Centenary—Tuesday, Jan 18, dep. Revs C Smith, Jacob Purdy, to Mary, daughter of Henry Stewart, S F Huestis and W H Heartz.

Shea and two other men, John McKenzie and John Power, happened to meet in a new uninhabited liouse, owned by Murphy. Shortly after Murphy entered, when he and Shea began knocking off hats, and playing apparently in the most friendly manner. After a few moments both entered another apartment and in a short time returned, when either, or both, announced to Power and McKenzie that they were to fight a duel. Shea then stepped off three and a half places, each having a pistol in his hand. The parties then called upon Power and McKenzie to act as seconds, to which the latter made no reply. Shea gaised his pistol and fired, the bullet taking effect aised his pistol and fired, the bullet taking effect
