

Questions

3. The purpose of the Canadian Film Development Corporation is to foster and promote the development of a feature film industry in Canada. In the view of the Corporation, this means developing film writers, directors, directors of photography, and producers, all of whom make major creative contributions to feature film production. The corporation does not, however, exclude from consideration, especially during the early stages of the development of the feature film industry in Canada, film productions in which there is an important non-Canadian contribution provided there is the opportunity for Canadians to participate along with non-Canadians.
