"Mel!" Sheppard and Harry Gissing are said to have formed a plan by which they will tour Europe the coming year if they are selected to make the Swedish Olympic trip.

If all the foreign sprinters can really accomplish the wonderful times they are credited with for the short sprint there is no doubt that the 100-metre sprint record will go by the board at the Swedish Olympic games. Germany has a champion named Braun who can step 100 yards in 9.45 seconds. Report has it that Sweden has a phenom who can beat 10 seconds for the distance, and New Zealand has a crack named Ople who is considered a sound 9.45 seconds man. At this rate it will be the nearest lot of fliers that ever came together in a short distance race. If they can live up to form, 10.45 seconds for 100 metres will surely go by the board. Personally I have always considered the 100-metre record and the 60-yard mark of 6.5 seconds the easiest marks to beat, but for some reason or other they still continue to stand on the record books.

John Paul Jones, Cornell's great distance runner, has been booked for a hard stunt next week. He is to run in Buffalo Friday night, March 1, and then jumps to Washington, his home town, to compete the following night in the Georgetown University games.

KILBANE IS THE NEW FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMP.

Vernon Arena, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 22.—A new featherweight champion was proclaimed here today when Johnnie Kilbane, of Cleveland, Ohio, clearly outpointed and outslugged Abe Attell, the hitherto invincible champion.

Kilbane's victory was clear-cut and decisive and came as a surprise, as the fight began the odds were 10 to 4 on Attell and little Kilbane, monied in sight. Johnny had the better of all the rounds with the possible exception of two. He left the ring with one mark over his eye, where Attell butted him with his head. Attell was badly bruised. Nine thousand persons witnessed the fight.

A hot sun greeted the crowd packed in Vernon arena today to witness the Attell-Kilbane fight, featherweight championship battle. Inside the arena scarcely a breath of air was felt. Kilbane was first to enter the ring. He climbed through the ropes at 3.15 and was greeted with wild cheering. He wore green trunks. Attell climbed into the ring at 3.17, and was scarcely noticed by the spectators, despite the fact that he was the 2 to 1 favorite in the betting.

Attell and Kilbane met on one side of the ring and Attell "joshed" the Cleveland lad because of his green trunks. Both men appeared in the best possible condition. Attell's sore eye was nearly healed.

The men were called to the centre of the ring and Attell "joshed" Kilbane. Both men walked slowly to the centre. After sparring they clinched and Kilbane got in a hard right to the jaw on the break. For the next minute both men stood in the centre and no blow was exchanged. Then they clinched and Kilbane got in a left and a right to the jaw. He was quick as lightning. They clinched again and Attell missed a right.

Round 2.—Each man tried to feel out his opponent. Kilbane put a vicious left to the jaw and avoided a fast on his feet. Kilbane was fast on his feet. Kilbane was fast on his feet. Kilbane was fast on his feet.

Round 3.—They clinched and Kilbane complained to the referee that Attell bent his arm. Attell bent his arm. Attell bent his arm. Attell bent his arm.

Round 4.—They came to the center slowly and Kilbane jabbed Attell twice. Attell tried to clinch, but ran into a hard right. The boys clinched and wrestled around the ring. Kilbane was landing three blows to Attell's one. The crowd boomed at Attell for fighting in a clinch. Attell backing away motioned for Kilbane to come to the ring. The Cleveland man responded with a stiff left to the jaw. Round even.

Round 5.—Attell's left eye was swollen and nearly closed, and Kilbane kept pecking at it. Attell continued to clinch and held on. The spectators yelled to him to fight. Kilbane backed off, still hammering at Attell's sore eye. The round, which was even, ended with the lads in a clinch.

Round 6.—Kilbane twice jabbed Attell's bad eye. He then rushed but was stopped by a stiff left to the mouth. Attell's first hard blow. Then they exchanged left arm jabs. Kilbane was quick as lightning. He landed a hard blow to the jaw. The balance of the round was one long clinch with honors even.

Round 7.—Attell forced the fighting. He put a left to the jaw and Kilbane backing away retailed with left and right to the face. Kilbane nearly upset the champion with a straight right to the jaw. Kilbane backed away and Attell followed putting a good left to the wind. In a clinch with one arm free they exchanged hard body blows. At the bell each was smiling. Attell had a shade.

Round 8.—Kilbane chased Attell all over the ring, but did not land. Attell dropped both hands and leaned back to the corner. Kilbane dashed in, put left and right to the head and then left and another right starting the blood flowing again from Attell's mouth. Attell seemed to tire. His face was swollen and his eye nearly closed. In a clinch Attell got Kilbane's chin under his head and sent the boy back. Kilbane suddenly jumped back and staggered the champion with a terrific left to the jaw. Kilbane's round.

