

ANOTHER QUARTER MILLION TO FIGHT THE EPIDEMIC

Foot and Mouth Disease Not Yet Wiped Out—Congress Mean About Spending Money.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Secretary Wilson of the United States department of Agriculture has communicated to Congress the fact that unless another appropriation of $250,000 is made to cover the expenses of stamping out foot and mouth disease the work of the bureau of animal industry which has charge of the meat inspection branch of the government, will be seriously hampered before the end of the fiscal year.

Early in the present session the secretary asked Congress to give him $500,000 for this work, but only $100,000 was appropriated. He says that $181,778 already has been expended and there are further liabilities estimated at $63,285, making a total of $247,063 up to this date. All of this money was taken from the appropriation for general expenses of the bureau.

The recent epidemic of foot and mouth disease responsible for these large expenditures was in the states of Pennsylvania, New York, Michigan and Maryland. The disease was brought under control some time ago, but Mr. Wilson has declared that men must be kept in the field to observe symptoms with a view to preventing another outbreak.

ESCAPED LUNATIC SHOT RIVAL AND OTHERS

Richard Donagan Killed Joe Somerfield for the Sake of a Grass Widow, Wounded the Woman and Her Son.

FORT NORRIS, N. J., Feb. 12.—Inflamed, it is said, by jealousy, Richard Donagan today shot and killed Joseph Somerfield and seriously wounded Mrs. Shadeg Kinkie, with whom he was enamored. The 15 year old son of the woman was also shot but not seriously injured. Donagan fled but was later captured in Bridgeton.

The shooting occurred at the home of the woman in an oyster settlement near here. Donagan, approaching the house shortly after midnight, saw Somerfield sitting at a window. Donagan drew a revolver, it is alleged, and sent a bullet through the window pane, striking Somerfield in the head and causing instant death. Donagan then entered the dwelling and shot the woman, the bullet piercing her jaw. Two small daughters of Mrs. Kinkie seized the man and tried to prevent him from doing any further harm. In the excitement, however, the son of Mrs. Kinkie was shot in the shoulder. Donagan then fled but was captured after he had travelled nearly twenty miles. Mrs. Kinkie has been separated from her husband and returned to this vicinity a short time ago from Philadelphia, where she had gone to live. The others involved are Philadelphians.

Donagan said to the police that he was not the man who shot the woman, but his first question was whether the police were going to send him back there.

TAG DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

The taggers not only held up everyone on the streets, but also invaded the stores, factories, offices and other places of business.

In some places the proprietors had sent some one around in advance to each employe and had the contributions all ready when they arrived.

In other establishments the manager accompanied the ladies through the building while they tagged each man they could find.

A clerk in a King street store came in late boasting that he had escaped the watchful eye of the collectors. Some of his fellow clerks promptly grabbed him and held him until they signalled a collector from the street, who promptly came and tagged the smart Alec, and accepted his contribution.

A couple of the girls entered a fire station in search of victims, but the firemen saw them coming and for a joke fled, leaving the building deserted.

Chief Kerr was handy and seeing their predicament he pulled the fire alarm and the men who had to return at the official call submitted somewhat sheepishly to being tagged.

Some of the more generous citizens had a coin ready for every collector who approached them. Several lawyers entered into a wager who could get every bytton on their coats tagged the soonest.

One lad started out to make a collection of tags and took a pocketful of small coins and one of which he placed in each box he came across receiving his tag in return.

The collectors met with a good reception almost everywhere they went. Small coins were frequent, but the average contribution seemed to be about a quarter.

A large amount was received in paper currency, and a number of five dollar bills were taken in.

The clerks who were receiving the money at the various branches of the Bank of New Brunswick were kept busy. Before noon some of the ladies had been in three or four times with full bulks to be emptied.

Encouraged by the benevolent appearance of his white side whiskers a well known Prince William street capitalist and was almost everywhere. His halberd and several tags proudly wore the F. K. tags also.

The incoming trains were met and the passengers tagged almost before they had time to descend from the cars.

Lunch was served continuously at the Keith Assembly Rooms and the collectors snatched a few moments from their work to rush up and get more help in being enlisted this afternoon when the residential districts will be covered and by 6 o'clock they will be few indeed who are not wearing the Kindergarten tag.

The total collection will be large but it will not be possible to tell the exact amount before Monday when all the returns will be in.

MAN-EATING TIGERS.

About 4,000 men were eaten by tigers in India between 1900 and 1904. A large proportion of these misadventures perished during periods of famine when the beasts are made bold by hunger and are driven to the plains in search of water. The deaths caused by tigers in India constitute 37 per cent. of the whole number due to wild beasts. All tigers are not man-eaters, but when a tiger has once tasted man's flesh he will not be content until he has had more of it. Where tigers and herds abound, however, man is rarely a victim of the tiger. An old man-eater is usually very clever and tricky and can avoid the most skilled hunters. It is affirmed that a single tiger in southern India has killed 200 men, and that one in the Himalayas has killed more than 300.

