ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, TORONTO.

MR EDITOR,—I was glad to learn from a late number of the "Churchman" that Christ Church, Belleville, has been added to the comparatively small number of free churches already existing in the Province. Thinking that it might aid the good cause and encourage any who are disposed to adopt the free system, I send you an abstract of the offertory of St. Stephen's Church, Toronto. It ought to be observed that the Parish is the smallest and poorest in the city, being situate in the northwestern corner, and has for the last three years been decreasing rather than increasing in population and wealth. Yet after a trial of nearly seven years it may be said that the "offertory system" has not failed. The Church was opened on the First Sunday in Advent, 1858.

Total offertory from Advent Sunday,

1858, to Easter, 1859 (5 months).....	$387 75
From Easter, 1859 to Easter, 1860.....	687 20
" " 1860 " 1861.....	788 18
" " 1861 " 1862.....	895 30
" " 1862 " 1863.....	788 63
" " 1863 " 1864.....	863 27
" " 1864 " 1865.....	823 45

In addition to this, large sums have been contributed for the Church Society, and other religious and charitable purposes. And during the past year, nearly $1,000 have been raised for the "Episcopal Endowment Fund," although the parish was originally assessed for the sum of $600 alone.

Yours, &c.,
C.
Canadian Churchman.

EDUCATIONAL.

It is perhaps not generally known that there is lately established in Toronto, a boarding and day school for young ladies, which is intended to serve as a practical remedy for the evil of sending protestant girls to convents or Romish schools. This school, which is under the charge of Mrs. O. Stewart, offers every advantage of a thorough and elegant education, at such low rates as quite to remove the oft-alleged excuse, that many Protestants find it desirable to patronize convents for lack of equally good institutions of our own at prices within their reach.

It might be well that our clergy should keep in mind the existence of these schools and in any case use their influence against the practice which is, alas! too frequent, of exposing young females at that plastic age to the blandishments of the accomplished ladies employed by Rome to conduct these schools.

We intended to have published in this number an admirable article by a correspondent of the Echo, on the school for young ladies proposed to be established by the diocese of Montreal and Quebec, but as our space forbids, we shall revert to the subject in our next.
