Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of physician's experience, anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympathy, and duty, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease,

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied, and rejoice more, than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, and well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.

MESSRS. DEVINS & BOLTON,

Dear Sirs,—I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my endorsation to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, but now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so.

I am, sirs, yours respectfully,

JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours.

JAMES L. EAGLES, Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL,

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29 1873.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the last two years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly relieves the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

TOLD IN A KISS.

Darling, come here, while the twilight falls,
And the whip-poor-will in the shadow calls.

Come, my darling, and sitting here,
In the sweetest season of all the year

And the sweetest hour of all the day,
Hear what it is I have to say.

Darling, I love you, but words are weak:
My heart kneeling it cannot speak.

When the heart is full of love like mine,
It is told in a language of touch and sign.

A glance from the eye, or a touch of the hand,
And the heart it is told to understand.

But the tenderest thoughts of love like this
Must tell themselves in a long, sweet kiss.

Such tender things as I have to tell!
Listen, darling, and heed me well.

I shall always love you! Such love as mine
Grows stronger and richer like rare, old wine.

It will be an elixir to keep your youth:
True love is a wonderful thing, in truth.

And those who have it, will never know
What it is to be old, though their hair is snow.

Darling, the depths of my heart is stirred
By a thought so tender, I know no word

To tell it to you, so read my eyes;
Do you catch my meaning, darling, wise?

Can I make it clearer by clasp of hand?
Tell me, love, do you understand?

I fear you do not! O, sweet, bend near,
While I tell you my thoughts in the twilight here:

The thought too subtle for word or sign,
That you must find out from the lips of mine.

What thought can be sweeter, love, than this
That I tell to you in a lover's kiss?

An Iowa justice the other day accepted two bushels of the pungent onion as a marriage fee.

A spectre carpenter who saws and hammers and does other things incidental to his trade is making the owners of a house in Richmond, Va., very miserable.

Detroit Free Press: The Millerites have settled on the 20th November as ascension day, but for men who expect to be in heaven on the 21st they hold hay and oats up wonderfully stiff, and want their cash down.

Without any desire to brag, the Detroit Free Press points to a Michigan sunflower nineteen feet high, and respectfully inquires after the health of other sunflowers around the country.

The London Lancet pretends to know how a man feels when his head is cut off.

A French milliner conceived the novel idea of having the ladies wear their hats on their heads.

Why did she turn her back on you young man? Innocent child! She wished to make an exhibition of her new overskirt.

A Frenchman intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle lamb, said: "She is one mutton as is small."

A cynical essayist remarks as one of the oddest points of difference between man and woman, that woman has no first love. The long alphabet of her affections is without any distinct end or beginning. She mounts by insensible gradations from dolls and kittens and her brothers to the zenith of passion, to descend by the insensible gradations from the zenith of passion through pet brothers to tabby cats. There is no such event as a first kiss forms in a boy's life to mark for woman the transition from girlhood to the sudden maturity of passion; she has been kissing and purring and fondling and petting from her cradle, and she will pet and fondle and purr and kiss to her grave.

Strange Phenomenon at Sea.

From the Newcastle, E., Chronicle, of the 13th Nov., we clip the following, one of the most remarkable occurrences ever witnessed at sea, forwarded by the captain of a Sunderland bark to his owner, from St. Helena, under date of the 11th October:

Left Tutocorin on the morning of the 12th of August, with moderate S. W. winds, and on the 13th and 14th noticed a great quantity of blood red matter in the water in long streaks, extending for miles; and at dark on the evening of the 14th began to notice how milky white the sea was becoming and wondered what it could be token. By 8 o'clock the whole sea was a livid white color; and though no movement could be seen in the water, it was quite evident by the motion of the vessel that the sea was considerably agitated. The horizon then began to look dark, and shortly after the sea had more the appearance of a field of snow than anything else; the air also felt hot and stifling. About nine p. m. a strange moaning noise was heard as of wind in the distance. This, combined with the blackness of the heavens, and the peculiar whiteness of the sea produced an extraordinary and horrible effect. The moaning sound increasing, I thought some unusual weather was coming, and so took nearly all the sail off the ship, but midnight passed and brought no change. The vessel was going four miles an hour, and she must have traversed from 20 to 30 miles of this fearful looking sea, and it was only the appearance of daylight that relieved us from the awful sight. During the night the barometer was standing at 300.00 inches, and the thermometer at 83 degrees, the wind being S. W., all night.