"Its Only a Cold, A Trifling Cough."

Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected to cure the cold. Thousands have filled a Consumptive grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving or curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.

It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other powerful remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and soothes inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucus, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations. Don't be lured by cheap imitations. Get the genuine. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

"Mrs. J. Brewster, Grafton, N.S., writes:—'Two winters ago I suffered severely with a very bad cold and asthma. I was so bad I could not get my breath, and very often thought I would choke. My husband became very much frightened, and got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and it gave me almost instant relief. I can recommend it to anyone having the least kind of a cold.'

Rastus Goes Fishing.

Mr. Henry—"Going fishing on washday, Rastus? I thought Melissa needed you to gather wood and make a fire to boil the clothes."

Rastus—"Yes, sah, Marse Henry. But Anty Drudge here, she done shod M'Lissy how to wash de clo's without no fah an' M'Lissy she say hit's as easy as rollin' off a log."

Anty Drudge—"That's right, Mr. Henry. Rastus had better be working than fishing, but Melissa doesn't need him. Fels-Naptha makes the biggest washing easy for one person in less time than the old way."

Do your washing without a fire next time. Save the bother, the discomfort and the cost of fuel.

Wash your clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, in summer or winter.

It's much easier—no hard rubbing is needed.

It saves the clothes because there's no boiling to weaken them and no hard rubbing to wear them out.

It takes less than half the time of the old way.

And this Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes cleaner, sweeter, and fresher than if you boiled and hard-rubbed 'em till Doodsyday.

Don't take a substitute for Fels-Naptha because it will not do the work.

Look for the red and green wrapper and follow the directions printed on the back.

TAKAHIRA SAYS THERE IS NO YELLOW PERIL

Assures Americans of Friendship of Japan—Immigration of Japs Will Not Increase.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 12.—Baron Kogoro Takahira, Japanese ambassador to the United States, was one of the guests of honor tonight at the Creve Coeur Club banquet in honor of the centennial of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. He said in his speech that Japan never had any idea of displacing the people of the United States much less of waging war against them.

Charles B. Magoon, late provisional governor of Cuba, Curtis Guild, Jr., former governor of Massachusetts, and Professor Clark Freeman, were the other speakers of the evening.

Baron Takahira said that as a diplomat he was much interested in President Lincoln's method of conducting the foreign affairs of the United States. This led the ambassador to quote Secretary Elihu's statement that American diplomacy is based upon "the Monroe doctrine and the golden rule," and to discuss how the golden rule has been observed between the United States and Japan. He praised the services to Japan of Commodore Perry and Townsend Harris, the first American Minister to Japan, and then said:

"It is through such friendly attitude taken by the American representatives, of course supported by the government, that American people are deeply endeared to ours, and we want to reciprocate what has been done for us. We have never had any idea for moment of displacing your people, much less of waging war against you."

"It is for this reason that when discussion was manifested in this country in regard to the Japanese immigration we readily consented to the adjustment of the question under certain conditions by limiting the immigration of laborers to the minimum number; and as a consequence it has been greatly reduced, notably since last July, and it is found that during the latter half of 1908 the number of Japanese immigrants who returned to Japan from continental United States was larger than those who arrived in this country by 2,180, and the number of those who returned to Japan from the Hawaiian Islands, was also in excess of those who arrived there from Japan by 1,600. While it is not certain how long this condition of movement will continue, it is possible that every half year hereafter will witness the decrease of Japanese residents in this country in about the same proportion for several years. It is said in some quarters that our laborers are coming to this country across the Canadian and Mexican borders, but we have already prohibited the emigration of laborers to these countries under certain conditions, and there is no ground whatever for the apprehension of their coming through the frontiers except a few smugglers, if any."

Again, when there was some apprehension of a misunderstanding arising between us in regard to trade-marks, copyrights and other matters of a kind nature on the Asiatic continent, the two governments at once opened negotiations and concluded conventions with the view to protect our mutual interests in this regard. We also signed a treaty for the general arbitration of controversies between the two countries, and, lastly, we exchanged a few months ago a declaration defining the policy of the two governments in China and the Pacific Ocean with a view to discouraging the free and peaceful development of the commerce of the two nations and also to preserve the general peace in that region.

"Thus we have been using every effort, not only to remove all possible cause of misunderstanding and conflict between the two countries, but to bring about a clear and definite understanding between the two countries in order to cement the closest bond of friendship and good neighborhood."

The harbor facilities committee has not yet been able to find a date for a meeting to hear the report of the Ottawa delegation owing to the absence of civic officials and aldermen who are at Fredericton attending the trial of the McArthur and McVey case.

There will be a special meeting of the school board on Monday evening to prepare estimates for the coming year. Hon. W. S. Fielding is returning on the Allan liner Tunisian due here next week.