Round 9.—After fighting in the center they clinched and Kilbane put a left to the wind. He seemed much faster than the champion in the clinches. After they broke Attell rushed and tried hard to land on the wind but failed. Then, head to head, the lads fought for the wind, the challenger having a shade the better of it. It was Kilbane's round.

Round 10.—Both rushed and Attell got a bad left on the mouth. Kilbane then put a right to the ribs. Abe was wild. In a clinch Kilbane landed four rights in quick succession to the jaw without receiving a return. The champion clinched and was hissed for holding and butting. Then much to the amusement of the crowd Attell complained to Referee Eytton that Kilbane was holding his arm. Kilbane's round by a big margin. With the fight held over the Cleveland lad had a good lead on points and seemed much fresher.

Round 11.—Attell came in with his head down. He led for the ribs and landed his left low, for which he was warned by the referee. Each appeared to slow down. Attell in a rush landing right on the jaw. In a clinch Kilbane sent in several hard blows to the ribs and Attell held on. It was the nearest round of the fight, with honors even.

Round 12.—The Spectators yelled "Kilbane," the fighters rushed into a clinch and the referee had hard work separating them. Kilbane landed a left on the jaw at the break. Attell was wild in his leads. "Golly Kid, you are hard to hit," he said to Kil-

Round 13.—Attell in a clinch put a hard right to the jaw. Kilbane then pushed Attell nearly through the ropes. "You knock me rivers out, didn't you?" Attell exclaimed to his opponent. "Well, come on and make it two." Just as Attell said "two," Kilbane landed a vicious left on the jaw which ended Attell's remarks. Kilbane's speed seemed to worry Attell.

Round 14.—Kilbane seemed to force the fighting, he landed a hard left to the nose and the champion winced and then clinched, wrestling the Cleveland man about the ring. An exchange of long range jabs followed and then in a clinch Kilbane brought a roar from the spectators by imitating the "Texas Tommy" around the referee. He then let go left and right to the face. It was Kilbane's round, into apparently tired.

Round 15.—Attell showed a burst of his old time speed by getting out of a bad hole, but an instant later Kilbane put two lefts to the sore eye. As they clinched, a spectator yelled to Attell that his face was greased. "Well it's coming out of me; I'm a Jew," smilingly retorted the champion. As they broke Kilbane rocked Abe's head with a left and then landed his right to the ribs. Kilbane's round.

Round 16.—Kilbane rushed and began a tattoo on the face. Referee Eytton grabbed Attell and motioned Kilbane to his corner. Taking a towel the referee rubbed the grease from Attell's body. Kilbane again rushed and ducked an uppercut and landed left to the jaw. Then with a right he rocked Attell's head. Head to head Kilbane rained blow after blow on Attell's body. As they clinched Attell's head over the eye making him bleed profusely. The spectators jumped to their feet and began hissing both Attell and Referee Eytton. Kilbane's round.

Round 17.—Both rushed and fought furiously. Attell complained of Kilbane's holding, but was himself warned not to use his head again. In a clinch Kilbane got in three blows to the face. Kilbane's round.

Round 18.—Kilbane clearly outboxed the champion. At close quarters Kilbane nearly lifted the champion off his feet with a right to the stomach. Kilbane's round.

The 18th and 19th rounds were all Kilbane's. He landed time and time again on the champion with the latter on the defensive.

Round 20.—Kilbane fairly smothered the champion in this round, at the conclusion of which Referee Eytton promptly awarded the verdict to the Cleveland man. It was a popular decision.

The Kennel

New York, Feb. 22.—American-bred dogs scored a signal triumph at the opening of the 36th annual exhibit of the Westminster Kennel Club in the New Grand Central Palace today, when two of Samuel Untermyer's collies defeated the big foreign-bred representation and an American-bred St. Bernard took first ribbon, from Col. Jacob Ruppert's foreign bred champions.

Greystone Patriot won in the dog class for collies and Greystone Gleam in the bitch class. Greystone Patriot was owned by Mrs. J. B. Burden, which has a long list of victories to his credit. Alta Marvel, owned by Miss Gertrude Davis, of Red Bank, N. J., was the winner in the St. Bernard class.

With 1,929 entries—700 more dogs than were ever nominated in any of the previous 35 shows—this is the biggest show of its kind ever held here.

Among the Pomeranians there are at least a dozen dogs on exhibition that are worth $1,000 each. As to the white West Highland terriers there are 200 listed in the show. When one considers that there are not more than 400 dogs of this species in the world, it shows how well this class is represented.

Lively Fighting

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, Feb. 22.—Fredericton beat Sussex by a score of five to four tonight in a New Brunswick Hockey league game that was a joke contest in many respects.

