Two firemen were overcome by smoke, but later recovered, and six others had a narrow escape from being carried down by a falling roof. Four alarms called out a large part of the city apparatus. The Boston Wagon Company and Fleet Tire and Rubber Company were among the heaviest losers.

Two drunks were before the magistrate this morning. Felix Holland, an old offender went to jail for two months in default of paying an $8 fine. Peter Larsen, who has spent some time in the hospital and who was only a few days ago discharged from that institution, was fined $4 or ten days for drunkenness.

DR. BARRY WILL DELIVER THE SECOND OF A SERIES OF LECTURES, WHICH ARE BEING HELD IN ST. PETER'S SOCIETY ROOMS, TOMORROW AFTERNOON. THE DOCTOR WILL TALK AS HIS SUBJECT THE "GREAT WHITE FLAG."

A large number of citizens were present to show the last mark of esteem towards one whom they had respected during his life. The body was taken to Trinity church where services were read by Rev. Mr. Stewart. Interment was made in Fenhill. The pall-bearers were J. H. L. Fairweather, J. M. Robinson, Jr., Earnest Smith, Geo. N. Toiberts, H. Evans and A. S. Bowman.

HANLEY IS TIRED OF HIDE AND SEEK

The Missing Quarantine Guard Gave Himself Up.

Has Been Put Back Where He Came From—Says He Did Not Expose Anyone to Contagion

Frank Hanley, who escaped from the house on Garden street which is under quarantine, gave himself up to the Board of Health authorities today. Hanley has been at large for nearly a week and although the police were directed to try and capture him, he kept out of the way until this morning. When questioned Hanley said that he had been living in a camp in the country and wanted it plainly understood that he did not endanger anybody by his wanderings. Secluded life did not suit his tastes evidently, and he thought it better to return and give himself up. His case will be dealt with at a meeting of the Board of Health to be held in the early part of next week. When he gave himself up he was immediately taken back to the quarantined house, where he will be kept for the present.

It is believed that the Indian was intercepted and robbed of the returns and fled to the hills for fear of prosecution.