The first half was a slow and gentle affair, Sussex leading at half time by a score of 3 to 2. The second half provided more than its share of excitement. The Fredericton team showed new life in the second half, and the players mixing up matters more and more as the time went along. Finally Fredericton assumed the lead and the score was then 4 to 3.

The game was being played with two referees, one was Leo Dolan, the captain of the Fredericton High school team, and the other was W. T. McLeod, the manager of the Sussex team. Referee Dolan penalized Eytton for continuous loafing off the ice.

Eytton for taking a wallop at Pugh's head with his stick, and then the game was turned into a joke for the time being. Referee Leo Dolan again made up his mind to keep the teams about even strength and when a Sussex team was penalized he wasted little time in chasing a Fredericton player where a penalty was deserved or not.

As many as five players in the box. The crowd did not take kindly to this procedure and some small boys, and some big ones too, sent such a fusillade of snowballs at the referee that he called on police officers, who were in the rink, to go after the offenders. The snowballing then stopped, but the trouble kept on. As Fredericton scored their last goal on Burden's shot, Pugh rushed in on the Sussex net and he and Wortman, the Moncton goal tender, with the Sussex team came together. Pugh seemed to try to poke Wortman in the ribs with his stick, and Wortman brought his stick down across Pugh's head causing quite a cut. The players clinched, and as they were breaking away Pugh took a crack at Wortman with his stick but Wortman succeeded in warding off the blow. The crowd expected to see both players penalized, but referee McLeod sent Pugh away for ten minutes and Wortman escaped entirely to the disgust of the crowd.

Amateur
Oarsmen
Are Busy

The committee having in hand the matter of inviting the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen to hold its regatta on the Charles River, has not held a meeting so far and for that reason has not forwarded the document.

Certain members of the Boston committee feel that that city would not relish being humiliated and for that reason a canvass of the executive committee of the national body is being made to know just where Boston stands.

If this manner of sounding the rowing men shows that Peoria or any other place has the votes, Boston will not present a formal invitation. Last week it became definitely known that Worcester has dropped out of the contest and will not bid for the national. This narrows it down to the east and west, with the New York delegates having the balance of power firmly clinched. There is one thing to be said in favor of Peoria. It would draw largely from Canada and the northwestern states, while there may be a corresponding falling off in eastern entries.

Although the lines for the new Harvard shell to be contributed by New York parties have not been received by Davy, he is expecting them any day and has already talked the construction over with Henry Russell Hoyt, the donor and Clinton H. Crane, Harvard '94, the designer, both of whom are anxious that the new craft shall be given a fair and full trial before the final selection is made.

Back in the late '80s Harvard had a shell built somewhat on the same lines, but the one constructed from lines furnished by B. Crowninshield a few years ago, which is now in the possession of Groton School, was the most radical departure. This latter craft had a very fine bow and square blunt stern and was cast aside without being given a trial sufficiently severe to fully test its capacity. The crew stroked by Filley quickly turned to the English boat and ever since the foreign built article has been the standard.

Crowninshield, it was argued, made a mistake in drawing the bow section too fine for the slow movement of the Filley crew, with the result that the bow buried at the finish of the stroke a fact largely due to falling down on the part of the stroke, the crew might have been instructed in the execution of this part of the stroke, the craft might have gone well. With this knowledge in mind, the designer will have a fuller bow section to meet any shortcomings in the crew.

An effort is to be made by the Ariel Boat Club of Baltimore, to send an 8 oared crew of the senior grade to the American association regatta to be held at Philadelphia, May 25. The Arundel international club of the same city is ambitious to take a foreign trip this season and wants the fours to understand that it is ready to enter a tryout race at any time with any of the ambitious fours. The crew won both the national and Canadian races in 1910 and won the international last season being beaten in the senior four oared championship event by the Argonauts of Toronto.

Davy is building two boats for the Wellesley girls.

ZBYSKO MAKES GOOD.
Zbyzsko, the mighty Pole, again made good in his bout against, Ordeman. That the American champion was up against the real thing in tackling the European champion all will admit, and it appears that Jack Herman's champ has clear sailing among the favorites with the possible exception of Frank Gotch and Yusuf Mahmoud. If promoter Tuohy could only succeed in getting the Turk and the Pole together there is no knowing what would happen.

MANTELL BEAT PAPKE.
Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 22.—Whatever class the Polio of Illinois may have had to the middleweight championship of the world is now the undisputed property of Frank Mantell, of Pawtucket, R. I. Mantell so well earned a twenty round decision over Papke this afternoon that even Tom Jones, Papke's manager, was discouraged and announced that he would have nothing more to do with the Illinois boy.
